2008 MEDIA GUIDE CREDITS

The 2008 volleyball guide was designed and produced by the Oklahoma Athletics Department in Norman, Okla., using Adobe InDesign and Adobe Photoshop.

A total of 700 copies were printed by Transcript Press of Norman at no cost to the taxpayers of the state of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is an equal opportunity institution (August 2008).

GUIDE DESIGN

Cassie Gage, Assistant Director and Craig Moran, Assistant Director

COVERS

Scott Matthews, Graphic Design

CONTRIBUTORS

Kristin Conder, Debbie Copp, Tim Letcher, Jessica Summers, Jennifer Van Tuyl and Matt Wilson

PHOTOGRAPHY

Jerry Laizure, Simon Hurst, Shevaun Williams and Associates, Ty Russell, Mark Kraus, Lisa Hall and the Oklahoma media relations files

Nike is the official sponsor of the University of Oklahoma volleyball program.

COVERING PRACTICE

The Sooners will regularly practice at the Howard McCasland Field House, located directly north of the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. Members of the media are asked to inform the media relations office when they will be attending practice. All those attending practice are asked to stay off the court.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Media credentials for University of Oklahoma home contests at Howard McCasland Field House should be requested one day prior to the event. Space is limited on press row and credentials will be given on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be made to: Cassie Gage (cassie@ou.edu or 405.325.8372).

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Weekly OU and Big 12 media releases are provided to media covering home volleyball matches prior to the start of the contest. The Oklahoma media relations staff uses StatCrew to provide box scores immediately following the completion of each match. After a brief team meeting following the match, all coaches and players will be available for interviews. Media relations staff will also provide a game summary which will be e-mailed to all local media and those outlets that request it.

INTERVIEWS

Media members wishing to interview head coach Santiago Restrepo and players must call Media Relations contact Cassie Gage for availability. Players and coaches are generally available prior to practice.

SOONERSPORTS.COM

For the latest information on OU volleyball, including schedule, results, rosters, stats, game notes, standings, interviews and photos, visit the official web site of University of Oklahoma athletics at www.SoonerSports.com. The University of Oklahoma Athletics Department was proud to go live with a revamped and enhanced SoonerSports.com on July 1, 2007. The new SoonerSports.com is hosted by CBS College Sports.

VIDEO FEEDS

SoonerVision will broadcast the majority of OU's 2008-09 sporting contests live on the O-Zone. The O-Zone is the premium portion of SoonerSports.com and features exclusive access to audio, video and content related to Sooner athletics.

OKLAHOMA LOOKS TO THE FUTURE TO GUIDE THE TEAM IN THE PRESENT

When Santiago Restrepo came to Oklahoma five years ago, he set out to make the Sooners a national power in women's volleyball. Half a decade later, not only is OU on the map but the Sooners have the pieces in place to be successful for a very long time. Three years ago, the squad surprised the conference and nation. Now, everyone knows — Oklahoma is here to stay.

The manner in which the Sooners have risen may have amazed some, but not those who know Restrepo's style first hand. He is intense and aggressive on the floor and expects a great deal out of his players on and off the court. His expectations each year are simple — make it to the NCAA Tournament. As with any team, OU's main goals are to win the Big 12 and a national championship. There is no question; the Sooners are on their way.

With two starters returning from a year ago, the 2008 OU team features one senior, three juniors, five sophomores and seven freshmen. In all, the Sooners' roster has seven newcomers — five true freshmen and two transfers. With more weight being placed on the younger players this season, the time for the future in Norman is found in the present.

"It is always tough going into a season with the unknown," Restrepo said. "That is how we are approaching this year. We have some very good players coming in, but we have returners who are very good and experienced. We only have one senior, but if we mesh right away, we will not miss a beat. All of the returners have worked extremely hard over the summer break. We know what some of them are capable of doing on the court. We had some of them play during the spring, and they did a good job."

In each of the last two seasons, the Sooners were selected in the bottom half of the conference standings during preseason voting. During each of those years, Oklahoma finished in the upper tier of the league — second in 2006 and fourth in 2007. This season, once again, OU was picked near the bottom of the Big 12, finishing eighth in the preseason voting. Only time will tell if the Sooners can break the barrier again, but Restrepo believes his team has a necessary ingredient to be successful.

"We are a team that relies on the team," Restrepo said. "It does not rely on a specific person. My niece gave me a quote that stuck in my mind — 'We are not a team of superstars. We are a superstar team.' We do not want to have a superstar we rely on. We depend on the team. We have to understand that it is not a specific individual carrying the team. It is the team carrying the team."

It will take the contributions from that team if OU is to be successful this year. Playing what is considered one of the toughest schedules in the country, the Sooners will be tested early. OU begins the year at home with the Hilton Nike Invitational and every team participated in the NCAA Tournament a year ago. The following week, Oklahoma travels to Southern California for the Trojan Invitational. After another non-conference road tournament, OU opens Big 12 play at home against Missouri on September 17.

"The non-conference schedule is extremely tough," Restrepo said. "It was done that way because we knew we were going to start at least one freshman — maybe two or more. They have to realize the choice they made (to come to Oklahoma) comes with some pressures. This is a very high intensity level of the game. We wanted to give them the experience of playing in that environment right away. It should prepare us for conference play and the NCAA Tournament. They will have to get their feet wet in a hurry for us to be successful."

Senior Defensive Specialist/Libero Lacy Barnes

OUTSIDE HITTERS

Returning Players: Bridget Laplante
Jackie Fotu
Megan Bess
Jasmine Powell

Newcomers: Caitlin Higgins
Stephanie Puckett
Suzy Boulavsky

Again this year, the outside looks to be one of OU's deepest positions. It is the most obvious strength of the team and returns a very experienced player in junior Bridget Laplante. Sophomore Jackie Fotu also saw playing time last year and, with the introduction of high school standout Caitlin Higgins, the outside hitters are poised to be big-time difference makers. Last season, Laplante tallied 15 double-doubles, averaging 3.08 kills per game and 3.28 digs each time out. Poised to be a go-to player, the Sooners will look to Laplante to lead with good reason. The team carries a 75 percent winning percentage when she is on the floor.

"Bridget is very mature for her age," Restrepo said. "She manages her time well. She is very strong mentally and we rely on her a lot because she comes through in clutch times. She's also been successful the last two seasons. When she has been on the floor, we have a 50-16 record. We are going to rely on her a lot because we know she is capable of carrying the weight."

Higgins was named the west team's Most Valuable Player of the 2008 Texas Girls Coaches Association 5A All-Star game. After earning first team all-state honors as a junior and senior, she comes to OU with several highly regarded awards.

"Caitlin has a very good knowledge of volleyball," Restrepo added. "She is going to contribute and we have other players who could get some playing time in those positions like (transfer) Stephanie Puckett. We could also use Jackie on the outside."

MIDDLE BLOCKERS

Returning Players: Francie Ekwerekwu
Chrissy Disarro
Sarah Machen

Newcomers: Sarah Freudenrich

One of the league's top middle blockers, Ekwerekwu returns to pick up where she left off last season. A preseason All-Big 12 selection this year, Ekwerekwu finished last season as a member of the Big 12 All-Freshman team.

"Francie is coming back from surgery on both knees (she redshirted her true freshman season)," Restrepo said. "Last year, she played hurt. I cannot wait to see what she is capable of at 100 percent."

Just a year ago, on those hurt knees, Ekwerekwu averaged 2.61 kills per game and had a .344 hitting percentage against Big 12 schools. She emerged during the later part of the season, recording double-digit kills in 13 of the last 20 matches.

Sarah Freudenrich comes to OU with a year of experience playing in the Southeastern Conference. A transfer from the University of Arkansas, Freudenrich averaged 1.70 kills and 1.45 blocks for the Razorbacks. She also earned All-Southeastern Conference Freshman team honors.

SETTERS

Newcomers: Brianne Barker
Kylie Cowan

The position that appears to be most untested for the Sooners will be one considered the most important on the floor. The Sooners have just two players at this position, Brianne Barker and Kylie Cowan, both of whom are new to the program. At least one of these two players will have to step up early if OU expects to contend.

Barker comes to OU with many high school accolades, including being named Texas' Gatorade Player of the Year and an American Volleyball Coaches Association All-American. Her high school team won back-to-back state titles and with a resume like Barker's, she knows what it takes to win. Cowan comes to Oklahoma from Odessa, Texas, and has several honors to her credit, as well.

"This is a tough position with everyone being new to our program," Restrepo said. "It is a position I think both Brianne and Kylie can play. Brianne can run the offense the way I want it run. Kylie needs a little work, but that is what we are here for – to work hard to make players better."

DEFENSIVE SPECIALISTS/LIBEROS

Returning Players: Lacy Barnes
Taylor Harbster

Newcomers: Danielle Alva

Despite just two returners, the Sooners are deep at the defensive specialist/libero position. Lacy Barnes, the only senior on this season's squad enters her final season with experience from last year. Barnes possesses an impressive work ethic and Restrepo expects to see it carry over to the court during games. A year ago, she averaged 1.70 digs per game.

After transferring from Southeast Missouri State two years ago, junior Taylor Harbster finally has one Sooner season under her belt. She saw action last season, mainly to serve at key points.

"We are very deep in some positions, and this is one of them," Restrepo said. "Lacy brings experience to the table and has gotten better with her serve, passing and defense. She contributed a lot last year. This year, she will contribute in a different capacity, but I know she can carry the load. We have others like Taylor, Jasmine and Danielle who are all very good defenders. It is going to be good to see a competitive practice."

"WE ARE A TEAM THAT RELIES ON THE TEAM. IT DOESN'T RELY ON A SPECIFIC PERSON. MY NIECE ONCE GAVE ME A QUOTE THAT STUCK IN MY MIND - 'WE ARE NOT A TEAM OF SUPERSTARS. WE ARE A SUPERSTAR TEAM.' WE DON'T WANT TO HAVE A SUPERSTAR WE RELY ON. WE DEPEND ON THE TEAM. WE HAVE TO UNDERSTAND THAT IT'S NOT A SPECIFIC INDIVIDUAL CARRYING THE TEAM. IT'S THE TEAM CARRYING THE TEAM."

OKLAHOMA HEAD COACH SANTIAGO RESTREPO

WHY OKLAHOMA?

"I wanted to play for Oklahoma because of Coach Restrepo's good reputation and strong passion for the game. He knows how to be serious and to have fun at the same time while creating a positive atmosphere."

- Chrissy Disarro

"I chose Oklahoma because it is a great school and has excellent athletic programs. I have always wanted to play in the Big 12 and OU seemed like the perfect fit for me."

- Caitlin Higgins

"Oklahoma felt like the perfect fit for my personality. I love the school spirit, which apparently OU has. It was one of those moments where from the time I stepped foot on the campus, I knew it was for me."

- Suzy Boulavsky

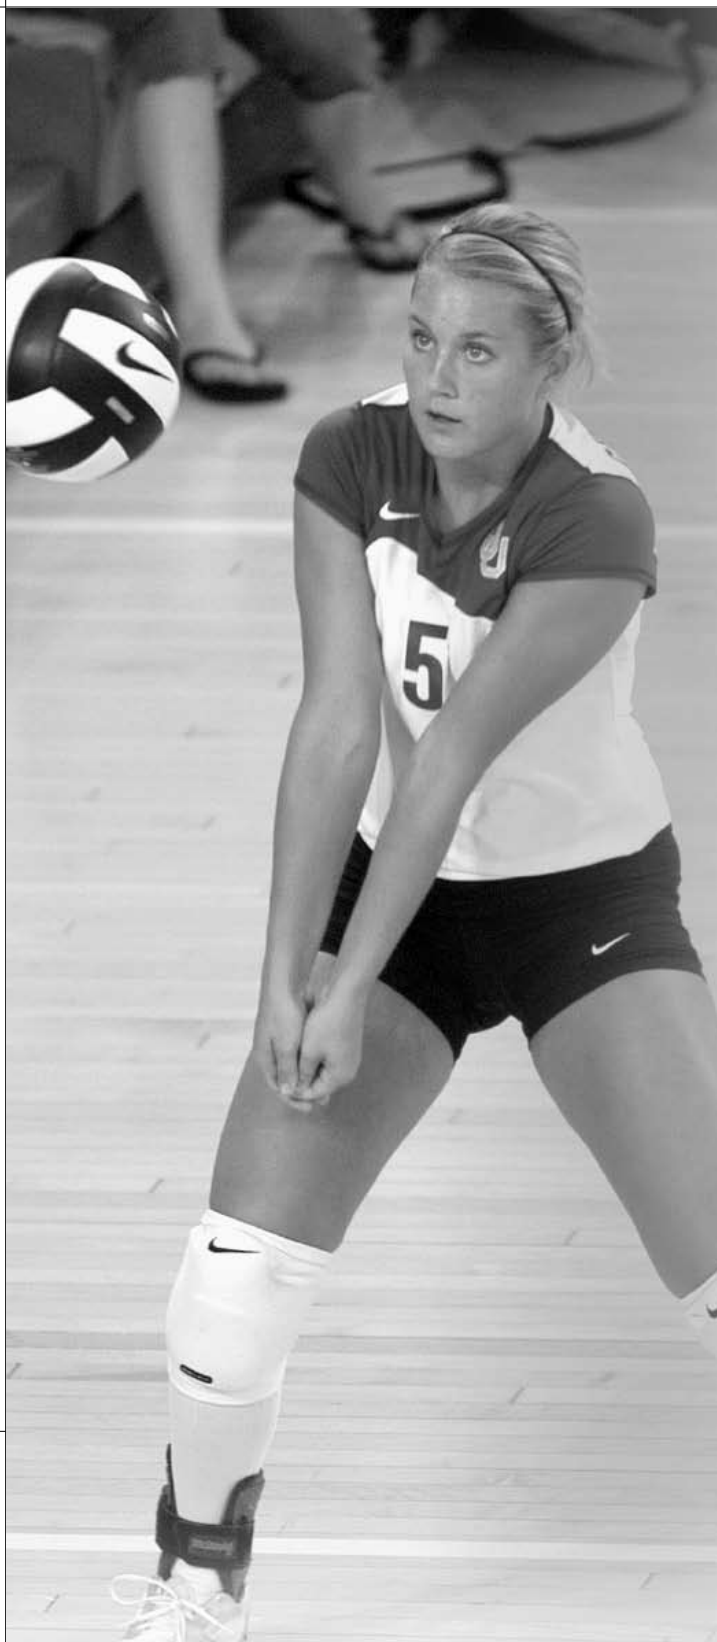

"OU has a great academic and athletic program with a great environment. I came to Oklahoma because I loved the feeling that the people at OU and in Norman gave me."

- Jackie Fotu

SANTIAGO RESTREPO

HEAD COACH | FIFTH SEASON | EAST STROUDSBURG (1986)

Entering his fifth season as the head coach at the University of Oklahoma, Santiago Restrepo has brought the program to new heights in just four seasons at the helm of the program. Pairing his international recruiting with his hard-working, blue collar coaching style, Restrepo has made a name for Oklahoma within the volleyball community.

The program felt Restrepo's impact as soon as he arrived on campus from his previous coaching stop at Southern Mississippi. In his first season at the helm of the Sooner program, he led the 2004 OU squad to a 12-17 record. No Sooner squad had produced a better record since the 1997 squad that reached the NCAA Tournament.

While the 2004 season caught many people's eye, nobody would predict what would happen two years later as Restrepo led the Sooners to the best season in school history. The 2006 season broke plenty of OU records and sparked momentum for the 2007 season.

Restrepo earned Big 12 and Regional Coach of the Year honors and was recognized by CVU.com as its National Coach of the Year as he led the Sooners to the best one-year turnaround in Big 12 history. Behind Restrepo's leadership, the Sooners recorded the best winning percentage in school history with a 28-6 record (.824) and finished a program-best second in the Big 12 Conference race (17-3).

Restrepo's successful 2006 season included OU's first-ever win over Texas in the series history as well as entry into the 2006 NCAA Tournament for only the fourth time in school history and the program's second Sweet 16 trip. Oklahoma finished the season as one of the best in the country with a No. 12 final ranking, its highest in history.

The Oklahoma players also felt the presence of Restrepo, individually, as all five seniors of the 2006 class earned All-Big 12 recognition while Joanna Schmitt and Eliane Santos became the second and third All-Americans in school history.

OU did not disappoint in 2007, either. After being picked ninth in the preseason coaches' poll, the Sooners advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season. It also marked the second time in OU history that the Sooners made back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

Senior outside hitter Sarah Weiland represented OU on the All-Big 12 honorable mention team, while freshman Francie Ekwerekwu was named to the All-Big 12 freshman team. For their efforts in the classroom, five Sooners earned Academic All-Big 12 honors and three were named Academic All-District.

The history-making 2006 and 2007 seasons were remarkable, considering they followed a 2005 season that saw the Sooners finish 7-22.

HEAD COACH

However, Restrepo was getting his tools in place in 2005 for the historic next year as his recruiting skills shined with the addition of juco transfer Santos. In her junior season, Santos made her mark on Big 12 volleyball, finishing in the top five in the conference in blocks and kills and was named one of Collegiate Volleyball Update's top-five blockers in the country.

Restrepo was named the fourth head coach in OU volleyball history on January 26, 2004. During the search process, OU Athletics Director Joe Castiglione and Senior Woman Administrator Stephanie Rempe were set on making a program-changing hire that fit perfectly into the values of the university.

When Rempe, who chaired the hiring process, called around to coaching colleagues of Santiago Restrepo, there was a consistent message: "That he would not be outworked and that he always got the most out of his players."

Thethen-reigning Conference USA Coach of the Year, Restrepo, left Southern Mississippi to fulfill a dream of coaching in the Big 12.

In Restrepo's final season at Southern Miss, he led his 2003 team to a program-best 27-6 record.

That squad reeled off three winning streaks of at least six matches, including one eight-win string, the longest in school history. Three Golden Eagle players garnered All-Conference USA honors during Restrepo's three-year tenure, including two in his final season. He left Southern Miss with a conference record of 52-40 (.565) and an overall mark of 127-72 (.638).

Perhaps the most remarkable part of the Golden Eagles' 27-win season is that it came just two years after a nine-win campaign. His first season with Southern Miss, 2001, was difficult by all accounts. The team went 9-19 and finished 11th in Conference USA. One recruiting class later, his 2002 team improved to 16-15 and finished the conference season in eighth place. The team was sold on Restrepo's coaching plan and tremendous success was around the corner in 2003.

Prior to coaching at Southern Miss, Restrepo served three seasons (1998-2000) as an assistant coach at Saint Louis University under Marilyn Nolen. Restrepo brought a tough training regimen to the Billiken program in 1998, and his dedication and work sparked an immediate improvement.

That year, Saint Louis posted its fourth best single-season winning percentage in school history at 21-7 (.750). In 2000, he helped the Billikens to 23 victories, the most since 1996.

A native of Bogota, Colombia, Restrepo served as the women's head coach at East Stroudsburg (Pa.) University from 1995-97.

He led the Warriors to a 21-11 record and a semifinal finish in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) in his first season in the league. East Stroudsburg posted its best record in school history with a 32-2 mark in 1996. For his team's efforts, Restrepo was named PSAC Coach of the Year. During his tenure, he led ESU to a 75-32 (.735) overall record.

A former NCAA Division I All-American at East Stroudsburg, Restrepo was also a four-time all-conference selection. He earned team Most Valuable Player honors all four years and was the co-winner of the Senior Athlete Award in 1986.

