POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Covering Practice

The Sooners practice regularly at the Howard McCasland Field House, located directly north of the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. Members of the media are asked to inform the athletics communications office when they are attending practice. All attendees are asked to stay off the court.

Credential Requests

Media credentials for the University of Oklahoma's home contests at McCasland Field House should be requested at least 24 hours prior to the event. Space is limited and credentials are given on a first-come, first-serve basis. Requests should be made to Cassie Gage at (405) 325-8372 or cassie@ou.edu.

Gameday Media Services

Weekly OU and Big 12 media releases are provided to media at home volleyball matches via each organization's website. Oklahoma uses StatCrew to provide box scores and play-by-play immediately following the completion of the match. After a brief team meeting, coaches and players are available for interviews following the match.

Interviews

Media members wishing to interview head coach Santiago Restrepo may reach him in his office by calling (405) 325-8364. Any requests for players should be directed to Cassie Gage at (405) 325-8372 or cassie@ou.edu.

Video Feeds

SoonerVision broadcasts the majority of Oklahoma sporting events live on Oklahoma All-Access. Oklahoma All-Access is the premium portion of SoonerSports.com and features exclusive access to audio, video and content related to Sooner athletics.

SoonerSports.com

Oklahoma's official athletics website, SoonerSports.com, ranked in the top five across the board in CBS College Sports' rankings of its school and conference sites in its network last year.

The University of Oklahoma, in conjunction with its multimedia rights partner, Sooner Sports Properties, signed on to become a partner in CBS College Sports Network, the industry leader for online networks. It operates Oklahoma's official website, providing Sooner fans with the most in-depth coverage and interactive content of Oklahoma sports that has ever been available.

The OU Athletics Department and CBS College Sports Network committed considerable research, planning and design resources into developing SoonerSports.com. OU is recognized as a leader in intercollegiate athletics and its official site follows that tradition.

For many, the site serves as the front door to the Sooner experience. SoonerSports.com also provides an integral link between student-athletes, their families, coaches, Oklahoma students, fans, prospective student-athletes, alumni, media, donors, corporate partners, the University and peer institutions in the Big 12 Conference and the NCAA.

The site strengthens Oklahoma's commitment in bringing its fans the most extensive coverage of the Sooners direct from Norman. By utilizing the latest technology, including webcasts, RSS feeds, wireless services and more, OU presents fans with unprecedented opportunities to access official Sooner news, features and multimedia.

OUR TIME IS NOW

OKLAHOMA'S EXPERIENCE LOOKS TO LEAD SOONERS DEEP INTO POSTSEASON DURING 2011 SEASON

The University of Oklahoma volleyball team reported to campus on August 8 to begin preseason practice. Practice got underway the next morning and the team opens the season on Friday, August 26 against SMU at 7 p.m.

In preparation for the upcoming campaign, SoonerSports.com sat down with Head Coach Santiago Restrepo for a two-part series to learn more about a team that advanced to the Sweet 16 just last season and returns five starters and its libero.

On his 2011 senior class...

"I am very grateful to [Barker, Boulavsky, Cowan and Higgins] for all they've done. They've meant a lot to this program. They've contributed to this program on and off the court. They have been with me through very tough personal times in my life. They've held the team together, and I'm very grateful for that."

On the makeup of this year's team...

"They're all very hard workers. They're all extremely gifted. They get along very well including the freshmen. It's going to be a good mesh. It's going to be great to see our seniors become good role models for our younger players. They're a fun group, too. Nothing is the same every day. You're always going to find something that is unique. They're just a good group of kids. They're intense when they need to be but they're also fun when they need to be. When it comes time to work, we get down to business. When it's time to have fun, we have fun."

On how last year's success affects this season...

"It's great to be the underdog when people don't expect much out of you. It's also great to be the team everyone wants to beat because of their previous success. That's why you play the match. That's where you want to be. You know every day people are going to give you their best performance and you have to respond. I don't shy away from anything. We weren't intimidated by Penn State's tradition and we went in there thinking we could win. You look at the scores of those sets, and it was close in the first two. We took something away from that and that's the important thing. It's recognizing how close you were to pulling off a huge upset. Our motto is why not us? We go in with mentality that we're going to bring it. Bring your best game every match and let's win. You want the other team to bring their best so you can beat the best."

On improvements the team can make...

"Every day you have to get better. Last year we put an emphasis on strong serving so we could give ourselves an advantage because we are great defenders. If we can take at least one of their offensive threats out we're going to be able to defend better. We have to be able to hit the ball smarter. We're not necessarily the tallest team out there but we can be very efficient on hitting around the block and setting up different shots. We have to be better blockers. We just have to deflect the ball in bounds. We did that last year, but we need to do a lot more of that this year."