Following his collegiate career, Restrepo played one season professionally in France and returned to the United States where he played on the American Volleyball Players Pro Beach Tour.

He earned a 3A player rating on the AVP tour and had the opportunity to play against some of the giants of professional beach volleyball, including Karch Kiraly, Sinjin Smith, Randy Stoklos and Kent Steffes.

Highly involved in the international circuit and USA Volleyball, Restrepo served as co-head coach of one of two USA Volleyball under-22 select teams that toured Argentina in June 2005 and 2006.

Restrepo and his wife, Heidi Nichols, have two sons, Diego Ignacio, and Javier Santiago.

When Santiago Restrepo accepted the head coaching position at the University of Oklahoma, the first thing he did was ensure that Kelly Files would be joining him in Norman. Files, who played under Restrepo at Southern Miss, was key in the emergence of the Golden Eagles as regional and Conference USA powers.

Files is entering her fifth season at Oklahoma and seventh as an assistant coach. Her responsibilities with the Sooner program include recruiting, conditioning, on-the-floor coaching and administrative work.

“Kelly brings a lot to the table,” said Restrepo. “She is an extremely hard worker, a great young teacher and a great recruiter. She is a great asset to our program because she relates very well to student-athletes.”

In 2003, Files accepted her first full-time coaching position at her alma mater, Southern Miss, where she had previously served as a graduate assistant.

Following an outstanding playing career at Southern Miss, Files finished her career ranked among the top 10 leaders in several statistical categories. She was a four-year starter and letterwinner and led the team in kills, service aces and blocks her final two seasons. During her playing career, she was named to several all-tournament teams.

Files received her bachelor’s degree in exercise science in May 2002 and completed her master’s degree in sports administration in December 2004.

Files was a three-year letterwinner in volleyball for Coach Patty McWilliams at Blue Springs South High School in Blue Springs, Mo. She was named all-state, all-conference and all-district for three straight years.

The three-year All-Kansas City Area performer was named “Player of the Year” in 1997, and was selected to participate in the Kansas City All-Star Volleyball Game.

Files, along with her husband, Brandon, has a 18-year-old stepson, Brandon, and a dog, Kody.

Second-year Sooner assistant coach Sam Ojie (pronounced O-jay) came to Norman after serving in the same capacity for eight years at Tulane, Central Florida and Georgia, his latest coaching stop. In addition to Ojie's coaching duties at Oklahoma, he will work with on and off-campus recruiting as well as scouting and match preparation.

"We couldn't be more excited to have Sam join our staff," head coach Santiago Restrepo said of his hiring a season ago. "His background and professional experience make him one of the best recruiters internationally and one of the best evaluators of talent around. Our entire team is going to benefit from his overall knowledge and experience with the game."

As an assistant on the Georgia staff in 2006, Ojie worked with the outside hitters. Under his direction, outside hitter Maria Taylor finished second among all SEC players with a 4.52 KPG average.

Prior to Georgia, Ojie spent two years with Central Florida (2004-05) which included a stint as interim head coach in 2004 as Golden Knight head coach Meg Colado was on maternity leave for all but two matches of the entire season. As the interim head coach, Ojie led two Central Florida players to All-Atlantic Sun honors.

Ojie began his coaching career with a five-year stint at Tulane from 1999-2003. While an assistant for the Green Wave, Ojie led four hitters to All-Conference USA honors. In addition, the 2002 Green Wave squad collected 226 service aces, the most since 1992 for Tulane. The Green Wave averaged 15.33 kills per game with Ojie on staff and the team's hitting percentage increased 25 points during his time in Louisiana.

Before joining Tulane's staff, Ojie played for Hainaut Volley of Valenciennes, which is a professional club team in France, from 1996-99. Ojie led his Hainaut squad in 1998 to a Division III title, thanks to his offensive and blocking skills. Suiing up for Mizuno Mallory in London from 1994-96, Ojie led his team to an undefeated record for two straight seasons.

Ojie's pro career began as a player for the Ivory Coast Abidjan University Club in 1992, where the local media recognized him as the team's most outstanding player.

Ojie, a native of Nigeria who is fluent in three languages, graduated from the Command Second School in 1985 and then earned his bachelor of arts degree at Tulane University. Ojie also received his associate's degree in applied business while at Tulane.

NICKI GREEN

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS | SECOND SEASON | SOUTHERN MISS (2003)

Nicki Green joined the Oklahoma volleyball program in 2006 after serving as an assistant coach at UNC Charlotte. Green also had a two-year stint as an assistant at her alma mater, Southern Miss.

Green is very familiar with the Oklahoma coaches as she played under head coach Santiago Restrepo at Southern Miss and is the sister of current OU assistant Kelly Files, a former Southern Miss teammate.

Her primary responsibilities include handling OU's team travel arrangements while assisting with on-campus recruiting, alumni contact, booster development, summer camps and administrative duties. She is director of the Oklahoma Elite Volleyball Club.

As an assistant at UNC Charlotte, Green was instrumental in leading the 49ers to their highest win total since 1994 as the squad also advanced to its second straight Atlantic-10 Tournament. Green served as the first assistant and was the recruiting coordinator for the 49ers while also working with outside hitters and liberos. As an assistant at Southern Miss, Green's duties included recruiting, on-court coaching and conditioning, as well as team travel, scouting, fund-raising and video exchange.

In her playing days, she was named to Southern Miss' All-30 Volleyball Team and led the Golden Eagles to the most wins in school history with a 26-7 record in 2003. She topped the team in kills and ranked third in aces that same year. She recorded 1,034 kills and 929 digs in her career and ranks in the school's all-time

Top 15 in kills, aces, digs and attempts. A standout academically, the President and Dean's List student was also a CoSIDA Academic All-Region second team selection.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Green is a 2003 graduate of Southern Miss and completed her master's degree in sports administration/management in 2005.

She and her husband, Jarrod, were married in July 2003. He is a member of the United States Army.

DAVID L. BOREN

13TH UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

David L. Boren, who has served Oklahoma as governor and U.S. senator, became the thirteenth president of the University of Oklahoma in November 1994. He is the first person in state history to have served in all three positions.

Boren is widely respected for his academic credentials, his longtime support of education, and for his distinguished political career as a reformer of the American political system.

A graduate of Yale University in 1963, Boren majored in American history, graduated in the top one percent of his class and was elected Phi Beta Kappa. He was selected as a Rhodes Scholar and earned a master's degree in politics, philosophy and economics from Oxford University, England, in 1965.

In 1968, he received a law degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where he was on the Law Review, elected to the Order of the Coif, and won the Bledsoe Prize as the outstanding graduate by a vote of the faculty.

As Oklahoma's governor from 1974 through 1978, Boren promoted key educational initiatives that have had an enduring impact on Oklahoma. Established during his tenure were the Oklahoma Arts Institute, the Scholar-Leadership Enrichment Program, and the Oklahoma Physicians Manpower Training Program, which provides scholarships for medical students and medical personnel who commit to practice in underserved rural areas. Also, the first state funding for Gifted and Talented classes was provided in 1976 and, from 1976 through 1978, Oklahoma ranked first among all states in the percentage increases of funding for higher education.

One of Boren's most far-reaching projects in promoting quality education at all levels is the Oklahoma Foundation for Excellence, which he founded in 1985. The foundation recognizes outstanding public school students and teachers and helps establish private local foundations to help give academic endowment grants to local public schools. As a senator, he was the author of the National Security Education Act in 1992, which provides scholarships for study abroad and for learning additional languages, as well as legislation to restore the tax deductibility of gifts of appreciated property to universities in 1993.

Boren, also a former state legislator, spent nearly three decades in elective politics before becoming the president of the University of Oklahoma. Boren was the youngest governor in the nation when he served from 1974 to 1978. Known as a reformer, Boren campaigned with a broom as his symbol. During his term, he instituted many progressive programs, including conflict-of-interest rules, campaign-financing disclosure, stronger open meeting laws for public bodies, more competitive bidding on state government contracts, and reform of the state's prison system, including expanded education programs for first-time offenders and the largest expansion of the work-release program in state history.

During his time in the U.S. Senate from 1979 to 1994, Boren served on the Senate Finance and Agriculture Committees and was the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. From his days as a state legislator and governor of Oklahoma to Washington, Boren carried a commitment to reform, leading numerous efforts to make government work better for American citizens. As chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, he strengthened oversight of secret government programs and reformed the procedures for Presidential notice of such programs to Congress.

For more than 10 years, he led the fight for congressional campaign finance reform and for legislation discouraging administration and congressional staff from cashing in on government experience and contacts by becoming lobbyists. In addition, he introduced legislation seeking to limit gifts and travel subsidies that government workers, including members of Congress, can receive from lobbyists. Boren also chaired the special 1992-93 Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress, which produced proposals to make Congress more efficient and responsive by streamlining congressional bureaucracy, reducing staff sizes and reforming procedures to end legislative gridlock.

Boren left the U.S. Senate in 1994 with an approval rating of 91 percent after being reelected with 83 percent of the vote in 1990, the highest percentage in the nation in a U.S. Senate contest in that election year.

Boren served from 1988 to 1997 as a member of the Yale University Board of Trustees. His university experience also includes four years on the faculty of Oklahoma Baptist University, where he was chairman of the Department of Political Science and chairman of the Division of Social Sciences. In 1993, the American Association of University Professors presented Boren with the Henry Yost Award as Education Advocate of the Year.

In April 2004, Boren received the Mory's Cup from the Mory's Association at Yale University. In making the presentation to Boren it was noted that he was the first Yale graduate in the university's history extending over three centuries to have served as a Governor, U.S. Senator and President of a major university.

Under Boren's leadership, the University of Oklahoma has developed and emerged as a "pacesetter university in American public higher education," with 20 major new programs initiated since his inauguration. They include establishment of the Honors College, the Charles M. Russell Center for the Study of Art of the American West, a new expository writing program for freshmen modeled on the program at Harvard, an interdisciplinary religious studies program, the Artist-in-Residence Program, the International Programs Center, and the Faculty-in-Residence Program putting faculty family apartments in student residence halls. The Retired Professors Program has been started, bringing 50 retired full professors back to the University to teach freshmen.

The number of new facilities started or completed on the campus during the Boren years has matched the explosion in new programs. Since 1994, almost $1 billion in construction projects have been completed or are under way on OU's three campuses. Among the largest of the recent projects are the $18.7 million renovation and expansion of historic Holmberg Hall, home of music and dance programs; the $67 million National Weather Center; the $19 million addition to the Michael F. Price College of Business; the $17 million Gaylord Hall for journalism and mass communication; the $27 million Stephenson Research and Technology Center; and the $83.5 million stadium project. The Health Sciences Center has a new Student Union, and the new $24 million Stanton L. Young Biomedical Research Center.

Presidential Travel Scholarships, students from 111 countries on campus, more reciprocal international exchange agreements than any other university and the new International Programs Center are all making OU more international. The new Honors College helps to assure that no students need to leave Oklahoma to find an educational experience to match their potential.

In 1995, Boren launched the "Reach for Excellence" fundraising campaign with a five-year goal of $200 million, which was twice as large as any fundraising drive in Oklahoma history. The drive exceeded $500 million, raising OU into the top 15 public universities in the United States in private endowment per capita. Since 1994, endowed professorships have more than quadrupled and the OU donor base has grown from 18,000 to more than 107,000 friends and alumni. During the first 10 years of Boren's tenure over $1 billion in private gifts were donated to the university.

Above all, the Boren years have been marked by an emphasis on putting students first. There is not a university president in the country that is more committed to students as his number one priority. He teaches a freshman-level course in political science each semester and is one of the few presidents of major universities to teach.

Boren is married to Molly Shi Boren, a former judge and English teacher. Mrs. Boren is President Emeritus of the Oklahoma Arts Institute, which provides education programs in nine arts disciplines for high school students from across the state who are gifted in the arts. Molly Boren has two degrees from the University of Oklahoma, a master's degree in English and a Juris Doctorate from the OU College of Law. A native of Seminole, Boren has two children, Carrie Christine Boren, an Episcopal minister, and David Daniel Boren, a member of the United States Congress from Oklahoma. They are the proud grandparents of Janna Lou Boren. Devoting much of his life to public service, Boren drew from the example of his parents, the late Congressman Lyle H. Boren and Christine Boren.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

JOE CASTIGLIONE

VICE PRESIDENT FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS PROGRAMS AND A.D.

Principle Centered Leader ... Visionary ...
Passionate Advocate for Student-Athletes ...
Establishes Standards of Excellence & Cultural Values ... Builder of Championship Programs

Each of those characteristics, standing alone, describes the 11th director of athletics in University of Oklahoma history. However, just as he has brought together different groups who are committed to one goal, you must combine those traits to get the complete picture of the person who has led the OU athletics department since 1998.

Joe Castiglione has established a pattern of excellence that few in his profession can match. In an environment where every decision is made reflecting the department's mission statement "Inspiring champions today ... Preparing leaders for tomorrow," forming the background, Castiglione is leading the department that has written one of the most successful eras in school history.

Quick to give credit to the student-athletes and coaches, the staff and the university administration, the donors and the fans, Castiglione was the one who implemented the changes that led to success. When he was hired in 1998, the search committee believed they had found a rising star in the field of intercollegiate athletics administration. Everything that has happened since his arrival at OU has cemented that reputation.

The accomplishments of the department and its student-athletes, coaches and staff have earned national recognition for the university and the department. Recognized as the 2007 PRISM Award winner by the School of Sports Management at the University of Massachusetts, OU was just the second Division I winner and all of the programs recognized by the selection panel were started under Castiglione's leadership. The PRISM Award annually recognizes one Division I intercollegiate athletics department that demonstrates industry-leading excellence and innovation in sports management.

His commitment to the success of student-athletes led NCAA President Dr. Myles Brand to appoint him as chair of the Football Academic Progress Rate (APR) Working Group in June of 2008. This group, which includes presidents, chancellors, conference commissioners, faculty athletics representatives, athletics directors and head football coaches, has been given the charge to review the APR as it pertains to Division I football student-athletes. When the study is complete, the group will report back to Dr. Brand and the NCAA Board of Directors with their findings, evaluations and recommendations for improvement.

His peers have honored him for the department's achievements as well. In October 2004, the Bobby Dodd Foundation named him Athletics Director of the Year. In 2003, he was inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators Hall of Fame. In June 2001, he received the General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award for lifetime achievement from the All-American Football Foundation. The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named him Central Region AD of the Year in 2000.

Perhaps his most unique achievement over the last 10 years for Castiglione, though, came when he received his master's of education degree from OU in May 2007. To understand the need for education and lifelong learning, OU's student-athletes just have to look at their AD who started and completed his master's degree while running the department and maintaining his priorities to his family. He quickly put his experience to use as an adjunct professor in the College of Education teaching a graduate class in Marketing & Development.

The 11th director of athletics at the University of Oklahoma has celebrated seven national team championships and over 40 conference team titles; record numbers of graduating student-athletes and record-setting grade point averages for Sooner teams; dramatically increased donor giving; huge increases in ticket sales for all sports; major facility improvements, and development and construction of new facilities. And, as aggressive as the push to improve, expand and excel has been, he has produced a balanced budget in every year of his tenure, a first since the early 1980s.

Other highlights of Castiglione's tenure include:

- An annual finish among the top 25 in the standings for the Director's Cup which measures overall athletics success in eight of the last nine years, including an all-time program best of 15th in 2003-2004. OU ranked 23rd in the 2007-08 standings.
- The Sooner men's gymnastics team won its eighth NCAA title in 2008. It marked the fifth national championship for the program in the last seven years. The Sooners were led by OU's most decorated gymnast in school history and latest Olympian, Jonathan Horton, who will be representing the U.S. in Beijing in August.
- A total of 29 OU teams that have ranked among the top 10 in season-ending polls.
- A school-record and Big 12-best graduation rate of 74% in 2003.
- Three appearances in the BCS National Championship Game and the college football national championship in 2000.
- Appearances by the men's and women's basketball teams in their respective Final Fours in 2002.
- A Division I record of 74 combined victories produced by the football team and both basketball squads in the 2001-02 school year.
- An average of more than 17 out of 20 OU teams per year represented in postseason play. A total of 18 of OU's 20 teams advanced to NCAA competition in 2007-08 and conference titles were produced by football, men's gymnastics and women's gymnastics.

Credited with energizing OU's fund-raising efforts, Castiglione was instrumental in the athletics department's major campaign, Great Expectations: The Campaign For Sooner Sports. The campaign ended in November of 2003 with more than $125 million raised. The figure has grown to almost $200 million since then as the department continues its approach, and largest fund-raising effort in OU athletics history including projects that impact each of OU's nearly 500 student-athletes. It has become a national model for intercollegiate athletics.

Castiglione has cultivated over 20 multi-million dollar gifts, including the largest capital gifts in history for athletics at OU, and some of the largest ever for the university as a whole. He has driven dramatic facilities projects, including a $70 million renovation and expansion of Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. Others include a $17.2 million renovation of Lloyd Noble Center; phase I of The Headington Family Tennis Complex; John Jacobs Track and Field Complex; the Everest Training Facility, one of the largest indoor practice areas in the country; and construction of the Gregg & Betsy Wadley Indoor Tennis Center. Other projects completed in his tenure have included the redesign of the Sooner football practice fields; the Port Robertson Wrestling Facility; phase I & II of the Sooner Soccer Complex; expansion of the Viersen Gymnastics Pavilion as well as additional renovations to the McCasland Field House; L. Dale Mitchell Park, the Charlie Coe Golf Learning Center, the OU Softball Complex and Barry Switzer Center. His administrative work, which has seen significant reorganization and the hiring of 12 head coaches, also included the negotiation of multi-million dollar multi-media rights contract that produces more than $8 million in annual revenue for the athletics department. His leadership was instrumental as well as the Sooners added their 21st athletics team to the OU family, women's rowing (which will begin competition in the fall of 2008) and the design and construction of the new McClendon Boathouse on the Oklahoma River.

Castiglione was hired on April 30, 1998, after serving as athletics director at Missouri. In his 17-year career with the Tigers, Castiglione, who was named director of athletics at Missouri on Dec. 15, 1993, was credited with rebuilding sports programs, hiring outstanding coaches, implementing an innovative master plan for facilities, inspiring record-setting increases in fund-raising and balancing the budget in each of his five years as athletics director.

A 1979 Maryland graduate, Castiglione received the University's Distinguished Alumnus Award in April 2007. He began his career as the sports promotions director at Rice. He then worked a year as director of athletic fund-raising at Georgetown before being hired in 1981 at Missouri as director of communications and marketing.

Active on the national and conference level, he is currently serving on the Gatorade Collegiate Advisory Board and the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame Board of Directors. He served two terms as chair of the Big 12 Board of Athletics Directors and is a past president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and NACDA. He served a four-year term on the NCAA Championship/Competition Cabinet and the NCAA Baseball Committee and is a past member of the NCAA Football Special Events Certification Committee. He recently agreed to serve on the NCAA Diversity Leadership Strategic Planning Committee and the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Discussion Group. In 2007, he was named to the Phi Delta Theta Foundation Board of Trustees. He is a highly requested speaker at annual conventions and continuing education institutes.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Castiglione was born Oct. 8, 1957. He is married to the former Kristen Bartel, a 1990 graduate of the University of Missouri. They are the parents of two sons, Joseph Robert, Jr., born on December 20, 1996, and Jonathan Edmund, born on March 21, 2000.