On the non-conference schedule...

"We have several matches before we start conference which is probably the most we've played since I've been here. They're going to be difficult. We're bringing in teams that have beaten in the past and a team like SMU that's beaten us in the spring. Missouri State has been tough. Oral Roberts has international players that are good. Those players are very knowledgeable and have good fundamentals. It's tough to play teams like that. After that opening weekend, we turnaround and play Colorado State who has annually been one of the best teams in the country. We are throwing them in the fire the first four days of the season. We go to Miami, a team that was selected to win the ACC. Auburn is an upcoming team from the SEC that got in the tournament last year. Florida A&M also has a lot of international players. Cincinnati is another team on our schedule that's tough. They've finished in the top three of the BIG EAST. We scheduled those teams to have a strong non-conference schedule."

On the Big 12...

"The Big 12 is a wide open race. It's a tough league but one win could turn the tide for a team. You have to bring it every night because you never know. The pressure is on every single team. We have to play our best to win every night. We're not a team that can afford to take a break. We have to come out on all cylinders and play our best."

On the setters...

"Brianne (Barker) is a very good leader. She is the one that has to be able to make our other players better. She has to find a way to do that. We're going to have a chance to give the freshmen a chance to play and she has to figure out a way to make them better. She does a very good job of that. She has to get a lot more touches on blocking. She has to have the mentality of defending. She has very good defense. She has controlled our tempo and offense from the get-go so we're extremely confident she'll do a terrific job this year."

"Kylie (Cowan) has done a tremendous job for us on the second team. She will be someone that can give us valuable minutes on the right back defending and serving. She has a very strong serve which is what we need in that position and she also has very good hands in case Bri has to defend the first ball."

"We have two freshmen that are also setters (Kaitlyn Drawe and Caroline Weir). They'll do some good work for us. They're gifted but there's a lot of work ahead for them as far as location, chemistry with the team, getting stronger, faster and jumping higher. We have four people listed as setters that will contribute especially in practice and that's key."

On the attackers...

"We have Caitlin (Higgins) who is as healthy as she's ever been. She passes the ball very well for us. She's very important for us. She has a very good connection with Brianne (Barker). That's going to be very key. Morgan (Reynolds) can hit from either the right or left side and that's something that's very unique. She's a left-handed hitter and she's unique in our system because we can move her one way or the other depending on what you want to do. Kayla (Rodriguez) is the strongest she has been. She's worked extremely hard over the summer to put some muscle on. She's jumping a little higher too. She'll be another one waiting in the wings to be able to give us valuable minutes. She's gifted and a very hard hitter and very good defender."

"Tara (Dunn) reaches high and her point of contact is pretty high, probably higher than any of our outside hitters, but she's raw considering she hasn't played at this level yet. We'll see how she does. She's also a very good passer. She will be up to the challenge."

"Suzy (Boulavsky) is different because she's left-handed and playing on the right side. Not everyone has that. Both Morgan and Suzy give us that but they're two totally different players which makes it hard for other teams to adjust to because they don't see it as much. The right side is natural to them because it opens the court and they can see the set easier. It makes it hard to block because you don't see a lefty too many times. Suzy has a large repertoire of shots. She can hit the ball hard but she mixes it up with roll shots and tips down the line, deep. She has a very good sharp angle. She is very effective with what she does."

On the middle blockers...

"Sallie (McLaurin) is really talented in transition. She gets off the net as fast as she can, to the ball as fast as she can and off the floor as fast as she can. That's unique because middle blockers don't usually move that quickly after they go up and block, coming off the net and then going for a hit. She's very good. Then we have Carlee (Roethlisberger). She's a gifted athlete that jumps high and hits the ball high. She's going to have to get some reps with Brianne (Barker). Hopefully, they'll click. She could give us some minutes. Grace (Whitley) reminds me a lot of Sallie in how she comes off the net and hits really fast. She's really fast and a very good jumper."

On the defensive specialists...

"I think they're a big reason why we went to the Sweet 16. If we didn't have Maria (Fernada), Eden (Williams), Mindy (Gowen) and even Brianne (Barker) and Caitlin (Higgins) playing defense the way they did we wouldn't have made it that far. They all have the little things they do that are very good. Maria is good at passing. She passes better than anyone I've coached here. Mindy is quick to coverage. Eden is good at reading the offense and being at the right place. She also does a good job of digging balls and chasing balls. They're all well-rounded players, not just one dimensional. In practice, they don't let the ball drop. They make it exciting. That's what you need in practice. Mindy has a very good short serve that gives teams trouble. They are getting a very good dig-to-kill percentage."

SANTIAGO RESTREPO

Head Coach
Eighth Season

Entering his eighth season as the head coach at the University of Oklahoma, Santiago Restrepo has brought the program to new heights. Pairing his international recruiting with his hard-working, blue collar coaching style, Restrepo has made a name for Oklahoma within the volleyball community.

The program felt Restrepo's impact as soon as he arrived on campus from his previous coaching stop at Southern Mississippi. In his first season at the helm of the Sooner program, he led the 2004 OU squad to a 12-17 record. No Sooner squad had produced a better record since the 1997 squad that reached the NCAA Tournament.

While the 2004 season caught many people's eye, nobody would predict what would happen two years later as Restrepo led the Sooners to the best season in school history. The 2006 season broke plenty of OU records and sparked momentum for the 2007 season.

The history-making 2006 and 2007 seasons were remarkable, considering they followed a 2005 season that saw the Sooners finish 7-22.

However, Restrepo was getting the pieces in place in 2005 for the historic next year as his recruiting skills shined with the addition of junior college transfer Eliane Santos. In her junior season, Santos made her mark on Big 12 volleyball, finishing in the top five in the conference in blocks and kills and was named one of Collegiate Volleyball Update's top-five blockers in the country.

Restrepo earned Big 12 and Regional Coach of the Year honors and was recognized by CVU.com as its National Coach of the Year as he led the Sooners to the best one-year turnaround in Big 12 history. Behind Restrepo's leadership, the Sooners recorded the best winning percentage in school history with a 28-6 record (.824) and finished a program-best second in the Big 12 Conference race (17-3).

Restrepo's successful 2006 season included OU's first-ever win over Texas in the series history as well as entry into the 2006 NCAA Tournament for only the fourth time in school history and the program's second Sweet 16 trip. Oklahoma finished the season as one of the best in the country with a No. 12 final ranking, its highest in history.

The Oklahoma players also felt the presence of Restrepo, individually, as all five seniors of the 2006 class earned All-Big 12 recognition while Joanna Schmitt and Santos became the second and third All-Americans in school history.

OU did not disappoint in 2007 either. After being picked ninth in the preseason coaches' poll, the Sooners advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season. It also marked the second time in OU history that the Sooners made back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

Senior outside hitter Sarah Weiland represented OU on the All-Big 12 honorable mention team while freshman Francie Ekwerekwu was named to the All-Big 12 freshman team. For their efforts in the classroom, five Sooners earned Academic All-Big 12 honors and three were named Academic All-District.

In 2008, he coached Brianne Barker and Caitlin Higgins to All-Big 12 Freshman team honors. Higgins became the first Oklahoma player to earn the Sports Imports/American Volleyball Coaches Association Division I National Player of the Week on Nov. 4.

After losing his youngest son to leukemia prior to the start of the 2009 season, Restrepo returned to lead his team back to the NCAA Championship for a third time in five years. The Sooners finished fourth in the Big 12 with an overall mark of 18-12 and 11-9 in league play. Sophomore Suzy Boulavsky was named to AVCA All-Central Region honorable mention. Barker and Ekwerekwu were named honorable mention All-Big 12.

Restrepo's youngest son, Javier Santiago, passed away from leukemia in July 2009 at the age of four. To find out what you can do to help promote childhood cancer awareness, visit The Children's Hospital at OU Medical Center.

The 2010 Sooners made the NCAA Championship, marking the fourth time in five years OU has advanced to the postseason. Oklahoma was awarded its first-ever first and second round host site and reached the Sweet 16 for the third time in program history.

The season was highlighted by a 23-11 overall mark and third-place finish in conference play at 13-7. Freshman Sallie McLaurin became the first Oklahoma player to be named Big 12 Freshman of the Year and was the fifth named to the all-freshman team. Barker and Boulavsky were also named to the All-Big 12 first team. Barker earned first team All-Central Region honors from the AVCA, while Boulavsky earned honorable mention recognition.

Boulavsky also became the program's first Academic All-American after being named to the ESPN/College Sports Information Directors of America third team.

Restrepo was named the fourth head coach in OU volleyball history on January 26, 2004. During the search process, OU Athletics Director Joe Castiglione was set on making a program-changing hire that fit perfectly into the values of the university.