OU ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT

The mission of the University of Oklahoma Athletics Department is to inspire champions today and prepare leaders for tomorrow by providing an excellent environment to enable student-athletes to achieve their highest academic, athletic and personal aspirations.

Core Values

- Respect
- Accountability for self and others
- Passion for comprehensive excellence
- Commitment to continuous improvement
- Celebration of diversity
- Integrity in all of our affairs

Philosophy

The University of Oklahoma Athletics Department promotes excellence in athletics without compromising excellence in academics or integrity in its commitment to rules or conduct. Student-athletes are encouraged by the coaching and administrative staff to maintain a balance between athletics, academics, and the social aspects of college.

It is believed that athletic participation gives an added dimension to the student's overall college experience and provides an opportunity for social, moral, emotional, and cultural growth and development.

The athletic programs strive to create traits that once acquired will carry over and benefit student-athletes in their personal and professional endeavors. The University of Oklahoma maintains a tradition of excellence in intercollegiate sports.

The Athletics Department continues to uphold this tradition by striving to make each athletic team and individual of championship caliber. Its staff members work to instill in student-athletes an appreciation for hard work, perseverance, and pride in accomplishment. It is believed these attributes will be utilized throughout the student-athlete's life.

SEASON REVIEW

ENCORE 2007

SOONERS ADVANCE TO NCAA TOURNAMENT FOR SECOND CONSECUTIVE SEASON

Despite losing five seniors, including four starters, from the 2006 squad, the Oklahoma volleyball team continued to escalate its program in 2007 under the helm of fourth-year coach Santiago Restrepo.

Restrepo led the Sooners to another strong regular season as they finished with an overall record of 22-10, including a 13-7 mark in the Big 12. Oklahoma returned only two starters from the record-breaking squad and was picked to finish ninth in the preseason Big 12 poll. Still, the Sooners were once again the surprise of the Big 12 as they finished fourth in the league and finished the regular season ranked No. 21 in the country.

In addition, the Sooners were ranked in the top 25 in 22 of the last 27 weeks, and were receiving votes the weeks that OU didn't make the top 25.

Following the fourth-place finish in the Big 12, the Sooners advanced to their second consecutive NCAA Regional, marking only the second time in OU history that an OU volleyball team, has made back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

The 2007 team also became the first squad in OU history to win back-to-back first round matches as Oklahoma defeated Florida A&M in first-round action of the Gainesville, Fla., Regional before dropping a close match to the 13th-seeded Florida Gators in the second round.

The scrappy group that was picked to finish near the bottom of the Big 12 battled all year long as it competed in eight five-game matches and won six of them. The squad also became the 13th in OU history to record a 20-win season.

The Sooners continued to be tough at the McCasland Field House as they upset No. 14 Kansas State in Norman and have recorded an impressive 24-4 record at the field house the last two seasons.

Individually, the Sooners were solid on the court and in the classroom. Senior Sarah Weiland represented Oklahoma on the All-Big 12 squad as she was an honorable mention selection. Redshirt freshman Francie Ekwerekwu also earned All-Freshman team honors for her efforts during the 2007 season. Senior Mariana Blum earned a weekly award as she was honored as the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week during September.

Academically, five Sooners were named to the Academic All-Big 12 squads. Highlighting the first team were senior Hannah Sharp, junior Lacy Barnes, sophomore Bridget Laplante and redshirt freshman Francie Ekwerekwu. Senior Anna Stadel rounded out the group with a second team honor.

Three more Sooners were honored for their efforts in the classroom as Barnes, Laplante and Sharp were named CoSIDA/ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District selections.

SOONERS ADVANCE TO NCAA TOURNAMENT

For the second straight year, head coach Santiago Restrepo led the Sooners to the NCAA Tournament. It marked only the second time in school history that the Sooners made back-to-back appearances in the tournament. OU ended nine-year drought by advancing to the tournament in 2006.

OKLAHOMA IN FIRST ROUND ACTION

Under Restrepo, the Sooners are a perfect 2-0 in first round action of the NCAA Tournament. Oklahoma defeated Florida A&M, 3-1, in first round action of the Gainesville Regional in 2007.

TOURNAMENT HISTORY

The Sooners made only their fifth appearance in the NCAA Tournament in school history. However, the Sooners still own a winning record of 6-5 (.545) in its five years of experience that include the 2007, 2006, 1997, 1988 and 1987 seasons.

SURPRISE OF THE BIG 12, AGAIN

The 2007 squad had a similar season to the 2006 record-breaking squad that advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16. The Sooners, who were picked to finish ninth in the Big 12 preseason poll, finished the season with a 22-10 overall mark and were fourth in the 2007 Big 12 final standings. The 2006 squad, which was picked to finish 10th in the conference race, recorded the best record in school history (28-6) and finished second in the Big 12 standings.

RESTREPO IN THE NCAA

In his seventh year as a head coach at the Division I level and fourth with Oklahoma, head coach Santiago Restrepo made his second straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Restrepo made his tournament debut in 2006 as he led the Sooners to a record-breaking year and only their second Sweet 16 appearance in school history.

SOONERS AGAINST RANKED OPPONENTS

Oklahoma posted a 3-6 record against ranked opponents with two five-game road wins over then-No. 25 Texas A&M and No. 16 Kansas State and a win over No. 14 Kansas State in Norman. OU dropped a non-conference match to No. 18 San Diego and was swept by No. 1 Nebraska, No. 2 Nebraska (in Lincoln), No. 6 Texas (in Norman) and No. 3 Texas (in Austin). Oklahoma ended its season with a loss to No. 11 Florida in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

BEST START IN SCHOOL HISTORY

The Sooners tied the 1984 squad with the best start in school history. The 1984 team opened the season at 15-4 and the 2007 squad recorded a 15-4 mark before losing to No. 6 Texas. Additionally, OU's 5-0 start to Big 12 play was the best-ever start in the Big 12 for the Sooners.

STADEL TOPS THE CHARTS

Senior middle blocker Anna Stadel closed her career as the career leader in block assists with 274 in her four-year career. Stadel passed previous leader Eliane Santos (262) in OU's final match of the regular season against Iowa State.

LAPLANTE AND BLUM SEEING DOUBLE

Sophomore Bridget Laplante and senior Mariana Blum saw double this season as Blum owned 18 double-doubles on the season and Laplante tallied 15.

SOONERS ADD ANOTHER 20-WIN SEASON

With its win against Baylor on Nov. 14, OU secured its 13th 20-win season.

FIVE-GAME SUCCESS

The Sooners were very successful in five-game matches in 2007. Oklahoma played eight five-game matches and won six of them. Five of the eight matches were against teams on the road, including two that were in the top 25 at the time. Since the start of the 2006 season, the Sooners are 14-4 in five-game matches. In 2007 alone, OU is 6-2 in five-game matches.

WINNING GAME ONE = PERFECTION

Oklahoma was perfect in 2007 when it won the first game of the match. The Sooners were 14-0 when claiming the first game and only 7-10 when dropping the first frame of the match.

WEILAND, EKWEREKWU PICK UP BIG 12 HONORS

Senior outside hitter Sarah Weiland represented Oklahoma on the 2007 All-Big 12 Honorable Mention team. Weiland averaged 3.01 kills per game on a .253 hitting percentage with 0.64 blocks per game in Big 12 action.

Redshirt freshman Francie Ekwerekwu was named to the Big 12's inaugural All-Freshman team. The middle blocker tallied 2.61 kills per game on a .344 hitting percentage and had 0.95 blocks per game in conference matches.

FIVE SOONERS NAMED TO ACADEMIC ALL-BIG 12 SQUADS

The Sooners had five players named to the Academic All-Big 12 squads. Highlighting the first team were senior Hannah Sharp, junior Lacy Barnes, sophomore Bridget Laplante and redshirt freshman Francie Ekwerekwu. Senior Anna Stadel rounded out the group with a second team honor. Sharp made her second straight appearance on the Academic All-Big 12 team while Laplante Ekwerekwu, Barnes and Stadel all earned their first academic honor.

OU TRIO NAMED ACADEMIC ALL-DISTRICT

The Sooners had three players named to ESPN The Magazine's Academic All-District VI teams. Hannah Sharp and Lacy Barnes represented Oklahoma on the second team while Bridget Laplante was named to the third team. Sharp collected her second straight Academic All-District honor after being named to the third team in 2006. It marks the first career honor for Barnes, a junior, and Laplante, a sophomore. Oklahoma tied Texas with the most honorees by a school in District VI.

16 STRAIGHT POINTS

While there is no record, it seemed that the Oklahoma volleyball team came close to breaking one on Aug. 25 in the tournament championship match against Alabama. The Sooners scored 16 consecutive points against Alabama, possibly one of the longest rallies in OU history. Oklahoma led the second game 19-17 and rattled off 11 straight points to win 30-17 and then opened the third game of the match, 5-0, to score 16 straight points against the Crimson Tide.

HOME SWEET HOME

OU's 15-match home win streak was snapped by No. 1 Nebraska on Oct. 13, 2007. Prior to that, OU's last loss at home was in 2006, also to No. 1 Nebraska. Including the 2006 and 2007 seasons, Oklahoma is 24-4 at the McCasland Field House. The Sooners finished the season with a five-match home win streak.

The 1987 championship was awarded to Nebraska for the regular season and to Oklahoma for the tournament. From 1987 to present, the round-robin winner determines the conference champion. Prior to 1987, the tournament champion was the Big Eight champion.*

NOTE: OU was a member of the Big Eight Conference from 1974-95. Oklahoma is now one of 11 volleyball programs within the Big 12 Conference.

USA NATIONAL TEAM MEMBERS

While OU has been putting itself on the map the last few years, the Sooners have a long tradition of producing national team caliber players. Marcy Crabtree was the first OU player to earn the honor in 1982. Patrice Arrington followed in 1997 and most recently, Laura Tomes was invited to the 2006 national training camp.

As a senior in 2006, Tomes averaged 3.94 points, 1.19 blocks, 2.95 kills, 0.29 aces and 1.19 digs per game while leading the Sooners to their best finish in school history. She finished the season with a .367 attack percentage and completed her Sooner career as the career leader in hitting percentage (.298). She ended her career with 333 blocks and a 0.94 blocks per game average.

Arrington is a former OU all-American and first team All-Big 12 selection. Arrington was named the university's Most Outstanding Female Athlete in 1997. Following her career at OU and with the U.S. national team, Arrington spent several seasons in the United States Professional Volleyball League.

A 1982 selection to the Olympic Sports Festival roster, Crabtree was an All-Big 8 selection in 1982. She now coaches high school volleyball in Texas.

UNIVERSITY

A PACESETTER FOR PUBLIC HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE UNITED STATES

"The University of Oklahoma is truly a great university. It is becoming a pacesetter for public higher education in the United States. We must no longer keep the university's excellence a secret! It's time for us to let others know about the strengths of our university and our determination to make it even better."

- University of Oklahoma President David L. Boren

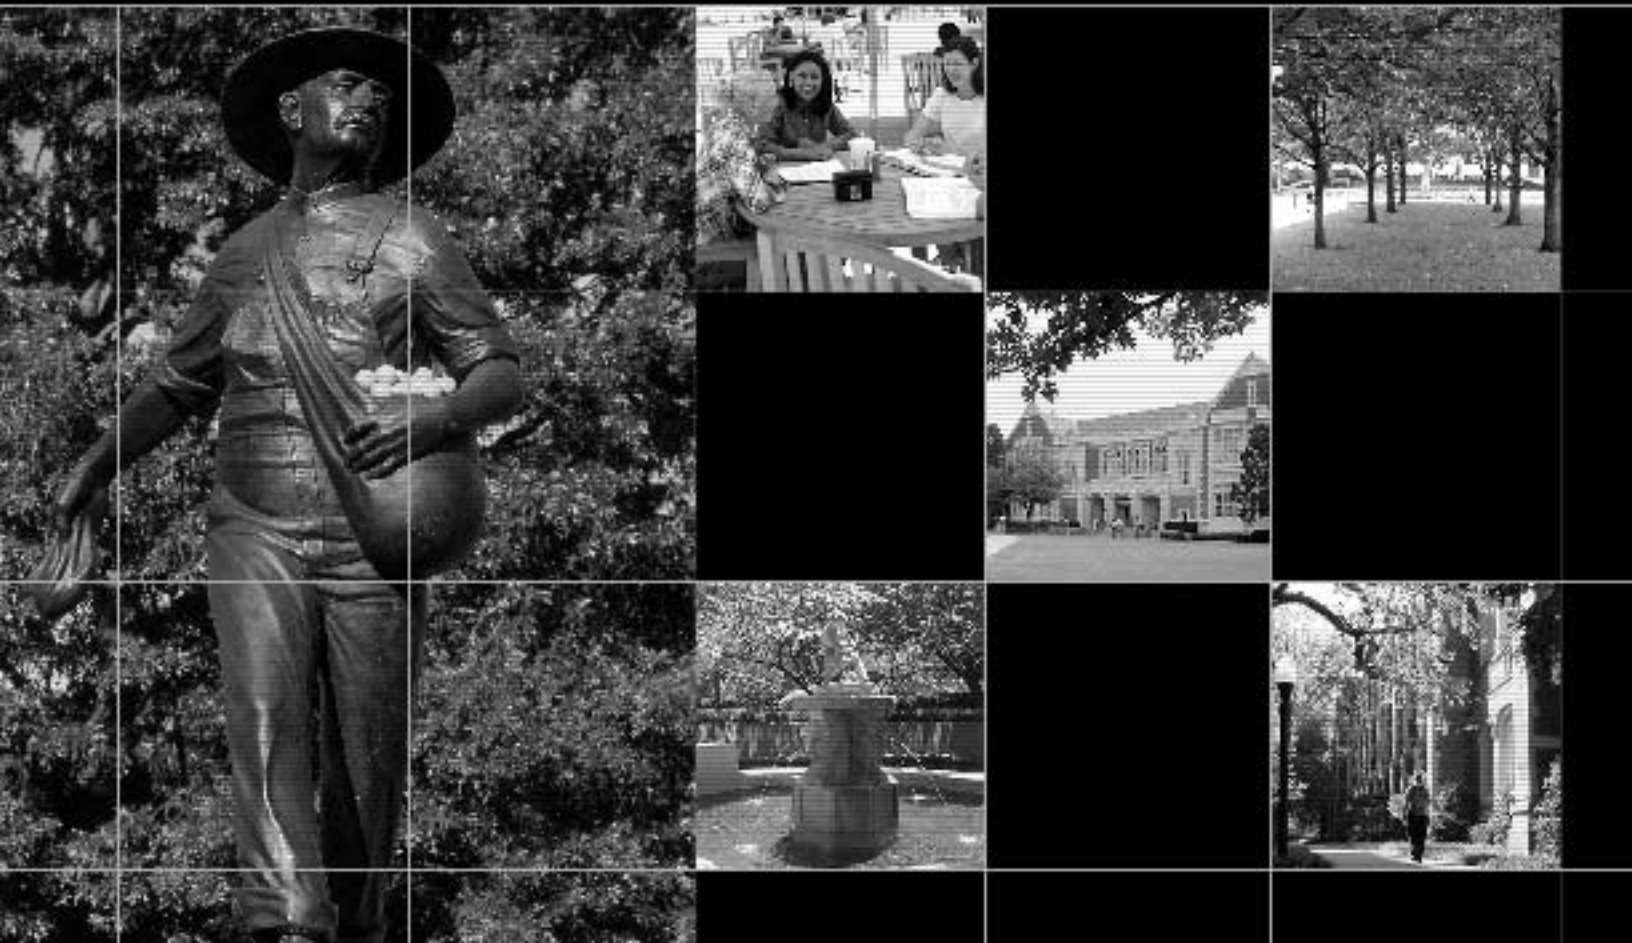

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA OVERVIEW

Created by the Oklahoma Territorial Legislature in 1890, the University of Oklahoma is a doctoral degree-granting research university serving the educational, cultural, economic and health-care needs of the state, region and nation. The Norman campus serves as home to all of the university's academic programs except health-related fields. Both the Norman and Health Sciences Center colleges offer programs at the Schusterman Center, the site of OU-Tulsa. The OU Health Sciences Center, which is located in Oklahoma City, is one of only four comprehensive academic health centers in the nation with seven professional colleges. OU enrolls almost 30,000 students, has more than 2,300 full-time faculty members, and has 20 colleges offering 154 majors at the baccalaureate level, 160 majors at the master's level, 85 majors at the doctoral level, 39 majors at the first professional level, and 18 graduate certificates. The university's annual operating budget is $1.46 billion. The University of Oklahoma is an equal opportunity institution.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT OU?

- OU ranks number one in the nation among all public universities in the number of National Merit Scholars enrolled per capita.
- The Princeton Review ranks OU among the best in the nation in terms of academic excellence and cost for students.
- OU's 2007-08 freshman class was the largest at a four-year public university in Oklahoma history. More than 10 percent of the entire freshman class came from high school with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average.
- OU has over a $1.5 billion impact on the state's economy each year.
- OU ranks first in the Big 12 and at the top in the nation in international reciprocal exchange agreements with countries around the world. The University has 174 student exchange agreements with universities in 66 countries. More than 1,500 students from almost 100 countries are enrolled on OU's Norman campus.
- OU is among the top universities in the nation in Goldwater Scholarship winners, with 12 in the past four years, and OU student Andrea DenHoed was named OU's 27th Rhodes Scholar in 2007.
- OU is one of the few public universities in the nation to cap the class size of first-year English composition courses at no more than 19 students.
- The University has created an Honors College with one of the largest honors programs among public universities in the United States. More than 2,600 students participate in small classes of 19 or less.
- OU's Campaign for Scholarships has passed the $130 million mark, allowing the university to double new scholarships for students in just four years.
- The Campaign for Scholarships is continuing, and in March 2008 surpassed its goal of raising $100 million for endowed scholarships. To date, $110 million in scholarship endowments have been donated or pledged.
- OU is one of only 25 public universities in America with an endowment above $1.1 billion and has increased from 100 to 539, the number of endowed faculty positions in the past 13 years, demonstrating a strong commitment to excellence.
- OU continues to break private fund-raising records, with more than $1.4 billion in gifts and pledges since 1994, which has provided funding for dramatic capital improvements, the growth in faculty endowment and student scholarships.

THE CAMPUS EXPERIENCE

- OU has the academically highest ranked student body at a public university in Oklahoma.

- Since 1994, research and sponsored programs expenditures at OU have more than doubled, and OU continues to set new records for funding for externally sponsored research. OU ended FY 2007 with total expenditures of more than $250 million.

- The OU Health Sciences Center in FY 2007 continued its impressive rate of research growth by achieving more than $130 million in federal, state, corporate and nonprofit or foundation grants and contracts. Funding from the National Institutes of Health – considered to be the gold standard for research – was $44 million.

- Since 1995, almost $1.5 billion in construction projects have been completed, are under way or are forthcoming on OU's three campuses, the largest of which is the $67 million National Weather Center.

- OU is home to one of the two largest natural history museums in the world associated with a university. The Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History has more than 7 million artifacts and contains 195,000 square feet on 40 acres of land. The museum exhibits include the largest Apatosaurus on display in the world and the oldest work of art ever found in North America — a lightning bolt painted on an extinct bison skull.