The then-reigning Conference USA Coach of the Year, Restrepo left Southern Mississippi to fulfill a dream of coaching in the Big 12. In Restrepo's final season at Southern Miss, he led his 2003 team to a program-best 27-6 record.

That squad reeled off three winning streaks of at least six matches, including one eight-win string, the longest in school history. Three Golden Eagle players garnered All-Conference USA honors during Restrepo's three-year tenure, including two in his final season. He left Southern Miss with a conference record of 52-40 (.565) and an overall mark of 127-72 (.638).

Perhaps the most remarkable part of the Golden Eagles' 27-win season is that it came just two years after a nine-win campaign. His first season with Southern Miss, 2001, was difficult by all accounts. The team went 9-19 and finished 11th in Conference USA. One recruiting class later, his 2002 team improved to 16-15 and finished the conference season in eighth place. The team was sold on Restrepo's coaching plan and tremendous success was around the corner in 2003.

Prior to coaching at Southern Miss, Restrepo served three seasons (1998-2000) as an assistant coach at Saint Louis University under Marilyn Nolen. Restrepo brought a tough training regimen to the Billiken program in 1998, and his dedication and work sparked an immediate improvement.

That year, Saint Louis posted its fourth best single-season winning percentage in school history at 21-7 (.750). In 2000, he helped the Billikens to 23 victories, the most since 1996.

A native of Bogota, Colombia, Restrepo served as the women's head coach at East Stroudsburg (Pa.) University from 1994-97.

He led the Warriors to a 21-11 record and a semifinal finish in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) in his first season in the league. East Stroudsburg posted its best record in school history with a 32-2 mark in 1996. For his team's efforts, Restrepo was named PSAC Coach of the Year. During his tenure, he led ESU to a 75-32 (.735) overall record.

A former NCAA Division I All-American at East Stroudsburg, Restrepo was also a four-time all-conference selection. He earned team Most Valuable Player honors all four years and was the co-winner of the Senior Athlete Award in 1986. He was inducted into the East Stroudsburg Hall of Fame in 2004.

Following his collegiate career, Restrepo played one season professionally in France and returned to the United States where he played on the American Volleyball Players Pro Beach Tour.

He earned a 3A player rating on the AVP tour and had the opportunity to play against some of the giants of professional beach volleyball, including Karch Kiraly, Sinjin Smith, Randy Stoklos and Kent Steffes.

Highly involved in the international circuit and USA Volleyball, Restrepo served as co-head coach of one of two USA Volleyball under-22 select teams that toured Argentina in June 2005 and 2006.

Restrepo and his wife, the former Heidi Nichols, have two sons, Diego Ignacio and Javier Santiago.

Restrepo's youngest son, Javier Santiago, passed away from leukemia in July 2009 at the age of four. To find out what you can do to help promote childhood cancer awareness, visit The Children's Hospital at OU Medical Center.

KELLY FILES

Associate Head Coach

Eighth Season

When Santiago Restrepo accepted the head coaching position at the University of Oklahoma, the first thing he did was ensure that Kelly Files would join him in Norman. Files played under Restrepo at Southern Miss and was key in the emergence of the Golden Eagles as a Conference USA and regional power.

Files is in her eighth season at Oklahoma and her responsibilities with the Sooner program include recruiting, conditioning, on-the-floor coaching and administrative work. She was promoted to associate head coach in July 2011.

In 2009, Files was honored by the American Volleyball Coaches Association as the inaugural recipient of the Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year award.

Files was nominated for the award following an 11-month span in which Restrepo's youngest son, Javier, suffered a relapse of leukemia. During this time, she took on additional staff responsibilities so Restrepo could be with his family.

Files served as acting head coach for the final two matches of the 2008 season as Restrepo's son was about to undergo a second transplant operation. She quietly continued to carry these duties into the summer as the Restrepo family dealt with the passing of Javier in July 2009.

In 2003, Files accepted her first full-time coaching position at her alma mater, Southern Miss, where she had previously served as a graduate assistant.

Following an outstanding playing career at Southern Miss, Files finished her career ranked among the top 10 in several statistical categories. She was a four-year starter and letterwinner and led the team in kills, service aces and blocks her final two seasons. During her playing career, she was named to several all-tournament teams.

Files received her bachelor's degree in exercise science in May 2002 and completed her master's degree in sports administration in December 2004.

Files was a three-year letterwinner in volleyball for Coach Patty McWilliams at Blue Springs South High School in Blue Springs, Mo. She was named all-state, all-conference and all-district for three straight years.

The three-year All-Kansas City Area performer was named "Player of the Year" in 1997, and was selected to participate in the Kansas City All-Star Volleyball Game.

Files, along with her husband, Brandon, has a stepson, Brandon.

SAM OJIE
Assistant Coach
Fifth Season

Fifth-year Sooner assistant coach Sam Ojie came to Norman after serving in the same capacity for eight years at Tulane, UCF and Georgia. In addition to Ojie's coaching duties at Oklahoma, he works with on and off-campus recruiting as well as scouting and match preparation.

As an assistant on the Georgia staff in 2006, Ojie worked with the outside hitters. Under his direction, outside hitter Maria Taylor finished second among all SEC players with a 4.52 kills per set average.

Prior to Georgia, Ojie spent two years with UCF (2004-05) which included a stint as interim head coach in 2004 as Golden Knight head coach Meg Colado was on maternity leave for all but two matches of the season. As the interim head coach, Ojie led two Central Florida players to All-Atlantic Sun honors.

Ojie began his coaching career with a five-year stay at Tulane from 1999-2003. While an assistant for the Green Wave, Ojie led four hitters to All-Conference USA honors. In addition, the 2002 Green Wave squad collected 226 service aces, the most since 1992 for Tulane. The Green Wave averaged 15.33 kills per game with Ojie on staff and the team's hitting percentage increased 25 points during his time in Louisiana.

Before joining Tulane's staff, Ojie played for Hainaut Volley of Valenciennes, which is a professional club team in France, from 1996-99. Ojie led his Hainaut squad in 1998 to a Division III title, thanks to his offensive and blocking skills. Suiing up for Mizuno Mallory in London from 1994-96, Ojie led his team to an undefeated record for two straight seasons.

Ojie's pro career began as a player for the Ivory Coast Abidjan University Club in 1992, where the local media recognized him as the team's most outstanding player.

Ojie, a native of Nigeria who is fluent in three languages, graduated from the Command Second School in 1985 and then earned his bachelor of arts degree at Tulane University. Ojie also received his associate's degree in applied business while at Tulane.

NICKI TRIBBLE

Director of Operations
Fifth Season

Nicki Tribble joined the Oklahoma volleyball program in 2006 after serving as an assistant coach at UNC Charlotte. Tribble also had a two-year term as an assistant at her alma mater, Southern Miss.

Tribble is very familiar with the Oklahoma coaches as she played under head coach Santiago Restrepo at Southern Miss and is the sister of current OU assistant Kelly Files, a former Southern Miss teammate.

Her primary responsibilities include handling OU's team travel arrangements while assisting with on-campus recruiting, alumni contact, booster development, summer camps and administrative duties. She is director of the Oklahoma Elite Volleyball Club.

As an assistant at UNC Charlotte, Tribble was instrumental in leading the 49ers to their highest win total since 1994 as the squad also advanced to its second straight Atlantic-10 Tournament. Tribble served as the first assistant and was the recruiting coordinator for the 49ers and worked with outside hitters and liberos. As an assistant at Southern Miss, Tribble's duties included recruiting, on-court coaching and conditioning as well as team travel, scouting, fundraising and video exchange.

In her playing days, she was named to Southern Miss' All-30 Volleyball Team and led the Golden Eagles to the most wins in school history with a 26-7 record in 2003. She topped the team in kills and ranked third in aces that same year. She recorded 1,034 kills and 929 digs in her career and ranks in the school's all-time Top 15 in kills, aces, digs and attempts. An academic standout, the President and Dean's List honoree was also a CoSIDA Academic All-District second team selection.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Tribble is a 2003 graduate of Southern Miss and completed her master's degree in sports administration/management in 2005.

DAVID L. BOREN

University President

David L. Boren, who has served Oklahoma as governor and U.S. senator, became the thirteenth president of the University of Oklahoma in November 1994. He is the first person in state history to have served in all three positions.

Boren is widely respected for his academic credentials, his longtime support of education, and for his distinguished political career as a reformer of the American political system. A graduate of Yale University in 1963, Boren majored in American history, graduated in the top one percent of his class and was elected Phi Beta Kappa. He was selected as a Rhodes Scholar and earned a master's degree in politics, philosophy and economics from Oxford University, England, in 1965.

In 1968, he received a law degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where he was on the Law Review, elected to the Order of the Coif, and won the Bledsoe Prize as the outstanding graduate by a vote of the faculty.