- The Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art's collections total more than 8,000 works of art, including OU's Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionism, the single most important gift of art ever given to a U.S. public university; the Adkins Collection, among the most important private collections in the nation of works by the Taos artists as well as Native American works of art; the former U.S. State Department Embassy art collection; and the Dorothy Dunn collection of Native American art.

- OU's Western History Collection is one of the largest collections in the world of documents and photographs, including a rare multivolume portfolio on the Indians of the United States and Alaska by Edward S. Curtis.

- OU's Research Campus has been certified by the Oklahoma Department of Commerce as Site Ready, which enables the university to capitalize on fast-moving economic opportunities and enables site selectors to readily find quality land and facilities that meet nationally established criteria in a timely fashion.

- A major beautification campaign has transformed the appearance of the OU Health Sciences Center in Oklahoma City. The project replaced a divided highway through campus with seven tiered gardens featuring traditional OU arches at each end. The pedestrian walkway's landmarks include an OU Seed Sower sculpture at the west end, a clock tower at the east end, and a 70-foot granite fountain in the center.

- OU has strong programs in international and area studies, with an International Programs Center led by Zach P. Messitte, a foreign policy expert with a doctorate in international politics whose experience includes working for the United Nations and CNN.

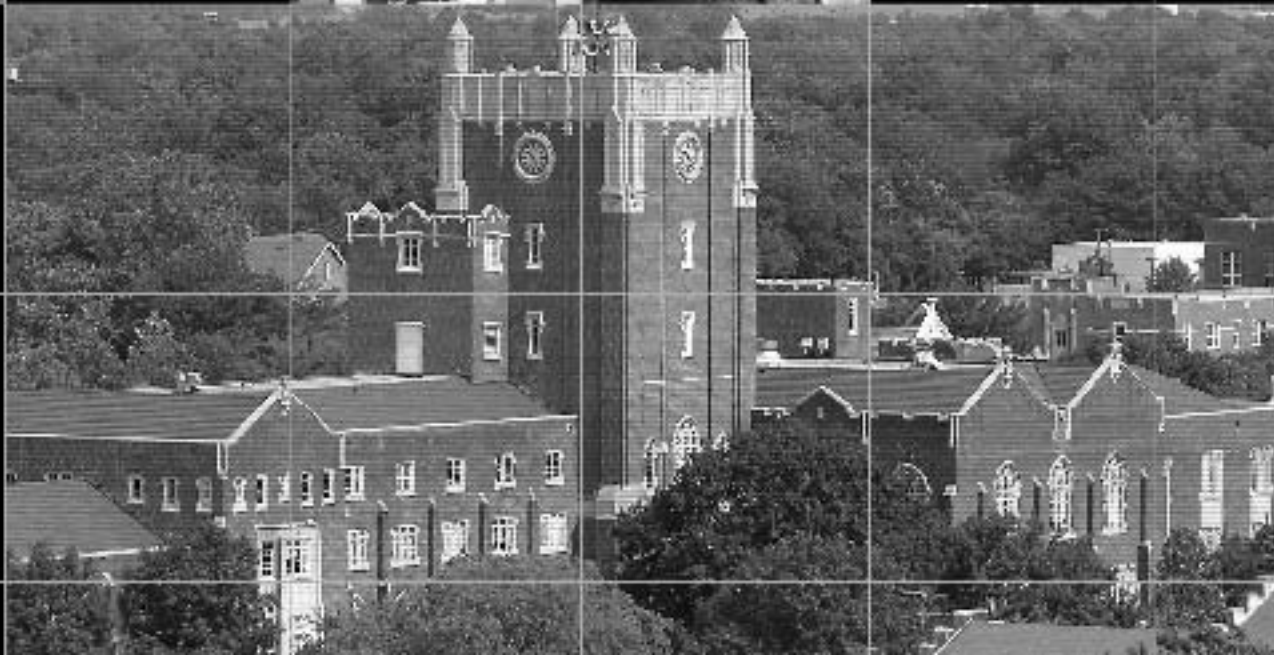

- For the outdoor improvements to the Norman campus — gardens, fountains, sculptures, benches — the University of Oklahoma has won first place in the education category for Beautification and Landscaping in the statewide environmental competition. Gifts of over $3 million have permanently endowed OU's gardens.

- With nearly 400 doctors, OU Physicians is the state's largest physician group. Our practice encompasses almost every adult and child specialty. Many OU Physicians have expertise in the management of complex conditions that is unavailable anywhere else in the state, region or sometimes even the nation. Some have pioneered surgical procedures or innovations in patient care that are world firsts.

- About 125 of OU Physicians' doctors are OU Children's Physicians. These board-certified pediatric specialists committed their training and, now, their practices to the care of children. Many children with birth defects, critical injuries or serious diseases who can't be helped elsewhere come to OU Children's Physicians. Oklahoma doctors and parents rely on OU Children's Physicians depth of experience, nationally renowned expertise and sensitivity to children's emotional needs.

- The University of Oklahoma maintains one of the three most important collections of early manuscripts in the history of science in the United States. It includes Galileo's own copy of his work, which first used the telescope to support the Copernican theory, with corrections in his own handwriting.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT OU?

- The University of Oklahoma Libraries has added its 5 millionth volume, continuing a commanding lead as the state's largest research library and claiming one of the top two spots in size among Big 12 libraries.

- OU's Julian P. Kanter Political Commercial Archive houses the world's largest collection of political commercials. With more than 90,000 commercials, the archive includes political advertisements dating back to 1936 for radio and 1950 for television.

- The highly acclaimed journal of international literature, World Literature Today, is published at the University of Oklahoma.

- OU is home to the Neustadt International Prize for Literature, considered to be second in prestige only to the Nobel Prize and often referred to as the "American Nobel." Twenty-six Neustadt laureates, candidates and jurors have won the Nobel Prize in the past 38 years.

- The OU Cousins program matches U.S. and international students to share informal and social experiences. Students may volunteer to live on international floors with half of the residents from the United States and half from other countries.

- OU has established a faculty-in-residence program with faculty members and their families living in apartments in the student residence halls.

- A major building project has doubled the size of the Law Center, refurbishing classrooms and creating a new library, a cutting-edge courtroom, and expanded student lounge and office facilities.

- OU has one of the oldest comprehensive colleges of fine arts in the Great Plains states, with highly regarded schools of Music, Drama, Art and Dance, and programs in opera, musical theater, and sculpture.

- OU has won awards for new initiatives to create a sense of family and community on campus. OU is one of the very few public universities to twice receive the Templeton Foundation Award as a "Character Building College" for stressing the value of community.

- The University of Oklahoma has consistently been designated as one of America's 100 Best College Buys by Institutional Research & Evaluation, an independent higher education research and consulting organization.

- Dance Magazine places the OU School of Dance in the top three of all dance programs in the country.

- The Athletics Department became just the second Division 1 winner of the Prism Award, recognizing best practices in sports management.

MISSION STATEMENT

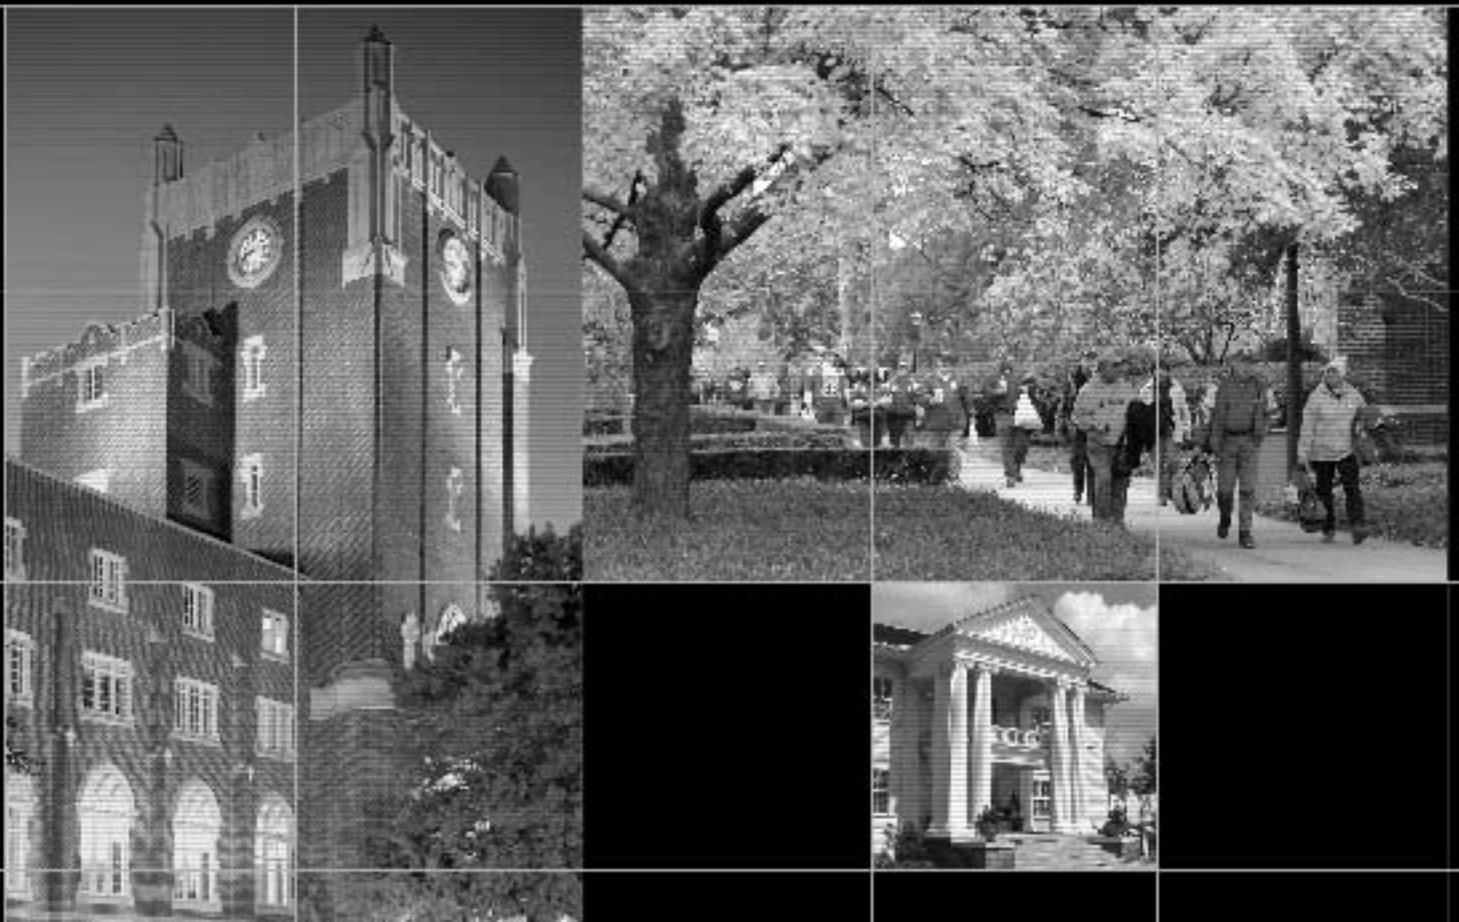

The mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.

- OU's 271-acre Research Campus is anchored by the Stephenson Research and Technology Center, where cutting-edge research into life science fields ranging from robotics to genomic studies is taking place, and the National Weather Center, which houses OU's academic and research programs in meteorology and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Norman-based weather, research and operations programs.

- OU's College of Education continues to be ranked in the top 10 percent of all graduate colleges of education by U.S. News & World Report.

- The OU College of Law attracts and admits only the very best students, and continues to set records in bar passage rates with OU graduates scoring the fifth-highest bar passage rate for first-time takers among all law schools in the nation.

THE PATH TO GRADUATION

PRENTICE GAUTT ACADEMIC CENTER

In the 1950s, he came to OU to play football, and, in the process, broke down barriers and crushed stereotypes. Today, OU student-athletes use the Prentice Gautt Academic Center to break another kind of stereotype. The center that today's student-athletes use everyday now bears the name of the man who left an indelible legacy for Sooner Athletics and helped change a society in the process.

The formal dedication of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center was held Friday, Sept. 17, 1999. The proposal to re-name the center was approved by the OU Board of Regents in March 1999.

"It is appropriate that this center be named after Prentice Gautt," OU President David L. Boren said. "His personal values and character, along with his leadership as associate commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, continue to bring pride to his alma mater. His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless number of African-American and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics."

The professional consultants of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center help student-athletes with a variety of academic tasks, from learning strategy instruction to any stage of the writing process including preparing for an essay exam and the formal research paper.

The goal is to help student-athletes develop the strategies they need to be successful by encouraging the use of the center for all facets of the learning and writing processes encountered in college.

The Prentice Gautt Academic Center provides student-athletes with a state-of-the-art academic support facility. The environment encourages a collaboration between staff members and student-athletes. In addition, it is highly conducive to learning in all areas of students' academic endeavors and features seven learning centers.

Located on the second and third floors in the north end of the Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Academic Center houses Academic Counseling offices, and Learning and Skill Development centers including the Kerr Foundation Computer Center, the Thompson Writing Center and centers for communication, reading, study skills, math and foreign language as well as learning enhancement and study areas.

LEARNING CENTERS: KERR CAREER CENTER

Whether student-athletes are freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors or graduates, they will benefit from the services of the Kerr Career Center. It provides a system of services that educates and guides students through the career development process.

The Career Center is dedicated to helping students make the transition from college to career by developing an individualized career plan where they gather information to assist in making a decision about a career; obtain information on the suitable career list; explore classes and publications in the field as well as obtain experience; and gain knowledge and skills necessary for résumé writing, job-related letter writing and interviewing techniques.

The Career Center is a link with the campus Careers Services Office and offers student-athletes a wide array of effective job hunting skills, training and career services.

KERR FOUNDATION COMPUTER CENTER

In the 21st century, computers have become an integral part of the learning experience. Students need access to computers and their resources almost daily. The Kerr Foundation Computer Centers are here to meet these technological needs. We provide each student with the equipment and support necessary to succeed.

The computer center is housed within the Prentice Gautt Academic Center and houses nearly 200 computers available exclusively to our student-athletes.

Students also enjoy a large amount of storage space on our athletic network. Laptop computers are checked out to students when the computer center is unavailable. This allows access to our network and resources 24 hours a day. The laptop program is very important in helping athletes stay on top of their schoolwork when traveling.

Group training is provided for all new student-athletes during the first week of supervised study. This helps familiarize each student with our resources and procedures. Individual training sessions are available to each student and lab technicians are always on hand to help.

ACADEMICS

The Kerr Foundation Computer Center has been a model for other universities around the country. We plan on being a leader in the future as well. Upgrades are scheduled annually and there is a deep commitment from the Athletics Department ensures that the excellence in the computer center will continue for a long time.

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER

This academic center focuses on developing communication and public speaking skills for student-athletes. The state-of-the-art center, coordinated by a broadcast professional, builds strong media relations skills through the use of video equipment.

KERR FOUNDATION FOREIGN LANGUAGE CENTER

To assist you in speaking, listening, reading and writing in other languages, the Kerr Foundation Foreign Language Center offers a multimedia environment that provides instruction in all foreign languages and in English as a second language. On an individual basis, students have the option of working with computers, audio-visual equipment and tutors in order to enhance their language experience.

MATH CENTER

If performing math functions is a problem, the solution is the Math Center. As a supplement to class instruction, the Math Center provides all levels of math computations, concepts and problems to help students review course material. In addition, it offers personal and group tutoring sessions to assist with math assignments.

READING/STUDY SKILLS CENTER

If students have trouble with assigned textbook readings or studying, the Reading and Study Skills Center can help. It provides reading and studying techniques and its staff teach how to make direct applications to current resources. Consultation, computer-assisted instruction, tutoring and independent activities are available.

THOMPSON WRITING CENTER

Because learning and writing are essential life long skills which can always be strengthened, the Writing Center offers personalized instruction to student-athletes who seek assistance in refreshing, reviewing, or improving these skills. The Thompson Writing Center offers a dynamic, positive atmosphere to help student-athletes generate ideas and strategies for writing assignments. Consultants help student-athletes organize papers, review grammatical basics, develop proofreading and library research skills, and design résumés.

THE PATH TO GRADUATION

Steps For Building "Champions For Life"

STEP ONE: Assessment

New Student-Athlete Assessment -The academic assessment process begins with an entry-level assessment of all incoming student-athletes. This assessment is designed to help student-athletes know their strengths and weaknesses in content areas such as reading, writing, and mathematics. With this information, we can determine if student-athletes have the skills necessary to succeed in standard entry-level courses. Some results from this initial assessment may require additional testing, enrollment in developmental courses and academic services, or programs recommended based on individual needs. The ultimate purpose of our assessment is to ensure that student-athletes have the appropriate academic support services to achieve academic success.

STEP TWO: Skill Development

Tutorial Program - A comprehensive tutoring program of approximately 150 tutors provides one-to-one and small-group instruction. Student-athletes are assisted with study skills, problem-solving techniques and specific course material. Athletic Student Life Office counselors may recommend tutors or a student-athlete may request one independently.

Study Skills - The Study Skills Center provides student-athletes with assistance in college reading strategies and individual instruction for reading improvement. A learning specialist regularly conducts time management and study skills workshops. The staff's goal is to help student-athletes become independent writers and learners in the academic environment.

Computer Skills - The Kerr Foundation Athletic Computer Center, also located in the Prentice Gautt Academic Center, provides student-athletes with computer knowledge and access. The Computer Center is open six days a week with extended hours offered during peak times. Made possible from a $250,000 Kerr Foundation matching grant, the Athletic Computer Center is equipped with more than 200 state-of-the-art computers, including Macintosh and Windows-compatible computers with color monitors, CD-ROM drives and modems. High-speed high-resolution laser printers, digital camera, video equipment and a scanner are also available for student-athlete use. Software in use includes all popular word processing programs, spreadsheet programs, presentation programs, databases and desktop publishing/graphic design programs. In addition, computer training courses are provided each semester and portable computers are available to student-athletes who need computer access after 11 p.m. Approximately 100 portables are also available to teams when traveling.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

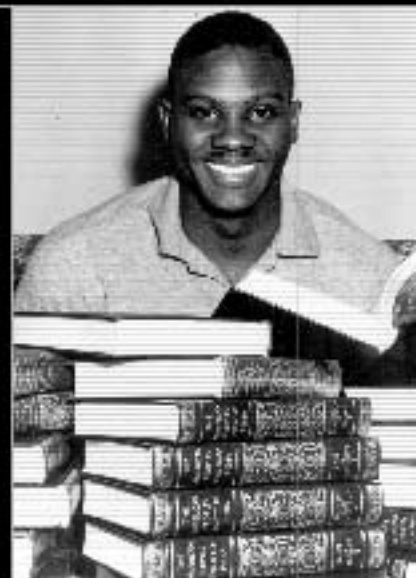

► OKLAHOMA REMEMBERS GAUTT

Prentice Gautt ushered in a new era for Oklahoma football when he landed a spot on the 1956 team. Former Sooner head coach Bud Wilkinson was pressured against giving Gautt a scholarship. A group of black doctors and pharmacists gave money for Gautt to attend the school. Within a year, Gautt was given a scholarship and the donated amounts were given to another black student.