As Oklahoma's governor from 1974 through 1978, Boren promoted key educational initiatives that have had an enduring impact on Oklahoma. Established during his tenure were the Oklahoma Arts Institute, the Scholar-Leadership Enrichment Program, and the Oklahoma Physicians Manpower Training Program, which provides scholarships for medical students and medical personnel who commit to practice in underserved rural areas. Also, the first state funding for Gifted and Talented classes was provided in 1976 and, from 1976 through 1978, Oklahoma ranked first among all states in the percentage increases of funding for higher education.

One of Boren's most far-reaching projects in promoting quality education at all levels is the Oklahoma Foundation for Excellence, which he founded in 1985. The foundation recognizes outstanding public school students and teachers and helps establish private local foundations to help give academic endowment grants to local public schools. As a senator, he was the author of the National Security Education Act in 1992, which provides scholarships for study abroad and for learning additional languages, as well as legislation to restore the tax deductibility of gifts of appreciated property to universities in 1993.

Boren, also a former state legislator, spent nearly three decades in elective politics before becoming the president of the University of Oklahoma. Boren was the youngest governor in the nation when he served from 1974 to 1978. Known as a reformer, Boren campaigned with a broom as his symbol. During his term, he instituted many progressive programs, including conflict-of-interest rules, campaign-financing disclosure, stronger open meeting laws for public bodies, more competitive bidding on state government contracts, and reform of the state's prison system, including expanded education programs for first-time offenders and the largest expansion of the work-release program in state history.

During his time in the U.S. Senate from 1979 to 1994, Boren served on the Senate Finance and Agriculture Committees and was the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. From his days as a state legislator and governor of Oklahoma to Washington, Boren carried a commitment to reform, leading numerous efforts to make government work better for American citizens. As chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, he strengthened oversight of secret government programs and reformed the procedures for Presidential notice of such programs to Congress.

For more than 10 years, he led the fight for congressional campaign finance reform and for legislation discouraging administration and congressional staff from cashing in on government experience and contacts by becoming lobbyists. In addition, he introduced legislation seeking to limit gifts and travel subsidies that government workers, including members of Congress, can receive from lobbyists. Boren also chaired the special 1992-93 Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress, which produced proposals to make Congress more efficient and responsive by streamlining congressional bureaucracy, reducing staff sizes and reforming procedures to end legislative gridlock.

Boren left the U.S. Senate in 1994 with an approval rating of 91 percent after being reelected with 83 percent of the vote in 1990, the highest percentage in the nation in a U.S. Senate contest in that election year.

Boren served from 1988 to 1997 as a member of the Yale University Board of Trustees. His university experience also includes four years on the faculty of Oklahoma Baptist University, where he was chairman of the Department of Political Science and chairman of the Division of Social Sciences. In 1993, the American Association of University Professors presented Boren with the Henry Yost Award as Education Advocate of the Year.

In April 2004, Boren received the Mory's Cup from the Mory's Association at Yale University. In making the presentation to Boren it was noted that he was the first Yale graduate in the university's history extending over three centuries to have served as a Governor, U.S. Senator and President of a major university.

Under Boren's leadership, the University of Oklahoma has developed and emerged as a "pacesetter university in American public higher education," with 20 major new programs initiated since his inauguration. They include establishment of the Honors College, the Charles M. Russell Center for the Study of Art of the American West, a new expository writing program for freshmen modeled on the program at Harvard, an interdisciplinary religious studies program, the Artist-in-Residence Program, the International Programs Center, and the Faculty-in-Residence Program putting faculty family apartments in student residence halls. The Retired Professors Program has been started, bringing 50 retired full professors back to the University to teach freshmen.

The number of new facilities started or completed on the campus during the Boren years has matched the explosion in new programs. Since 1994, almost $1 billion in construction projects have been completed or are under way on OU's three campuses. Among the largest of the recent projects are the $18.7 million renovation and expansion of historic Holmberg Hall, home of music and dance programs; the $67 million National Weather Center; the $19 million addition to the Michael F. Price College of Business; the $17 million Gaylord Hall for journalism and mass communication; the $27 million Stephenson Research and Technology Center; and the $83.5 million stadium project. The Health Sciences Center has a new Student Union, and the new $24 million Stanton L. Young Biomedical Research Center.

Presidential Travel Scholarships, students from 111 countries on campus, more reciprocal international exchange agreements than any other university and the new International Programs Center are all making OU more international. The new Honors College helps to assure that no students need to leave Oklahoma to find an educational experience to match their potential.

In 1995, Boren launched the "Reach for Excellence" fundraising campaign with a five-year goal of $200 million, which was twice as large as any fundraising drive in Oklahoma history. The drive exceeded $500 million, raising OU into the top 15 public universities in the United States in private endowment per capita. Since 1994, endowed professorships have increased from 100 to 560 and the OU donor base has grown from 18,000 to more than 125,000 friends and alumni. During the first 10 years of Boren's tenure over $1 billion in private gifts were donated to the university.

Above all, the Boren years have been marked by an emphasis on putting students first. There is not a university president in the country that is more committed to students as his number one priority. He teaches a freshman-level course in political science each semester and is one of the few presidents of major universities to teach.

Boren is married to Molly Shi Boren, a former judge and English teacher. Mrs. Boren is President Emeritus of the Oklahoma Arts Institute, which provides education programs in nine arts disciplines for high school students from across the state who are gifted in the arts. Molly Boren has two degrees from the University of Oklahoma, a master's degree in English and a Juris Doctorate from the OU College of Law. A native of Seminole, Boren has two children, Carrie Christine Boren, an Episcopal minister, and David Daniel Boren, who has served as a member of the United States Congress from Oklahoma. Devoting much of his life to public service, Boren drew from the example of his parents, the late Congressman Lyle H. Boren and Christine Boren.

JOE CASTIGLIONE

Athletics Director

Renaissance – A rebirth or renewal

The word “renaissance” has often been used to describe the University of Oklahoma since the arrival of David L. Boren as its 13th president. It’s no accident then that the same term could be used to describe the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and its leader, Joe Castiglione. Just as Boren has transformed the university community that the department is an integral part of, Castiglione, with the support of Boren and OU’s Board of Regents, has done the same thing with the athletics department, easily one of the most recognized representatives of the state’s flagship for higher education.

A department with a long tradition of excellence, there are some who would argue that the past 13 years represent the best of the best. With seven national championships and 44 conference titles produced in his tenure, it would be hard to dispute that. A place where competitive dreams come true and academic goals are the expectations, not the exceptions, has been created at OU. Through his leadership and the support of the University’s administration, there is a department-wide commitment, involving student-athletes, coaches and staff, to that standard.

The 11th director of athletics at OU, Castiglione arrived on the Sooners campus in 1998 and what he found was nothing like what you would see today. He made changes, some big and other no so, and, in the process, created a team of administrators, coaches and support staff who have built a climate that creates lofty goals, high standards and a commitment to ethical behavior that is second to none.

The emphasis has been and will always be on OU’s 500-plus student-athletes who have flourished in the atmosphere, creating new levels of excellence in competition and in the classroom only to raise the bar in succeeding years. Their performances enhance the belief shared by Castiglione, the department’s staff and the university family that the best is yet to come.

Proof of the overall excellence of the program can be demonstrated by the annual Learfield Director’s Cup rankings. The Sooners broke into the top 10 for the first time in school history at the conclusion of the 2010-11 academic year. That performance came after the department finished in the top 30 in 10 of the previous 12 years, a sustained pattern of excellence not seen before in the history of one of the nation’s premier intercollegiate athletics departments.

For Castiglione, though, it’s not just about the championships and trophies. The victories that he celebrates with his Sooners include graduation rates that continue to climb, record-setting grade point averages and academic honors. The true measure of achievement for Castiglione and, by extension, the department’s coaches and staff, is measured in the success of the student-athletes in relation to the department’s mission statement “Inspiring champions today . . . Preparing leaders for tomorrow”

Since arriving at OU in 1998 after an outstanding administrative career at Missouri, Castiglione has insisted that daily and long-term decisions be made in a financially responsible manner. The result of that commitment has helped the department close the books in the black in each of the last 13 years, making it one of the few Division I programs which remain totally self-sustaining. His understanding of how the department fits into the University’s academic mission led to a decision in June 2009 to increase the direct support provided by the department on an annual basis to $4 million dollars. Through direct and indirect support, OU Athletics, under Castiglione’s leadership, provides more than $7 million annually to OU’s Academics Budget. Facility improvement and construction has been carried out at a record pace and Castiglione takes pride to point out that those improvements have all been paid for with private money.

Castiglione is quick to give full credit to the student-athletes and coaches, the staff, OU President David L. Boren, the OU Board of Regents, the donors and the fans for the success experienced during his tenure. It was that commitment to a team approach emphasis that was one of the many qualities that the search committee recognized when they recommended Castiglione to university administration in 1998.

In recognition of the performance of OU's teams on the field and in the classroom, of the fiscal stability created during his tenure, the dramatic increases in donor giving, facility construction and renovations, and the cutting-edge programs that the department has begun during his tenure, Castiglione was named National Athletic Director of the Year in May 2009 by the Sports Business Journal.