Gautt, considered Oklahoma's best player in 1958, was a two-time All-Big Eight player and 1959 Orange Bowl MVP. During his senior year, Gautt was named to the academic All-America team and eventually earned master's and doctorate degrees in psychology.

The academic center for student-athletes at the University of Oklahoma was named in Gautt's honor in 1999. A special assistant to the commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, Gautt passed away on March 17, 2005.

"His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless numbers of African-Americans and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics," said University of Oklahoma president David Boren.

Foreign Language - The Kerr Foundation Foreign Language Center was established to assist student-athletes with speaking, listening, reading and writing in different languages. The Center, coordinated by a Modern Languages department instructor, offers a top-notch multimedia environment for all foreign language instruction.

Math Skills - Realizing the increasing role mathematics plays in society today, the Prentice Gautt Academic Center aims to help all student-athletes achieve an understanding of math and related topics in their course work. The Mathematics Center offers regular instruction for student-athletes placed in preparatory mathematics courses and tutorial consultation in all math and statistics courses.

Career Preparation - At OU, non-athletic career preparation is enhanced through workshops in résumé development, job search strategies, interviewing skills and graduate school preparation assistance through the Kerr Career Center. The Sooner Career Program is dedicated to educating student-athletes about the world of work and providing a transition from college athletics to their first careers. The program includes the OU Career Fair, career information seminars, opportunities for summer internships in various fields, an employment referral service and mentorship opportunities for graduating student-athletes. The Career Center, an exciting learning center, allows student-athletes the opportunity to explore potential careers and majors through a variety of resources. Additionally, student-athletes are able to take personality and career inventories via computer. The Sooner Career Program is jointly sponsored by the OU Athletics Department, the Sooner Club and the Varsity O Association.

Communication Skills - Communicating well is an essential skill in successful personal and professional interaction for OU student-athletes. The OU Communications Center offers training for effective oral communication and media relations. A working media conference room featuring a stage and a modern audio-visual systems is available in a state-of-the-art communications center.

SUPERVISED STUDY

Supervised study is a monitored study program designed to provide student-athletes with organized study and tutoring time in a flexible environment conducive to successful learning. Supervised study is required for all first-semester freshmen, transfer student-athletes, student-athletes with a cumulative GPA below 2.50, and any student-athlete who the coaching staff and the Student Life academic staff believe would benefit from the experience. Supervised study is flexible for all student-athletes. All freshman and transfer student-athletes are required to put in 10 hours a week in their first semester at the University. Any study area or learning center is available for use during these times.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE AND TUTORING

Tutors are available to assist student-athletes in all subject areas. Individual or small group sessions can be arranged with content experts either allocated by academic services or personally requested by the student-athlete. Academic services also provides revision groups, study sessions and weekly instruction on an individual or group basis in order to ensure student-athlete success.

LEARNING ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM

Learning specialists are assigned by academic services to designated student-athletes to assist them with study skills, problem solving techniques, and time management. The primary goal of the learning program is to create an environment conducive to student-athlete success in the university academic setting. The staff of the Athletic Student Life office promote this environment of academic success through several methods. Arriving at a college campus can be very intimidating for both freshmen and transfer students. Our program provides a learning specialists to help familiarize the student-athlete with the academic and social culture at OU, thus helping to ease the transition to the University setting for student-athletes.

STEP THREE: Counseling

Personal Career Counseling - Student-athletes receive caring, professional support from Dr. Gerald Gurney and his staff at all levels. This support may take several forms, including career choice, academic or personal decisions.

Academic Counseling and Advisement - Six professional athletic academic counselors are present to help student-athletes through the educational process. Approximately one counselor per 100 student-athletes is available to assist the student-athletes with planning class schedules, choosing degree programs and setting personal and academic goals.

Psychological Counseling and Sport Psychology (PROS)
The Prentice Gautt Academic Center is staffed with a licensed Counseling Psychologist and several psychological counselors and interns to provide a wide array of counseling and performance enhancing services. Student-athletes may visit the staff psychologist to confidentially discuss anything impacting their academic, athletic or personal lives. OU's national award-winning program has become a model for other programs to follow.

Academic Monitoring - Course attendance and course performance are checked a minimum of four times per semester for each student-athlete participating in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Personal Health and Nutritional Counseling - The personal health and nutritional needs of student-athletes are monitored by the OU Sports Medicine staff of physicians and certified athletic trainers. The Wagner Dining Center makes every effort to accommodate the special dietary and nutritional requirements of OU student-athletes. The cafeteria serves all three meals with several healthy entrees to choose from. The menu is designed to meet the nutritional needs of every individual student-athlete by allowing each athlete to choose from a variety of options to accommodate the unique demands of his/her schedule. In addition, a program to promote substance abuse awareness requires student-athletes to enroll in a campus personal health course focusing on substance abuse, human sexuality, nutrition and stress management.

STEP FOUR: Faculty Relations

Faculty Guest Program - The faculty guest program's purpose is to enhance the athletic department's relationship with the faculty and staff. Faculty members are selected to be guest coaches for the week in all sports throughout the academic year. During that time, the faculty guests are provided with a list of planned activities that are designed to give them an opportunity to experience various aspects of the athletic department's operations and introduce them to student-athlete lifestyles and expectations.

STEP FIVE: Resident Life

Sooner Housing Center - Student-athletes reside in a variety of University housing environments, including the Sooner Housing Center. The Sooner Housing Center, managed by Athletic Student Life staff, is located across the street from the Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. It provides a living environment that is conducive to the academic and personal development of student-athletes. The Sooner Housing Center was the winner of the 1998, 2003 and 2005 President's Trophy for the outstanding housing center on the OU campus and was recognized for its contribution to academic excellence, innovative programming and campus diversity. The Sooner Housing Center was also selected as the President's Trophy runner-up in 1997, 2000 and 2006.

STEP SIX: Life Skills, Academic Recognition, Graduation/Post Eligibility, Community Service and Student-Athlete Leadership Life Skills Program

OU is a member of the NCAA's Life Skills Program and is dedicated to contributing to the growth and development of student-athletes through academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, community service and career development. The OU Athletics Department offers and maintains a strong commitment through comprehensive programs to fully develop the student-athletes' academic and personal potential, while enjoying the highest levels of athletic competition.

Academics Awards Program - The OU Athletic Student Life program places special emphasis upon recognition of outstanding academic performances by student-athletes. An awards banquet is held in the spring to recognize special award winners and scholar athletes who have achieved a 3.00 GPA or higher. Graduating student-athletes receive recognition prior to OU's graduation ceremonies in May during a reception. Each is given an "O" ring, representing their athletic participation and graduation from The University of Oklahoma. All scholarship student-athletes who exhaust their eligibility within eight semesters may receive an additional year of financial aid within a six-year period.

Student-Athlete Advisory Committee - Student-athlete leaders from each sport comprise the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, which aims to improve communication with the athletic and University administration regarding student-athletes' needs and concerns. The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee developed a community outreach partnership with the Oklahoma Youth Center, a local residential facility for physically, mentally and sexually abused children. SAAC also designs programs that encourage excellence in academics and social responsibility and serve to represent student-athletes on campus-wide committees.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

Baseball

Head coach Sunny Golloway led the OU baseball team into the championship round of an NCAA Regional for the third time in his four years at the helm. The Sooners advanced to their 31st NCAA Tournament after a strong finish to the season which included an appearance in the Big 12 Championship where OU was one game away from playing for the conference title. In the Tempe Regional, OU defeated No. 22 Vanderbilt twice and was eliminated by the host school and fourth-ranked team in the country, Arizona State.

Men's Basketball

Behind a first team All-Big 12 12 performance from freshman forward Blake Griffin, head coach Jeff Capel's Sooners posted a 23-12 overall record, finished in fourth place in the conference race and participated in the program's 21st NCAA Tournament in the past 26 years. Griffin capped one of the most successful seasons in school history by averaging team highs of 14.7 points and 9.1 rebounds a game. He also ranked third in the Big 12 with his .568 field goal percentage.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team finished the 2007-08 season with a 22-9 overall record, a No. 19 ranking and a 10th straight postseason appearance. OU reached the NCAA Tournament for the ninth straight year, defeating Illinois State to advance past the first round for the third straight year before falling in an overtime thriller to Notre Dame in the second round. Head coach Sherri Coale earned her 250th win as the Sooners' head coach while Courtney Paris earned consensus All-America honors for a third straight season, becoming the first Sooner to do so, and was named the Big 12's Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year. Paris snaggd record after record in her junior season, including becoming the fastest player in school or Big 12 history to score 2,000 career points.

Cross Country

Jessica Eldridge closed out her impressive OU cross country career with a fourth consecutive trip to the NCAA Cross Country Championships. Eldridge completed her cross country eligibility as just the sixth woman in OU history to earn All-America honors after finishing 18th in the 2006 NCAA Cross Country Championships. Eldridge was named to the 2007 Division I Midwest All-Region Cross Country team along with sophomore Jon Grey and freshman Kevin Schwab after the trio recorded top-25 finishes in the NCAA Midwest Regional. Eldridge and classmate Catherine Odell, along with sophomores Rob Sorrell and Chris Sweeney, received first team Academic All-Big 12 honors.

Football

Oklahoma won its fifth Big 12 Football Championship and became the first program to win the crown in back-to-back seasons. Oklahoma raced through the non-conference portion of its schedule with an average victory of 61-12. An upset loss at Colorado preceded a 28-21 win over Texas, a victory that launched a five-game winning streak. OU dropped the Fiesta Bowl to West Virginia, but garnered its ninth straight bowl appearance, it's sixth in the BCS. Linebacker Curtis Lofton and offensive guard Duke Robinson both earned consensus All-America honors to become the 143rd and 144th All-Americans in school history. Oklahoma won 11 or more games for the seventh time in Bob Stoops' nine seasons. The head coach finished the season with a career mark of 97-22.

Men's Golf

Nine of the 10 roster spots on the 2007-08 men's golf squad were filled by underclassmen, yet eighth-year head coach Jim Ragan led the Sooners to nine top-10 finishes and a spot in the NCAA West Regional to close the season. Lone upperclassman Phillip Bryan paced the team, carrying a 73.71 stroke average for the season and earning Academic All-Big 12 honors for the third consecutive season and a spot on the PING All-Region team. Eric Durbin fired an opening-round 7-under-par 64 at the Scenic City Invitational, the lowest round for an OU golfer since 2001.

Women's Golf

When all was said and done, the 2007-08 Sooners had captured three tournament championships and qualified for the NCAA West Regional, their first appearance in the NCAA Regional Championships since 2004. Kelly Jacques recorded eight top-15 finishes in OU's 11 tournaments in 2007-08 while Kendall Dye recorded her first career tournament victory at the Susie Maxwell Berning Classic.

Men's Gymnastics

Ranked second heading into the 2008 NCAA Championships and facing No. 1 Stanford on its home floor in Palo Alto, Calif., the Sooners surged ahead of the Cardinal on the final routine of the night to claim their eighth national championship and fifth in the last seven years. Jonathan Horton, who won the 2008 Nissen-Emery Award, concluded his career as the most decorated gymnast in OU history by claiming an individual national championship on the still rings and earning All-America honors for his runner-up finish in the all-around as well as on rings and parallel bars. The Houston, Texas, native finished with six career individual NCAA titles and 18 career All-America honors during his time in Norman.

▼ NATIONAL TITLE

The OU men's gymnastics team won the 2008 National Championship, marking the fifth title in the last seven years. The men have claimed eight titles in program history. The 2008 national gymnast of the year, OU's Jonathan Horton, represented the U.S. in the 2008 Olympics.

Women's Gymnastics

Etching its name in the record books on multiple occasions, the Sooners clinched their first Big 12 title since 2004 in dramatic come-from-behind fashion and placed eighth at the NCAA Championships, tying the '07 squad for the best finish in program history at the season-ending event. Senior Kiara Redmond capped off her illustrious career with four additional All-America honors to move her career total to nine - the highest number of any gymnast in program history. The '08 campaign started with 21 straight victories, including all 18 regular-season contests. The Sooners became the only team in the country to post an undefeated regular season. Following OU's come-from-behind heroics in the conference championship, second year head coach K.J. Kindler was named the 2008 Big 12 Coach of the Year while Redmond garnered Big 12 Gymnast of the Year honors.

Soccer

Freshman Whitney Palmer became the third Sooner in program history to be named to the All-Big 12 Newcomer team following a stellar 2007 season. Palmer is the fourth freshman in school history to lead the team in goals (6) and the third to lead in overall points (13). Palmer, a native of Plano, Texas, ranked 10th in the Big 12 Conference in goals scored and was tied for third in game-winning goals (4). The Sooners finished the season at 6-10-3 overall and placed ninth in the Big 12 standings with a 2-7-1 mark.

Softball

The Sooners advanced to their third Super Regional in the last four years and finished the season with an overall record of 47-14, marking the 15th straight season that the Oklahoma program had notched a 40-win season. The Sooners are the only team in Big 12 Conference history to record 40-win seasons in each of the 13 years since the league has existed. Oklahoma was solid in conference action as the Sooners produced a 16-2 record in the Big 12.

Women's Tennis

The University of Oklahoma women's tennis team went 11-12 and 4-8 in the Big 12 with a young squad. The Sooners had three true freshmen playing in their top six, including standout Ana-Maria Constantinescu, who was named the ITA Central Regional Rookie of the Year after the season ended. Constantinescu led the Sooners at the No. 1 position, earning a 15-5 overall record and a 7-4 Big 12 mark. Combined with her play in the fall, the Romania native went 24-9 during her freshman year.

Men's Tennis

The Sooners excelled on their home court where they won eight matches, including their lone Big 12 victory. The Sooners flirted with a top-30 ranking all season. The inexperience did not work to the Sooners' favor as the young squad struggled in Big 12 play. Andrei Daescu was the lone Sooner selected to play in the NCAA Championships. The sophomore was defeated in the first round by Clancy Shields of Boise State, 5-7, 6-2, 7-5 to finish the season with a record of 28-12. Oklahoma's season came to a close in a Bedlam rematch in the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championships. The No. 3 seed Cowboys defeated No. 6 seed Sooners 6-1 to end the Sooners' season. OU finished the season with a record of 11-13 and ended Big 12 play with a record of 1-5.

Track & Field

The Sooners reached the double-digit mark in All-America honors with six coming at the NCAA Outdoor Championships and four at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Two of the All-Americans, Sharda Boutte and Latoya Greaves, recorded a sweep of the Big 12 Conference titles, claiming indoor and outdoor titles in the triple jump and hurdles, respectively. Both the men's and women's teams reached their highest national rankings, the men at No. 3 during the indoor season and the women at No. 16 in the outdoor season. The Oklahoma men closed out the indoor season with a 15th-place finish at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Eleven student-athletes were named to the Big 12 Conference's 2008 Academic All-Big 12 Track and field teams, including Amy Backel and Catherine Odell with perfect 4.0 GPAs.

Volleyball

Despite losing five seniors, the Oklahoma volleyball team continued to escalate its program in 2007 under the leadership of fourth-year coach Santiago Restrepo. Restrepo led the Sooners to another successful regular season as they finished with an overall record of 22-10, including a 13-7 mark in the Big 12. Once again, the Sooners, picked to finish ninth in the preseason Big 12 poll, were the surprise of the Big 12 as they finished fourth in the league and finished the regular season ranked No. 21 in the country. Following its fourth-place finish in the Big 12, OU advanced to the second consecutive NCAA Regional, marking only the second time in program history that the team had made back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Tournament. The 2007 team also became the first squad in OU history to win back-to-back first round matches as it defeated Florida A&M in first-round action of the Gainesville Regional before falling to the 13th-seeded Florida Gators in the second round.

Wrestling

The Sooner wrestling squad completed the 2007-08 regular season with a 14-5 dual record, its most wins since winning 14 in 2004. It also marked the 13th straight season that head coach Jack Spates had led the OU program to at least 10 wins. Seven of Oklahoma's victories came against teams that placed in the top 30 at the NCAA Championships (No. 5 OSU, No. 16 Pitt, No. 18 Navy, No. 25 North Carolina, No. 26 Cal Poly, and tied for No. 28 was Michigan State and Arizona State). The OU squad caught fire midseason by reeling off seven straight victories, beginning with a win over Central Oklahoma on Dec. 7. Four wrestlers qualified for the NCAA in St. Louis, Mo., by placing in the top three at the Big 12 Championships in Stillwater, Okla.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

► BIG 12 CHAMPS

The OU football team, led by Sam Bradford, won its fifth Big 12 Championship in the last eight years with a 38-17 win over Missouri. The 2007 title, coupled with the 2006 win over Nebraska, made OU the first Big 12 program to win back-to-back championships.

A STORIED AND ACTIVE TRADITION OF ATHLETICS EXCELLENCE

The University of Oklahoma athletics program boasts a tradition that few schools can rival. Over the years, Sooner squads have combined for 26 team national championships including eight in men's gymnastics, seven in football, seven in wrestling, two in baseball, one in men's golf and one in softball.

The Sooner tradition isn't something buried in the past. It inspires OU's student-athletes to greater heights every season. In 2004-05, the Sooner football team competed in its second national championship in just four years and, in 2008, the men's gymnastics team earned its fifth national title in seven seasons. In 2002, the Sooner men's and women's basketball teams carved their spot in history by advancing to the NCAA Final Four -- only the third time in NCAA history a school accomplished the feat with both teams in the same year. The OU women added another first in 2005-06, becoming the first team men's or women's, in Big 12 history to go 16-0 in league play.

Even more remarkable, during the 2001-02 season, the OU football and men's and women's basketball teams combined for 74 wins -- the most ever for those three sports by a Division I school in a single season. Oklahoma went 11-2 in football, 31-5 in men's basketball and 32-4 in women's basketball. The University of Oklahoma now stands alone in college sports' 30-30-10 club, created exclusively by OU.

Oklahoma's student-athletes continue to lead in the classroom and their actions in the community are exemplary. With the Great Expectations campaign, Oklahoma continues to build the finest facilities in the nation.

Each day, it becomes more evident that the University of Oklahoma has become one of the finest comprehensive athletics program in the country. When OU student-athletes raise the trophy of another championship, the hands responsible for hoisting that trophy symbolize thousands of Sooners around the globe.

The following represents a closer look at the tradition powering the Oklahoma Sooners:

- Oklahoma was playing football before it was a state. It's only one of two Division I football programs to win seven or more national championships. And OU is the only Division I football program ever to record 47 straight victories.

- Oklahoma gymnastics great Bart Conner won two NCAA all-around crowns and led the Sooners to two NCAA titles in 1977 and 1978. A three-time Olympian (1976, '80, '84), Conner won two gold medals in 1984. He was instrumental in the foundation of the International Gymnastics Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City.

- Oklahoma defeated UCLA in the 2000 Women's College World Series to capture the school's first softball national championship. The Sooners won 66 games, broke 15 school records, had four All-Americans, the WCWS Most Outstanding Player, three WCWS all-tournament team members, a Big 12 title, a No. 1 ranking and the National Coaching Staff of the Year. The Sooners became just the second non-West Coast team in NCAA history to win a softball national championship.

- The OU men's basketball team has competed in 26 postseason tournaments in the last 27 years. Last season OU produced its 31st winning season in the last 32 years. No other Big 12 team can boast as many winning campaigns in the span.

- Sooner football has accumulated seven national championships, 41 conference titles, 24 bowl championships, 144 All-Americans and had 334 players drafted by the NFL, including 37 first-round selections and three No. 1 picks: Lee Roy Selmon (1976), Billy Sims (1980) and Brian Bosworth (1987—supplemental).

- Oklahoma's storied wrestling program has amassed 23 conference titles and seven national championships. OU has produced 252 All-Americans and its 65 individual national champions ranks third all-time.

THE SOONER TRADITION

▼ UNRIVALED

The Oklahoma athletics department has experienced great success against its fiercest rivals in recent seasons. OU has claimed the last three Bedlam Bells from Oklahoma State, while also claiming six of the last eight wins in the Red River football rivalry with Texas.

- The OU women's basketball team became the first team to go a combined 19-0 against league opponents, and was one of only four teams nationally to run the table against their league in 2005-06. Next season, OU enter with a 17-game regular season and a 20-game winning streak against conference foes. The unprecedented run netted the Sherri Coale-led Sooners their fourth regular season Big 12 Championship and their third Big 12 Tournament Championship, both league highs. OU's 19-game winning streak topped the previous best of 18 set by the 2000-01 team.

- Oklahoma football has placed 23 former Sooners into the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, including three head coaches: Bennie Owen in 1951, Bud Wilkinson in 1969 and Barry Switzer in 2001.

- The Oklahoma men's golf program has produced 47 All-Americans, eight three-time All-Americans, eight individual conference champions, 14 conference titles and the 1989 national championship.

- Oklahoma men's basketball great Mookie Blaylock holds the NCAA-single game record for steals in a contest with 13. He accomplished the feat twice in games against Centenary on Dec. 12, 1987, and Loyola-Marymount on Dec. 17, 1988.

- OU football has produced four Heisman Trophy winners: halfback Billy Vessels won the award in 1952, tailback Steve Owens won in 1969, halfback Billy Sims won in 1978, and quarterback Jason White brought the trophy back to Norman in 2003. OU players have captured 34 national player of the year awards and the Sooners have also produced five Outland Trophies, four Walter Camp Trophies, four Butkus Award winners, three Lombardi Awards, three Thorpe Awards, three Davey O'Brien Awards, two Bronko Nagurski Awards, two Maxwell Awards, one Tatupu Award and one Bednarik.

- The Oklahoma baseball team swept through its regional tournament and the World Series without a loss to capture the 1994 national championship. The Sooners topped off a 42-17 regular season with the school's second national baseball title.

- Oklahoma golf's Charlie Coe was one of the most celebrated amateur players in the history of the game. During his career, Coe captured U.S. amateur crowns in 1949, 1958 and 1959. He also played in 19 straight Masters Tournaments. Coe competed on the Walker Cup teams of 1949, 1951 and 1953.

- Oklahoma wrestling has produced 18 Olympians who have collectively won three gold and two silver medals. Brothers Dave and Mark Schultz both won gold in the 1984 games.

- Oklahoma baseball won the 1951 College World Series with a come-from-behind win over Tennessee in the championship game to become the first team in history to claim the title after winning the double-elimination tournament without a defeat.

- Oklahoma basketball great Wayman Tisdale was a three-time All-American for the Sooners from 1983-85 and is the all-time leading scorer and rebounder in OU history. He was a member of the 1984 gold-medal-winning U.S. Olympic team and was recently named the greatest player ever in the Big Eight Conference by a panel of longtime conference media observers and officials. Tisdale's No. 23 jersey was retired by Oklahoma in 1997 -- the first jersey ever retired by OU in any sport.

- Sooner basketball great Stacey Dales graduated as the most decorated player in the program's history in 2002. She was the WNBA's third overall draft pick by the Washington Mystics. In addition to leading OU to the 2002 national championship game, Dales was a two-time consensus All-American, two-time Big 12 Player of the Year, four-time Academic All-Big 12 selection, and two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American.

- Former OU letterwinners Michael Blackwood (track and field), Jonathan Horton (men's gymnastics) and Danny McFarlane (track and field) represented Oklahoma at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing.

- Three-time OU All-American Anthony Kim won the 2008 AT&T National in early July, becoming the first American golfer since Tiger Woods to win twice in one year on the PGA Tour.

▼ ALL-AMERICAN

OU women's basketball great Stacey Dales (below) graduated as the most decorated player in the program's history in 2002. In addition to leading OU to the 2002 national championship game, Dales was a two-time consensus All-American and a two-time Big 12 Player of the Year.

SOME OF THE MOST RECOGNIZED TRADITIONS IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS

The University of Oklahoma has a long and storied history. The rich tradition has given birth to some of the most recognized pageantry in all of college athletics. Here is a look at the origin of some of the elements that create the wonderful atmosphere so unique to OU:

Sooners

College sports fans are hard-pressed to find a nickname that is as unique and as tied in to a state's history as a Sooner. The University of Oklahoma is the only school known as Sooners and those who claim that they are Sooners say it with pride.

The Oklahoma Territory opened with the Land Run of 1889. Settlers from across the globe, seeking free land, made their way to the prairies of the plains to stake their claim. One of the few rules to claiming a lot of land was that all participants were to start at the same time, on the boom of a cannon. All settlers who started then were labeled as "Boomers" and the ones who went early were called "Sooners."

OU athletic teams were called either Rough Riders or Boomers for 10 years before the current Sooner nickname emerged in 1908. The university actually derived its name from a pep club called "The Sooner Rooters." The success of University of Oklahoma athletics teams over the years has made the nickname synonymous with winning.

Boomer Sooner

One of the most recognizable college fight songs in the country, Boomer Sooner immediately evokes enthusiasm from OU fans and sends chills down the spines of those who dare to oppose them.

In 1905, Arthur M. Alden, a student in history and physiology whose father was a Norman jeweler, wrote the lyrics to the fight song, borrowing the tune from Yale University's Boola Boola but improvising the words. A year later, an addition was made to it from North Carolina's I'm a Tarheel Born and the two combined to form today's university fight song. Though the tune was first made known by Yale, the everlasting success of Sooner squads has taken the melody of Boomer Sooner to national popularity.

I'm a Sooner born and Sooner bred and when I die, I'll be Sooner dead

Mascots

The Sooner Schooner is a Conestoga, or covered wagon, reminiscent of the mode of travel used by pioneers who settled Oklahoma. The Schooner is powered by matching white ponies named Boomer and Sooner, and it ventures onto Owen Field in a triumphant victory ride after OU scores. Although the Schooner was introduced in 1964, it did not become the official mascot until 1980. The Schooner is well-recognized by college athletics fans across the country and makes regular appearances at university functions.

During OU football and baseball games from 1915-1928, Mex the Dog wore a red sweater with a letter "O" on the side. Mex died of old age on April 30, 1928, and he was so popular among students and faculty that the university closed for his funeral and procession on May 2, 1928.

In the fall of 2005, the OU Athletics Department introduced costumed mascots. The new characters will act as an extension of the Sooner Schooner and its horses to be enjoyed by fans -- especially children -- at all OU athletics contests. The costumes feature traditional collegiate gear as part of their regular uniform, but will don team uniforms for football and men's and women's basketball. They were voted "Most Collegiate" by the Universal Cheerleading Association (UCA).

SOONER SPIRIT

Crimson and Cream

In the fall of 1895, Miss May Overstreet, the only woman on the faculty, was asked to chair a committee to select the colors of the university. The committee decided the colors should be crimson and cream and an elaborate display of the colors was draped above a platform before the student body.

The student body approved with great enthusiasm and immediately pennants, banners, badges and decorations of every description appeared on the streets, in the windows, at chapel, in classrooms, and all public places; however, local merchants could not supply the demand.

Even though the school colors have evolved to red and white over the years, you can ask any self-respecting Sooner what the colors are and they will proudly announce "Crimson and Cream."

On gamedays, a sea of crimson rolls through OU's home venues and all Sooners are urged to wear the official colors to show the rest of the country what school spirit and Sooner Pride is all about.

Pride of Oklahoma

The Pride of Oklahoma Marching Band has been supporting Sooner Spirit for more than a century. Unlike many other college bands, which began as military drill units, the Pride of Oklahoma had its beginnings as a pep band.

In the early years of the 1900s, both townspeople of Norman and students of OU participated in a band that played for football games. Professor John Merrill started the first band in 1901, which was composed mostly of townspeople and disbanded after each football season. Lloyd Curtis, a cornetist, founded the first continuous student band in 1904.

Today, the 300-member Pride of Oklahoma has members representing virtually every college and major on campus. The Pride of Oklahoma stands for excellence in musicianship, academics, school spirit, and commitment to our role in the surrounding community.

Boomer Sooner rings out at the end of each rehearsal, and that song is the defining element of the University of Oklahoma. Maybe that is why Sooner fans love the band so much. Not much can compare to the first "go-go" at a football game when the Pride of Oklahoma marches the interlocking OU down the field playing Boomer Sooner.

OU Chant

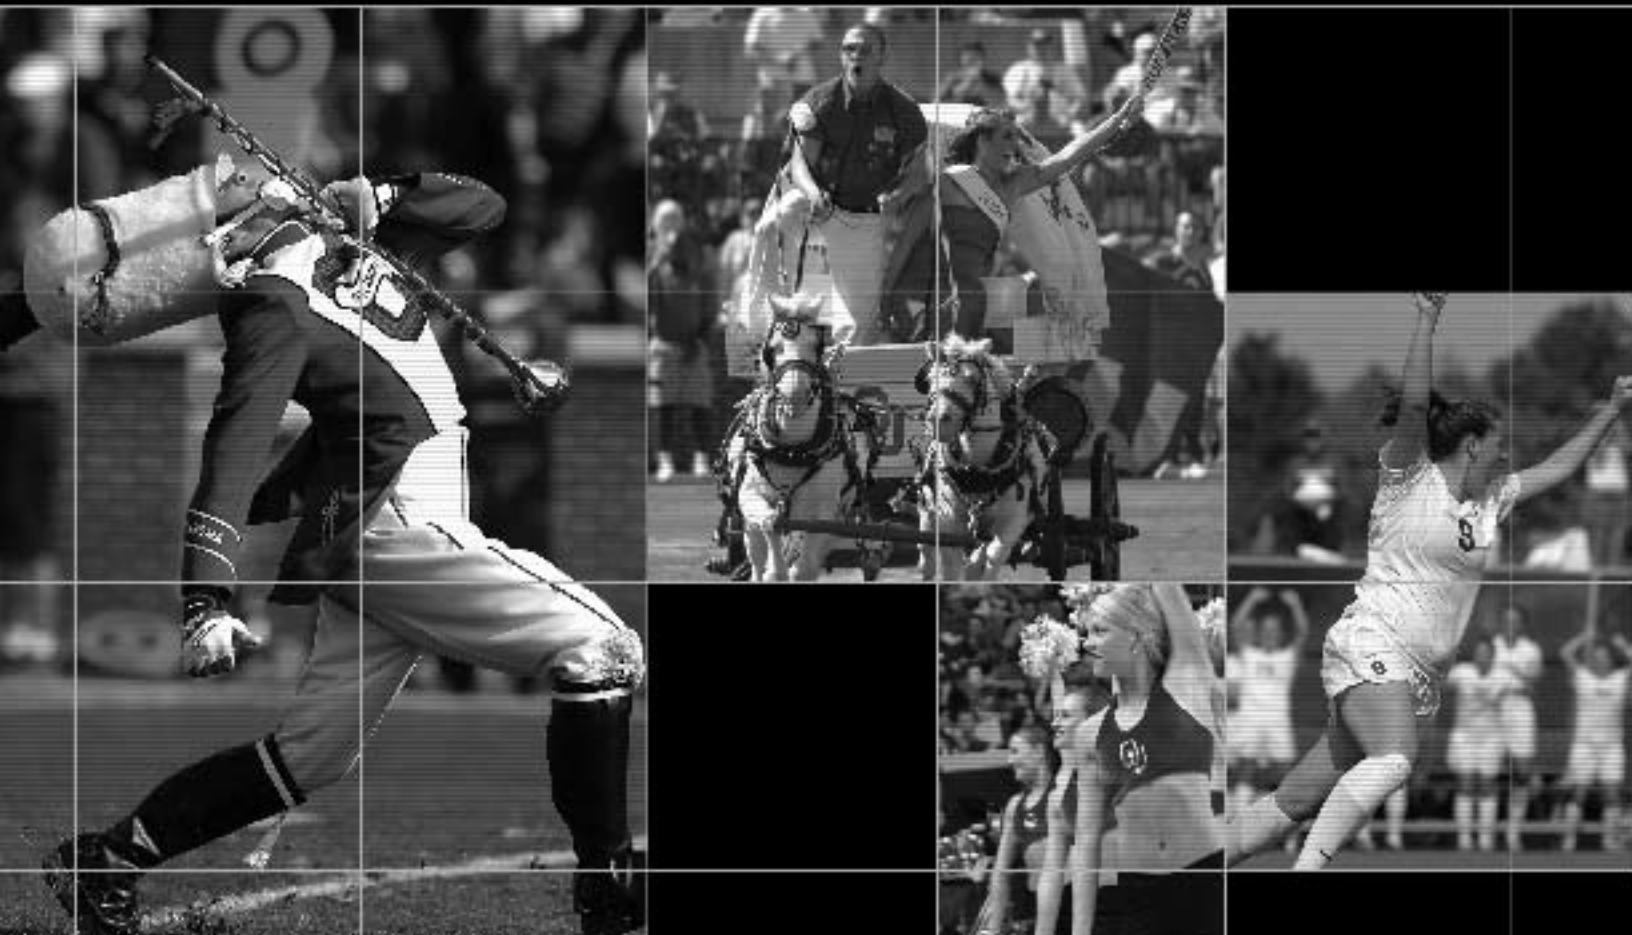

The OU Chant is a loyalty song that is sung before every home football game, before and after every men's and women's basketball games and at the end of many athletic and university functions.

Every fan who wears the official colors, each current student and student-athlete and all OU alumni are encouraged to stand and raise one finger in the air during the playing of the Chant -- a symbolic gesture that shows those who do not know what it means to be a Sooner, the greatness of the university and the unity between all Sooners.

The Chant was written in 1936 by Jessie Lone Clarkson Gilkey, who directed the OU girl's glee club from 1936 to 1938 and was voted Outstanding Faculty Woman in 1937.

O-K-L-A-H-O-M-A
Our chant rolls on and on!
Thousands strong
Join heart and song
In alma mater's praise
Of campus beautiful by day and night
Of colors proudly gleaming Red and White
'Neath a western sky
OU's chant will never die.
Live on University!

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

SUPPORTING THE COMMUNITY THAT SUPPORTS OU

OU lives by a clear and strong motto in dealing with its student-athletes...Inspiring Champions for Today, Preparing Leaders for Tomorrow. To fulfill that promise, the athletics department and student-athletes take an active role in a number of community service projects. Sooner student-athletes are exposed to life outside of sports and school work with opportunities to serve and help others.

The Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) is a committee made up of student-athletes from all 21 intercollegiate athletic teams at the University of Oklahoma. The group coordinates community service programs for the Sooners each month.

"Giving back is something that benefits us as much as those we're helping," says OU head softball coach Patty Gasso. "It brings us back to reality and makes us realize that there is more to life than collegiate softball. I feel it's our duty to help out because of the role we're in as a Division I softball program."

The University of Oklahoma men's golf program holds an annual Clubs for Kids event in early May at the Lakeview Golf Course in Ardmore, Okla. Providing clubs and instruction, the event allows more than 1,000 southeastern Oklahoma youth an opportunity to interact with the OU golf team and coaches.

Oklahoma women's basketball teams have been extremely active in the community since head coach Sherri Coale's arrival in 1996. In addition to projects with the United Way, Coaches vs. Cancer, Central Oklahoma Habitat for Humanity and the Children's Miracle Network, Coale implemented the Sooner Big Sis Program which places women's basketball players at elementary schools in Norman to serve as mentors and teachers' aides.

"I want our student-athletes to learn through their experience here," says Coale, "how important it is to volunteer to be a part of whatever community they decide to reside in when their playing days are over."

Oklahoma's student-athletes recognize that wearing the Crimson and Cream means representing a popular sports program and themselves as individuals. They are encouraged to respond to a public that adores them, while learning important lessons about making a positive impact in the lives of others and in the community in which they live.

Community service events for OU student-athletes from the past year included:

- Women's basketball players and coaches visited the Children's Hospital in Oklahoma City and participated in the Sooner Big Sis Program, an event in which each student-athlete selects a Norman elementary school class and visits the class weekly for an hour.
- The Oklahoma baseball team annually attends Willow Springs Boys Ranch to spend time with children and host a barbeque, in addition to visiting the "Miracle League" in Edmond and working with children at local elementary schools.
- The OU men's gymnastics team coordinated with Dallas High School and pre-formed an exhibition. In addition, the squad participated in Adopt-An-Angel, Safe Trick-Or-Treat and volunteered at various elementary schools in the Norman area.
- The OU Athletics Department participated in "Think if You Drink," a community campaign to help promote safe and responsible drinking among student-athletes and students on campus.
- The football program participated in Special Spectators for children with terminal illnesses by visiting and playing with the children.
- OU student-athletes and coaches made contact with more than 1,000 Norman Public Schools students in 20 schools as visiting readers, tutors, mentors and other special events including speaking engagements.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

- The OU women's volleyball team visited Santa Fe High School, mentored children during lunch at Norman Lutheran Church, led FCA at Alcott Middle School, refereed and taught children's volleyball for Jumping Juniors and the Homeschool Association and spoke to the young adults at Tulsa High School.

- Oklahoma men's basketball has been involved with community organizations including the American Cancer Society, the American Lung Association, Boys and Girls Clubs, Boy Scouts of America, Citizens Caring for Children, Children's Miracle Network, Food and Shelter for Friends, Sooner Reading Program, the Oklahoma Blood Institute, the Oklahoma Committee to Prevent Child Abuse and Special Olympics, among others.

- Bridge Builders, the African American Student-Athlete Network, organized student outreach programs at Marcus Garvey Leadership Charter School and Moon Middle School helping to impart ideas and strategies to young people that will help them be successful in sports as well as life.

- Oklahoma women's basketball players supported the Special Olympics in Norman and Noble. The players were honorary hug givers and cheerleaders, encouraging Oklahoma's special stars. The Sooners also assisted the United Way in its Meals on Wheels program. OU delivered, sacked and decorated bags that contained food items for emergency use during the winter months.

- Sooner football players spent more than 300 hours involved in various community projects during the course of the year including the Clinic for Kids, visiting elementary schools and conducting the annual food drive.

- OU student-athletes hosted Safe Trick-or-Treat and provided candy, games and safe entertainment for hundreds of local children and their families at the Lloyd Noble Center.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

SHOWCASING THE SOONERS TO A NATIONAL AUDIENCE

Oklahoma Athletics is a household name due to the overwhelming media attention that hovers around the Sooners. Writers and broadcasters representing the nation's most recognized media outlets regularly interact with Sooner players and coaches and routinely spend time in Norman.

And when they can't come to campus, those same observers keep tabs on OU thanks to extensive television coverage. The Sooners are at the very center of the college athletics and everybody is watching.

- In 2007, all 14 Oklahoma football games appeared on live television. OU enters the 2008 season with a streak of 71 consecutive televised games and has been shown on TV 281 times dating back to the 1953 season.
- During the 2007-08 season, the men's basketball team received live television coverage of 31 games, including 13 nationally televised contests.
- The women's basketball team was seen live for 27 games during the 2007-08 season, including national coverage for 10 contests.
- Thanks to the introduction of ESPNU, a cable-television network devoted solely to collegiate athletics, the OU baseball team received television coverage for an unprecedented 12 regular-season baseball games in 2005, including two on ESPN's national coverage.
- The Women's College World Series is hosted in Oklahoma City each year, with all games shown live across the nation.
- The men's golf team's home tournament, The Maxwell Invitational in Ardmore, Okla., is televised live by the local ABC affiliate.

• Both the men's and women's gymnastics teams had regular television coverage thanks to the hosting duties of their respective conference championships. The nation focused its eyes on Norman in April 2006 when the Sooners hosted the NCAA Men's Gymnastics National Championships at Lloyd Noble Center.

• The popularity of the Sooners is evident in the immense amount of products and apparel purchased by fans. OU ranks eighth in the nation in sales of licensed merchandise.

• Since 2000, Oklahoma student-athletes have appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated nine times. Sooner football is one of the most popular subjects for SI with 30 cover appearances.

• Over the past eight years, ESPN's popular College Football Gameday production has broadcast on site from 17 of Oklahoma's games.

• 38 million people logged on to SoonerSports.com last year, making the official Web site of the Oklahoma Athletics Department one of the top collegiate sites in the nation.

• Many former Sooners have gone on to successful careers as talent for the nation's top media outlets including ESPN's Stacy Dales and CBS' Spencer Tillman. Former OU athletes are often called on to provide color commentary during regional broadcasts due to their championship experience and athletics expertise.

IN THE MEDIA SPOTLIGHT

ROBIN SIEGFRIED & FAMILY STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COMPLEX

Oklahoma's weight training program is a pioneer in the development of strength and conditioning, and is a vital part of the Sooners' tradition of success. OU strength and conditioning coaches utilize their expertise along with a wide array of equipment and tests to produce national championship caliber athletes.

Evaluation, goal-oriented programs, supervision and state-of-the-art facilities help Oklahoma athletes become bigger, faster, stronger and more flexible. The Robin Siegfried & Family Strength and Conditioning Complex, located in the Barry Switzer Center, has 13,000 square feet to facilitate the intensive training of OU athletes. An additional facility, the Roy Williams Strength Training Facility, is available for workouts inside the Everest Training Center. The former Sooner football All-American and current Dallas Cowboy made the center possible through a gift to the University.

Jerry Schmidt, director of sports enhancement, says the complex is a state-of-the-art facility where athletes work closely with six full-time staff members. "Oklahoma recognizes the importance of conditioning," says Schmidt. "This facility is reflective of that commitment."

The objective of the strength and conditioning program is to ensure each student-athlete in every sport is provided with a sound in-season and off-season program. This program of activity includes strength, conditioning, flexibility and nutrition. A strength and conditioning coordinator for each sport is provided to assist athletes in reaching the highest possible training levels.

The OU strength and conditioning staff takes great pride in providing a very intensive program that helps maintain greater overall body strength and conditioning levels during the season. By maintaining strength in the muscles and connective tissues throughout the season, the potential for injuries decreases.

The off-season program is also extremely intensive. Speed, strength, power, agility, fundamentals and nutrition are addressed. The OU staff is committed to full compliance with NCAA rules concerning time allocation for student-athletes and voluntary workouts during off-season periods.

The staff's interaction with the nutritional consultants on campus is essential. The staff maintains an open channel of communication with the dining staff at the Wagner Dining Center. This interaction enables the strength and conditioning staff to ensure that OU athletes receive a winning edge with a sound nutrition program.

"Our goal is to get the student-athletes in their best condition," says Schmidt. "That condition will give Oklahoma an edge at the end of a game. Top of the line conditioning is what it takes to be a Sooner athlete. Running, lifting and good nutrition must be kept in a balance. All these components must be in place for an athlete to compete at the highest level."

Located at the south end of the Gaylord Family Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Barry Switzer Center houses administrative offices, the football locker room, the equipment room, the 8,000-square-foot Henry J. Freede Sports Medicine Facility and the 7,000-square-foot Touchdown Club Legends Lobby in addition to the Siegfried and Family Strength and Conditioning Complex.

STRENGTH AND MEDICAL TRAINING

HENRY J. FREEDE, M.D., SPORTS MEDICINE FACILITY

The Oklahoma Athletics Department feels a strong responsibility to help its athletes reach and maintain their optimum health and achieve conditioning goals. For this reason, OU has developed excellent training and conditioning programs to lessen the possibility of injuries. However, should injuries occur, the department is committed to a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Complete athletically-related medical services are provided to Oklahoma student-athletes by team physicians and OU's certified athletic trainers. The University of Oklahoma obtains the services of the best medical consultants available.

The base of operation for the Sooners' medical care is the state-of-the-art Henry J. Freede, M.D. Sports Medicine Center in the Barry Switzer Center.

Head athletic trainer Scott Anderson says the addition to the Barry Switzer Center has allowed the university to upgrade to a new edition of rehabilitation equipment that can best benefit the student-athletes.

From simple therobands to taping tables, the facility offers everything a school can have or hope to have. The Sooner training room is equipped to perform isokinetic joint evaluation for preventive medicine and for post-injury rehabilitation.

The therapy room is supplied with the latest modalities on the market.

"The addition of space is the greatest benefit," says Anderson. "This space allows for dedicated rehabilitation and consultation to the athletes. An option with the facility is the water rehabilitation area. The athlete stands in a pool of water that is adjusted to his or her own physical needs. Cameras are then placed where physicians can monitor the progress made by the athlete on his or her road to recovery."

A total team effort is the key to OU's efficiency in preventing, treating and rehabilitating injuries sustained by student-athletes. These measures keep Sooner athletes at their highest level of performance as they compete for championships.

"Sports medicine is a team effort," says Anderson. "The stated goal of athletic training at Oklahoma is, first of all, care for the student-athletes, thereby granting our sports a competitive advantage and ultimately greater esteem for the entire program."

"To that end we are blessed with a full complement of self-sacrificing medical professionals working on a regular basis with our athletic training staff."

GREAT EXPECTATIONS AND BEYOND

With one of the greatest winning traditions in intercollegiate athletics, the University of Oklahoma, its players, coaches and fans understand the meaning of "Great Expectations." OU hopes for and expects great things from its athletics teams -- and the athletes and coaches expect the same from themselves. Time and time again, the Sooners have delivered on this expectation: 26 national championships, more than 200 conference titles and more than 1,000 All-Americans.

The University of Oklahoma's goal is to provide first-class facilities and resources for all the programs and endeavors sponsored by the institution. OU Athletics captures so much attention and interest that it requires the help and support of all Sooners to continue the tradition that all have enjoyed. With that in mind, OU launched "Great Expectations...The Campaign for Sooner Sports" in 1999.

"Great Expectations - The Campaign for Sooner Sports," a recently completed fund-raising effort, was about the continuation of a proud championship tradition. It was a five-year campaign launched with an eventual goal of $100 million, making possible an extraordinary era in new athletics facilities that has led to unprecedented athletic and academic success for OU student-athletes.

Among the accomplishments made possible by Great Expectations' donors: an expanded, renovated and more beautiful football stadium; two completely new facilities for men's and women's basketball at Lloyd Noble Center; new or renovated facilities for baseball, softball, volleyball, wrestling, softball, tennis, soccer and track and field; new strength and conditioning and sports medicine centers and an indoor training center.

Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium

The $75 million expansion and renovation of OU's football stadium, completed in 2004, transformed a towering concrete structure into a beautiful facility featuring the brick and cast stone that characterize OU's historic buildings. The expansion added 8,000 seats, including 56 suites, on the east side. At the same time, the press box was remodeled and outfitted with several state-of-the-art features. This historical facility is the largest sports arena in the state, and following its recent expansion, now ranks among the 15 largest on-campus facilities in the nation.

Everest Training Center

Considered one of the premier indoor facilities in the country, the Everest Training Center is a 74,000-square-foot center that includes a full-size playing field, simulated stadium lighting, a complete scoreboard with play clocks, LED 40-yard timing devices and a ceiling that hangs 65 feet above the playing surface to allow for all kicking and throwing drills.

McClendon Center for Intercollegiate Athletics

While the football gameday facilities in the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium may be more familiar to OU supporters, the north side McClendon Center for Intercollegiate Athletics is one of the most vital areas for OU's entire athletics program as it is the center of student learning and athletics administration activities.

Robin Siegfried and Family Strength and Conditioning Complex

This 13,000-square-foot facility serves more than 500 athletes in OU's 21 sports. The state-of-the-art facility inside the Barry Switzer Center has been central to OU's success in recent years and helped develop OU's reputation as a pioneer in the strength and conditioning field.

Barry Switzer Center

A special feature is the Barry Switzer Center on the south side of the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, where OU's storied football history is displayed, media conferences are held and recruits are entertained. The center recently experienced a significant upgrade to reflect this success and to fully realize the original vision as an exhibit area focusing on OU's greatest victories and most successful coaching eras.

Henry J. Freede, M.D., Sports Medicine Facility

This 8,000-square-foot sports medicine facility within the Barry Switzer Center treats athletes from all 21 sports, ensuring the best possible health for OU student-athletes through preventative medicine and post-injury treatment and rehabilitation.

Fred & Mary Eddy Jones Foundation Red Room

The Red Room is where OU football players meet as a team or offensive/defensive units to watch motivational videos before each game. OU's offense and defense post their goals for each week, and the Sooner coach holds his post-game press conference in this area.

TOP-NOTCH FACILITIES

FAST TRACK

The John Jacobs Track was altered and re-surfaced in 2006 to include European Oval turns for a faster track. Other improvements include spectator seating for 2,000; new restrooms and concessions; and the installation of championship lighting.

SHINING STAR

The $75 million expansion and renovation of OU's football stadium, Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, transformed a towering concrete structure into a beautiful facility featuring the brick and cast stone that characterize OU's historic buildings.

Headington Family Tennis Center Expansion

The men's and women's tennis teams will compete in one of the finest indoor venues in the country in 2009. Highlights of the new, 55,000-square-foot facility include six air-conditioned courts, championship-quality lighting and surface, and approximately 375 chair-back seats for spectators, which are elevated between the courts. The programs opened a 12-court outdoor championship facility in 2001 during the Great Expectations campaign and was particularly notable because it was donations exclusively from tennis lettermen who made the new courts possible.

John Crain Field at the OU Soccer Complex

The University of Oklahoma Athletics Department and the soccer program enjoyed a $4.5 million expansion to the soccer stadium in 2006. In addition to a press box and a permanent grandstand, a multi-use building is located between John Crain Field at the OU Soccer Complex and the Headington Family Tennis Center at the corner of Chautauqua Avenue and Imhoff Road. The multi-purpose complex includes locker rooms, meeting and video rooms and offices for the student-athletes and coaches.

Softball Hitting Facility

The OU softball team broke ground on an indoor hitting facility in July 2008 that is scheduled for completion prior to the 2009 season. In 2002, the Robert E. Young and Family Softball Locker Room was added to the Softball Complex, giving the team a spacious and comfortable gathering place for preparation and relaxation. In 2003, the softball field was named in honor of retired softball coach and women's administrator Marita Hynes.

Baseball Practice Facility

With an estimated cost of $1 million, the OU baseball team will have an indoor hitting facility and practice infield added to L. Dale Mitchell Park prior to the 2009 season. The 5,160-square-foot facility will contain three full-size hitting/pitching lanes and is air conditioned and heated. Previous renovations to L. Dale Mitchell Park were completed in 2001 when the press box underwent state-of-the-art improvements including four suites and a press area, the Mike Treps Media Room. The facility originally opened in 1982.

John Jacobs Track and Field Complex

The project, which was completed in spring 2004, included a 25,000-square-foot building connecting the Mosier Indoor Practice Facility with the Everest Training Center. This new building includes track and field locker rooms, a sports medicine room and a video teaching room. The John Jacobs Track was altered and re-surfaced to include European Oval turns for a faster track and nine 48-inch wide lanes. Other improvements include upgrades of field event areas, placing them directionally north/south and east/west to take advantage of wind conditions; spectator seating for 2,000; new restrooms and concessions; and the installation of championship lighting.

Howard McCasland Field House

The Field House is one of OU's most historic buildings. Many OU alumni fondly recall the field house as the home of OU's basketball program, which it was until Lloyd Noble Center opened in 1975. In 2005, the Field House underwent a $6 million facelift that included a complete interior renovation comprised of a resanded and repainted floor with four efficient practice courts and chair-back seating that offers fans more comfort. In addition, the entire facility was repainted and improvements were made to the HVAC system, sound system, lighting and scoreboards. The Sooners have also enjoyed renovations done to the training room as well as an upgrade to both the volleyball and wrestling locker rooms.

Wrestling Practice Facility

Connected to the McCasland Field House, the Athletics Department launched a $2.4 million project in 2008. The bulk of the construction will include a $1.3 million addition to the Port Robertson Wrestling Center. The facility serves as the practice venue for the Sooner wrestling team.

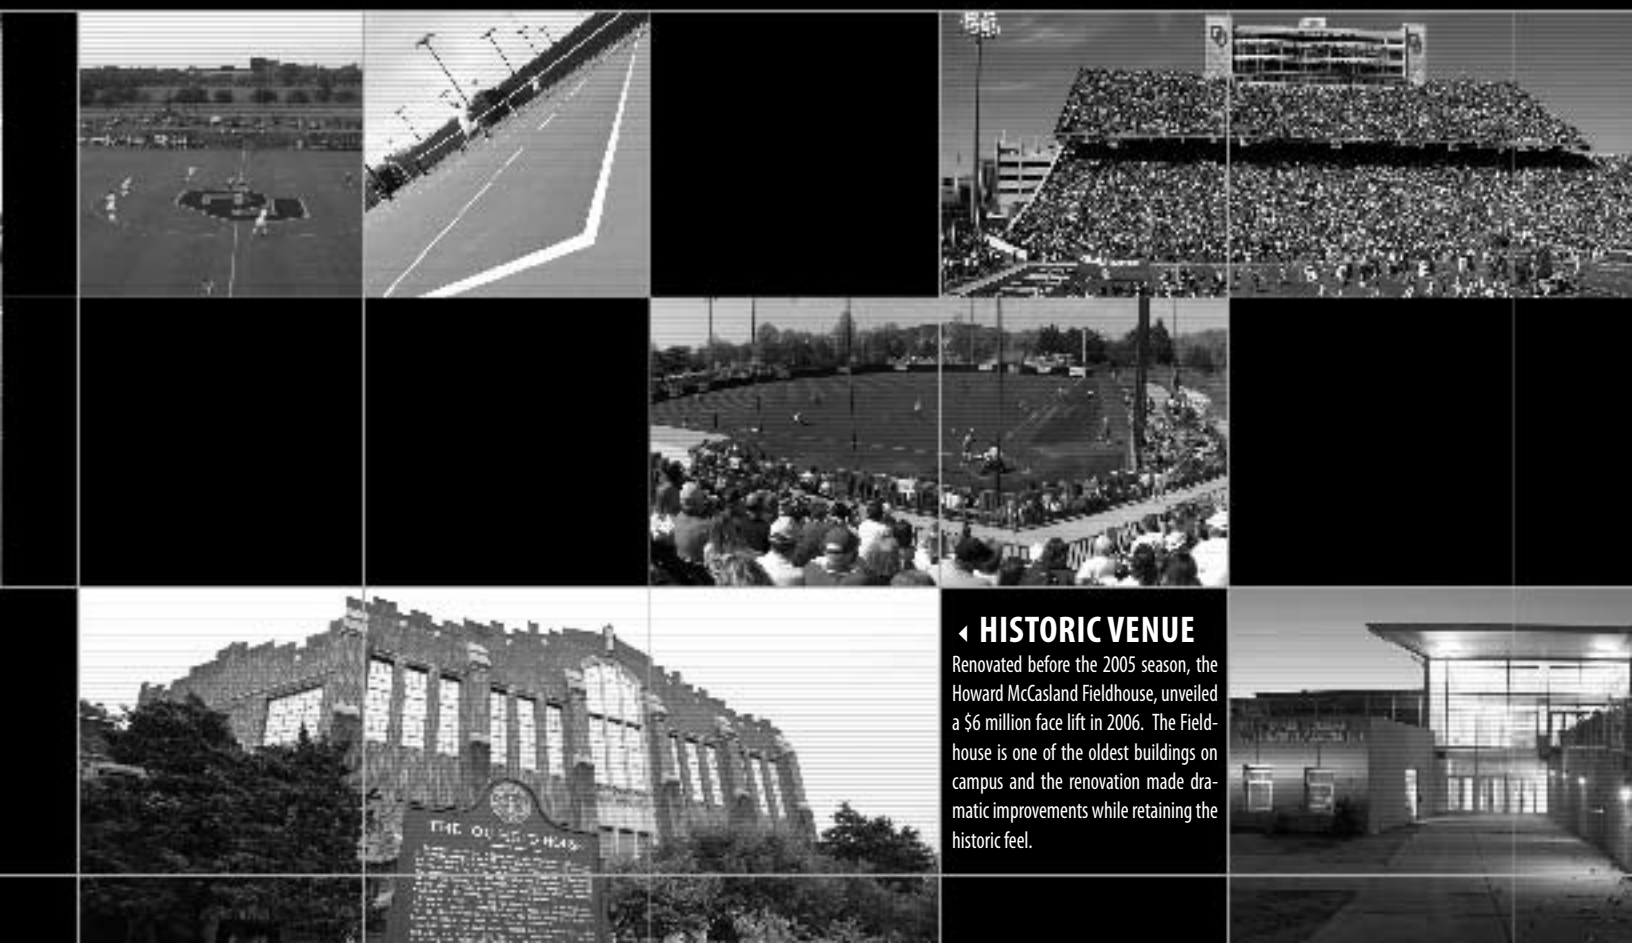

Mary Jane Noble Women's Basketball Center

In 1975, the Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation of Ardmore made the first million-dollar gift in OU history with its contribution to OU's campaign to build a multi-purpose arena. In 1999, the foundation made another gift to support the renovation of the original center, adding first-class matching facilities for the men's and women's basketball teams. The Lloyd Noble Center addition includes two new full-sized practice courts for the men's and women's basketball teams.

Bob and Ann Coleman Men's Basketball Center

The nearly 63,000-square-foot Lloyd Noble Center addition offers a matched set of men's and women's facilities, including full-sized practice courts, new team and coaches' locker rooms, training rooms and steam/spa/sauna rooms. Office facilities and conference rooms provide views of the practice courts as special features and a shared weight training facility was created. The Kerr-McGee Courtside Club gives fans a venue for special events.

Located in the heart of campus just north of Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Howard McCasland Field House provides a first-class training and competition venue for the OU volleyball and wrestling teams.

In 2005, the Field House underwent a $6 million face lift that included a complete interior renovation of a resanded and repainted floor with four efficient practice courts and chair-back seating that offers fans more comfort.

In addition, the entire facility was repainted and improvements were made to the HVAC system, sound system, lighting and scoreboards. The Sooners also enjoyed renovations done to the training room as well as an upgrade to both teams' locker rooms.

"The renovations are a signal to the Big 12 and the nation that the University of Oklahoma and its community are serious about Sooner volleyball," head coach Santiago Restrepo said.

"A large reason of why I came here is because of the support the volleyball program has at OU, Restrepo said. "The renovations are a great example of the dedication our university has in making Oklahoma volleyball a top-notch program. We will do our part to make sure that happens."

History

Originally constructed in 1928, the Field House was once the home of the men's basketball team. More than 5,000 fans were in attendance for the facility's first game as the Sooners beat the Kansas Jayhawks, 45-19.

Since its construction, the Field House has been home to numerous sports. In addition to the basketball programs, volleyball, women's and men's gymnastics and wrestling have all featured events here.

In addition to sporting events, the Field House has hosted several notable musicians and entertainers in its history. Oklahoma students have watched acts including Jimi Hendrix (1970), Bill Cosby (1968), Henry Mancini (1963), Sonny and Cher (1969), Nat King Cole (1956) and Duke Ellington (1956).

Howard McCasland

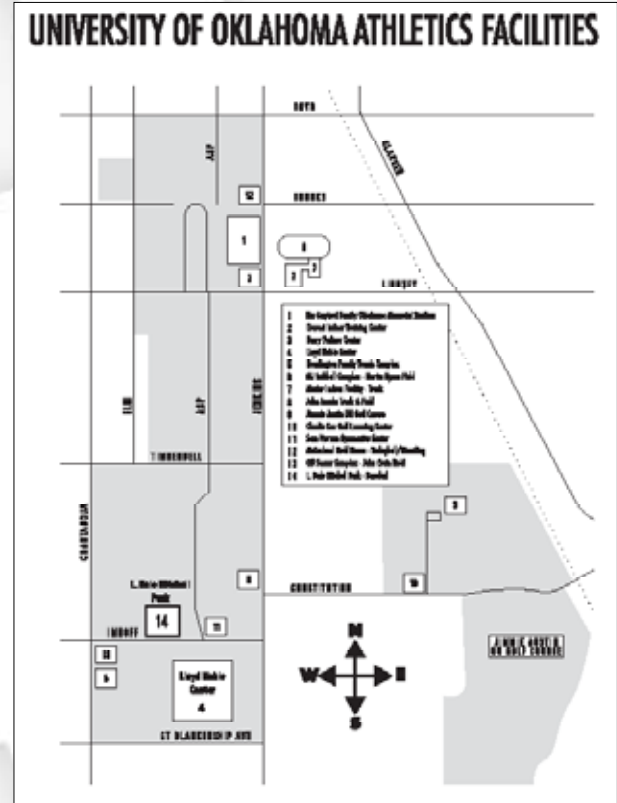

A former captain and center for the Oklahoma basketball team from 1914-16, McCasland was an outstanding player who local Sooner fans flocked to the gym to watch. During his senior campaign in 1916, McCasland totaled 407 points in the season which accounted for half of the team's entire points all year. The Field House is named in his honor.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference has established a consistent level of national success on the field and in the classroom as it enters its 13th season in 2008-09.

Since it began play in 1996-97, the Conference can boast 31 team crowns and over 385 individual NCAA Championships. The success continued during 2007-08 as Kansas captured the Big 12's first national title in men's basketball, while the league added 31 individual crowns.

Over the past four seasons a total of 12 NCAA trophies have been hoisted by Big 12 institutions, with at least one national crown won in all but one year for the Conference, including each of the past 11 seasons.

The Big 12 leads all conferences with five appearances in Bowl Championship Series title games. League squads have played for the football national championship five times in the last nine years with berths in 14 BCS games overall, including two in 2007. The Big 12 led all conferences with four teams ranked in the Top 10 in the final national polls a season ago. In addition, an all-time high eight league players earned consensus All-America recognition in 2007, more than any other conference.

In basketball, nine men's and women's teams have advanced to their respective Final Fours in the past seven seasons as the Big 12 continues its place among the elite intercollegiate athletic conferences. The six men's Final Four participants since 2002 is more than any conference. Numerous national honors have been won by basketball student-athletes during the league's history, with Michael Beasley (Kansas State), D.J. Augustin (Texas) and Courtney Paris (Oklahoma) the most recent to garner accolades as consensus All-America in 2007-08.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Big 12 student-athletes also do well in garnering national academic recognition. Sarah Pavan (Nebraska) was named Academic All-America of the Year in volleyball the past two seasons by ESPN The Magazine and College Sports Information Directors of America with a 4.0 grade-point average in Biochemistry. She also won the national academic honor presented for all sports in 2006-07 and was named recipient of the prestigious 2006-07 Honda-Broderick Award as Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year. She is the first athlete since the Big 12 was formed to earn the accolade.

In addition to his athletic accomplishments, Augustin was an Academic All-America First Team choice. In its history, the conference can boast of over 300 academic honorees, averaging more than 25 each season.

The Big 12 can boast of other stories that combine on and off the field success. Patience Knight (Texas Tech) was the recipient of the Honda Inspiration Award in 2008, given to an outstanding female college athlete who overcomes adversity to excel in her sport. She was diagnosed with a cancerous tumor in 2007, but rebounded to win All-America honors at the 2008 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships.

Competitive excellence, scholarship and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12 philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and Academic All-Big 12 squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons.

At the end of each academic year, the Conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsman of the Year awards.

Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 201 scholars have received over $1.2 million in postgraduate financial aid through the first 12 years of the program.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball.

The conference is made up of 12 institutions that have shared many traditional rivalries throughout their histories. Member schools include - Baylor University, University of Colorado, Iowa State University, University of Kansas, Kansas State University, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State University, University of Texas, Texas A&M University and Texas Tech University. The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 45 million people and television households in 18 of the top 100 markets within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 20 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national postseason competition. The winner of the Big 12 football championship game earns the league's berth into the prestigious Bowl Championship Series.

In the last several years the Big 12 has increased its bowl agreements and expanded television opportunities for all sports through contracts with ABC/ESPN, FSN and CBS College Sports. Most recently, the league renewed and expanded its multi-year arrangement with ABC/ESPN, Inc. The new contract begins in 2008-09.

In its first 12 years, the Conference has distributed more than $1 billion to its 12 member institutions.

The Big 12 staff administers to over 4,600 student-athletes in 21 sports. The conference is headquartered in Irving, Texas.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

A UNIVERSITY TOWN WITH A CHAMPIONSHIP SPIRIT

Norman was recently named by Money Magazine as No. 6 of America's Best Places to Live among "small" cities or locations with a population between 50,000 and 300,000.

Norman is an ever-changing city of nearly 100,000 residents. Located in the heart of the state, it has grown to become the third largest city in Oklahoma. Despite its continuous growth, it has maintained the spirit and serenity of a small close-knit community.

Since the Oklahoma landrush of 1889, Norman has grown into a popular and smart city. The spirit of Norman and its citizens is unwavering and uncompromising. While other towns were clamoring to become the state capital, Norman residents desired to have the first state university. When the first OU president got off the train and saw a prairie, he saw opportunity.

As home to the state's premier educational institution, Norman boasts an excellent quality of life and is a city that thrives on and celebrates the diversity of its community.

Legendary University of Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer called Norman "a university town with a championship spirit." Norman continually exhibits its love for sports by hosting numerous local and national athletic events.

In the last five years alone, Norman has served as host of the NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championship, an NCAA men's golf regional, NCAA softball regionals, NCAA men's and women's gymnastics regionals, NCAA women's tennis regionals, NCAA track and field regional and the NCAA women's basketball regionals. In addition, the Big 12 Conference Men's and Women's Tennis, Track and Field, Wrestling, Women's Golf, and Women's Gymnastics Championships were held in Norman.

Cultural activities are unlimited in Norman, making it the ideal backdrop for the University of Oklahoma. As home to people of all ethnic and educational backgrounds, the city has something to offer everyone. Norman is home to a variety of enriching events and attractions, including the Sooner Theater, which hosts a series of entertaining theatrical performances produced by locally-based talent and touring companies.

The city also showcases local and regional artists in its annual May Fair. In addition, through the university's School of Drama, School of Dance and the School of Music, stage productions are offered year round.

The Medieval Fair has become a springtime tradition in Norman as people from around the country converge on the city for one weekend each April to partake in a fascinating look back in time. Each year, an area park is transformed into a festival of sights, sounds and tastes straight from the Middle Ages. Knights joust, jesters entertain and story tellers spin tales of a magical time in history.

The $44 million Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History, a state-of-the-art facility designed to display a collection of historical and natural science items that trace the southwest's development since prehistoric times, opened in May 2000. History buffs will also enjoy the Cleveland County Historical House which holds exhibits relating to the development of this area of the state.

For art enthusiasts, the Fred Jones Jr. Memorial Art Center houses permanent collections, nationally and world-renowned traveling exhibits as well as a yearly student art show. The museum has recently added the Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionist paintings -- the single most important gift of art ever given to a U.S. public university.

Maintaining a progressive approach to the future while remembering its history, Norman continues to be a well-balanced community, proud to be the home of the University of Oklahoma.

NORMAN AND OKLAHOMA CITY

COOL

The average annual temperature in Norman is a cool 70 degrees. The area enjoys a temperate climate with mild winters and four distinct seasons with a warm spring and fall.

100,000

Norman is the third largest city in the state with nearly 100,000 residents. Despite its growth, the city nurtures and maintains its small, college town atmosphere.

RANKED NO. 6

Norman was recently ranked No. 6 of America's Best Places to Live by Money Magazine among "small" cities or locations with a population between 50,000 and 300,000.

Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma, is located just 18 miles from the Norman campus. It was the first city settled in the Land Run of 1889 because of its position as the center of the state. It is because of this central location that Oklahoma City has become known as the home of America's Western heritage. Whether adventure, history, culture or sports, Oklahoma City offers a variety of attractions and activities different from any other place in the country.

Oklahoma City was born on the afternoon of April 22, 1889, when the central portion of what is now Oklahoma was opened to settlement by presidential proclamation. Thousands crossed the borders of "unassigned lands" at the sound of gunfire at high noon. Never before or since has such a "run" occurred anywhere on the earth.

By the time the dust had settled on that historic day, many people had staked their claim at "Oklahoma Station," an area which was destined to become Oklahoma City, a leading city in America. In 1911, Oklahoma City officially became the capital after a statewide election moved the state seal from Guthrie.

Oklahoma City has become a haven for exciting sports action. It is home of an NBA team, two semi-professional sports teams and the host of the NCAA Women College Softball World Series and Big 12 Softball Championship. The Oklahoma RedHawks, 1996 American Association champions (then named the Oklahoma City 89ers), are the Triple-A baseball affiliate of the Texas Rangers. The team plays in the 13,066-seat AT&T Bricktown Ballpark, one of the plush venues in all of minor league sports. The ballpark served as host to a 2004 NCAA baseball regional and the 2005, 2006, 2007 and 208 Big 12 Baseball Championships.

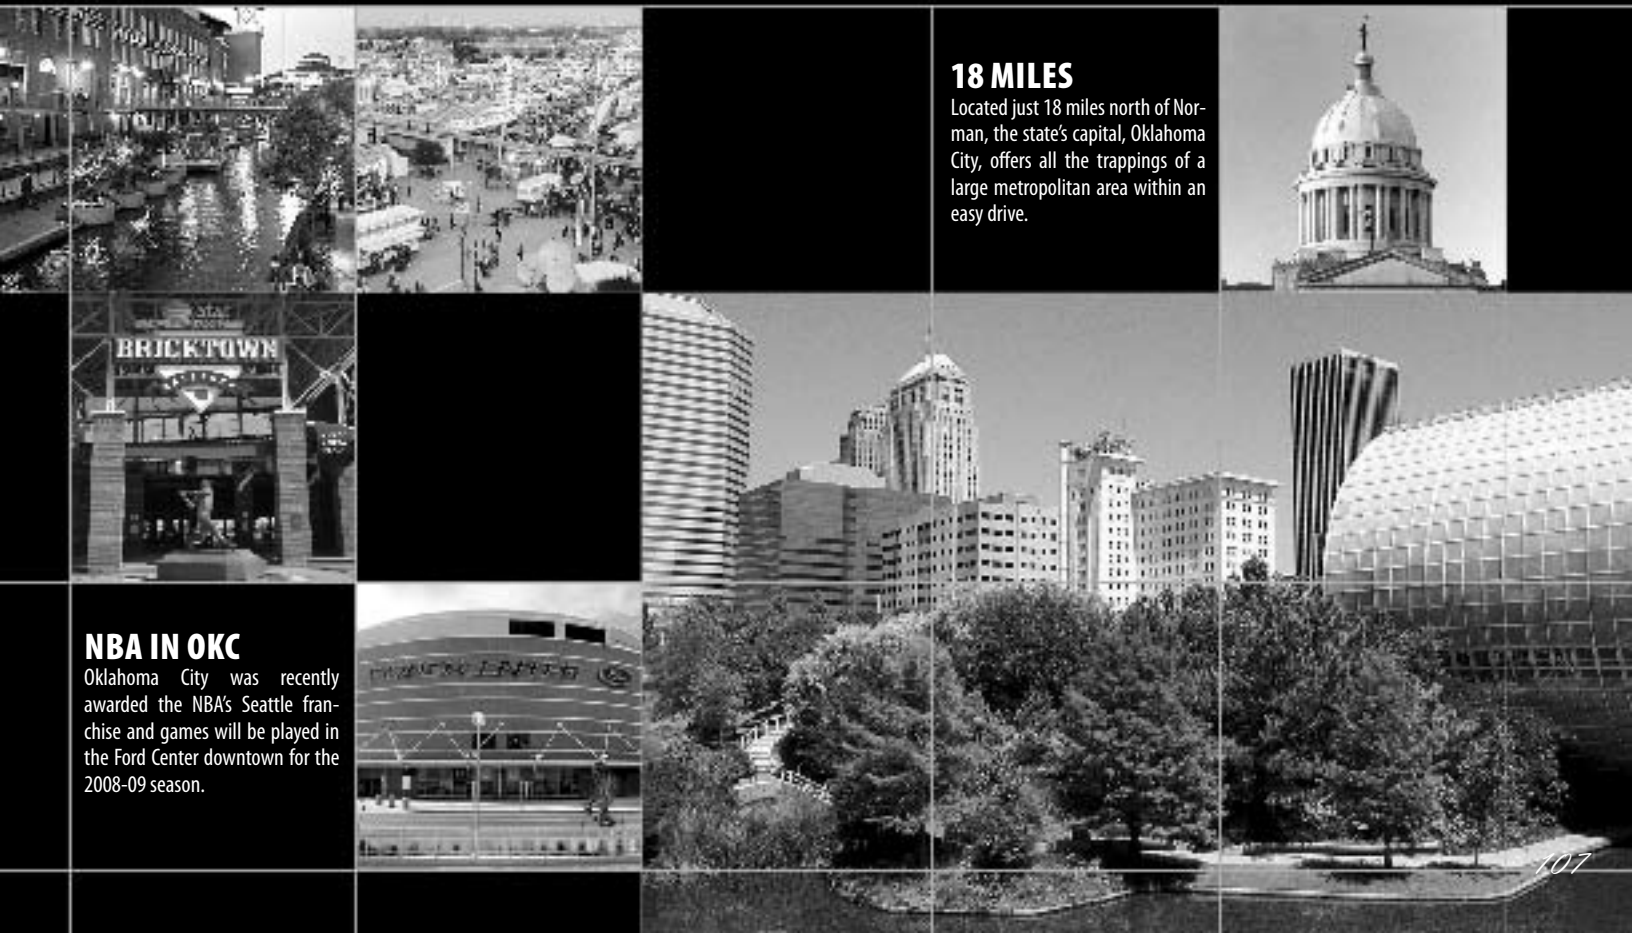

Hockey mania runs rampant with the recent success of the Central Hockey League's Oklahoma City Blazers. The Blazers won the CHL crown in 1996 and are yearly one of the league's best teams. In addition, the city has hosted numerous PGA and Senior PGA Tour events.

Tulsa

Tulsa, the state's second largest city, is located 100 miles to the northeast of Norman in the heart of Oklahoma's Green Country. Ask people to describe Tulsa, and you'll likely get many different answers. It was a city forever changed by the discovery of oil in 1901. It is home to art deco treasures and nationally renowned museums. Its African-American heritage left its mark, in both the business and music worlds. And it's a city of nostalgia and special memories for countless Americans due to its location on historic Route 66.

Tulsa is a cosmopolitan town that appeals to both young families and retirees. National touring exhibitions can be seen at the Philbrook Museum of Art, which was recently featured on the television program America's Castles. For great western art, check out the Gilcrease Museum, and music legends are commemorated at Oklahoma's Jazz Hall of Fame. Other unique attractions worth a stop include the Elsing Museum, Ida Dennie Willis Museum of Miniatures, Dolls & Toys, Tulsa Air and Space Center and the Fenster Museum of Jewish Art.

SOONERSPORTS.COM

OKLAHOMA ATHLETICS ON THE WEB

Oklahoma's official athletics site, SoonerSports.com, ranked in the top five across the board in CBS College Sports' rankings of the 213 school and conference sites in its network for the past year.

The University of Oklahoma, in conjunction with its multimedia rights partner, Sooner Sports Properties, signed on to become a partner in CBS College Sports Network, the industry leader for online networks. It operates Oklahoma's official athletics Web site, providing Sooner fans with the most in-depth coverage and interactive content of Oklahoma sports that has ever been available. The new and improved Web site, SoonerSports.com, launched on July 1, 2007.

The OU Athletics Department and CBS College Sports Network committed considerable research, planning and design resources in developing the new SoonerSports.com. OU is recognized as a leader in intercollegiate athletics and its official site follows in that tradition.

For many, the site serves as the front door to the Sooner experience. SoonerSports.com also provides an integral link between OU student-athletes, their families, coaches, Oklahoma students, fans, prospective student-athletes, alumni, media, donors, corporate partners, the University and peer institutions in the Big 12 Conference and the NCAA.

The site strengthens Oklahoma's commitment in bringing its fans the most extensive coverage of the Sooners direct from Norman. By utilizing the latest technology, including webcasts, podcasts, RSS feeds, wireless services and more, OU presents fans with unprecedented opportunities to access official Sooner news, features and multimedia.

In addition to Oklahoma All-Access, CBS College Sports Network launched a custom Web site with a variety of online features including an e-commerce store, photo galleries and CBS College Sports Network's exclusive GameTracker™ technology, which allows fans to follow live simulated game action, details and full play-by-play of their favorite Sooner sports.

SoonerSports.com will also receive CBS College Sports Network's industry-leading online and new media solutions, including access to new distribution platforms such as CBS2Go mobile and podcasting.

CBS College Sports Network is the leading digital and cable programming company dedicated to college sports. Connecting more fans to more college sports than any other company, its many platforms for programming distribution include CBS College Sports TV, televising regular-season and championship events for 35 men's and women's college sports; sportsline.com/cbscollegesports and its network of more than 215 official athletic sites; CBS College Sports Network All Access, broadband services providing live audio and video of more than 10,000 events annually; as well as satellite television and radio, in-flight entertainment, wireless networks and more. Further information is available at www.sportsline.com/cbscollegesports

Sooner Sports Properties is a division of Learfield Sports, which administers multimedia rights for nearly 35 collegiate institutions and associations including fellow Big 12 members Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas State, Missouri and Texas A&M. The Dallas-based company also secures marketing partnerships for the Black Coaches Association (BCA) and provides exclusive sports programming to more than 1,000 radio stations throughout the country.

Additionally, Team Services, LLC, a Learfield Sports company, specializes in venue naming rights, marketing research and sales consultation.