That award was one of several earned by Castiglione and the department. The 2007 PRISM Award winner, presented by the School of Sports Management at the University of Massachusetts, OU was just the second Division I winner and all of the programs recognized by the selection panel were started under Castiglione's leadership with the full support of university administration.

His peers have honored him for the department's achievements as well. In October 2004, the Bobby Dodd Foundation named him Athletics Director of the Year. In 2003, he was inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators Hall of Fame. In June 2001, he received the General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award for lifetime achievement from the All-American Football Foundation. The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named him Central Region AD of the Year in 2000.

The achievement that may bring him the most pride, though, came in May 2007 when he completed a master's of education degree from OU. To understand the need for education and lifelong learning, OU's student-athletes just have to look at their AD who started and completed his master's degree while running the department and maintaining his priorities to his family. He quickly put his experience to use as an adjunct professor in the College of Education, teaching graduate classes in Marketing Development and Leadership in Higher Education.

Castiglione was instrumental in the athletics department's major campaign, Great Expectations: The Campaign For Sooner Sports. The largest fund-raising effort in OU athletics history included projects that impact each of OU's nearly 500 student-athletes and has become a national model for intercollegiate athletics. The campaign ended three years later with more than $125 million raised and that figure has grown to more than $300 million since then as funds continue to be raised for facility improvements, including the recently announced $75 million Sooner Student Housing Center, and scholarship endowments.

Hired on April 30, 1998, Castiglione joined the Sooner family after serving as athletics director at Missouri. In his 17-year career with the Tigers, Castiglione, who was named director of athletics at Missouri on Dec. 15, 1993, was credited with rebuilding sports programs, hiring outstanding coaches, implementing an innovative master plan for facilities, inspiring record-setting increases in fund-raising and balancing the budget in each of his five years as athletics director.

A 1979 Maryland graduate, Castiglione received the University's Distinguished Alumnus Award in April 2007. He began his career as the sports promotions director at Rice. He then worked a year as director of athletic fund-raising at Georgetown before being hired in 1981 at Missouri as director of communications and marketing.

His commitment to the success of student-athletes has gone beyond the Norman campus and he has served at national and conference level. He chairs the NCAA's Football Academic Progress Rate (APR) Working Group and is currently serving on the Gatorade Collegiate Advisory Board, the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame Board of Directors and the NCAA Bowl Licensing Committee. He served three terms as the chair of the Big 12 Board of Athletics Directors and is a past president of both the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and NACDA. He served a four-year term on the NCAA Championship/Competition Cabinet and the NCAA Baseball Committee and is a past member of the NCAA Football Special Events Certification Committee. He recently served on the NCAA Diversity Leadership Strategic Planning Committee and the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Discussion Group. He was recently asked to serve on the Bowl Licensing Task Force by Dr. Mark Emmert, NCAA president. A former member of the Phi Delta Theta Foundation Board of Trustees, he is a highly requested speaker at annual conventions and continuing education institutes.

His involvement in the local community has led to service with civic clubs, churches and charities, including the United Way of Norman. Castiglione recently served his third term as OU's campus co-chair, which resulted in the highest recorded contributions ever by faculty, staff and students to the United Way of Norman's annual campaign.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Castiglione is married to the former Kristen Bartel, a 1990 graduate of the University of Missouri. They are the parents of two sons, Joseph Robert, Jr. and Jonathan Edmund.

The mission of the Oklahoma Athletics Department is to inspire champions today and prepare leaders for tomorrow by providing an excellent environment to enable student-athletes to achieve their highest academic, athletic and personal aspirations.

Core Values

- Integrity
- Passion for Excellence
- Commitment
- Respect & Responsibility for Self & Others
- Appreciation for and Encouragement of Gender & Cultural Diversity

Philosophy

The University of Oklahoma Department of Athletics promotes excellence in athletics without compromising excellence in academics or integrity in its commitment to rules or conduct. Student-athletes are encouraged by the coaching and administrative staff to maintain a balance between athletics, academics, and the social aspects of college.

It is believed that athletic participation gives an added dimension to the student's overall college experience and provides an opportunity for social, moral, emotional, and cultural growth and development.

The athletic programs strive to create traits that once acquired will carry over and benefit student-athletes in their personal and professional endeavors. OU maintains a tradition of excellence in intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Athletics continues to uphold this tradition by striving to make each athletic team and individual of championship caliber. Its staff members work to instill in student-athletes an appreciation for hard work, perseverance, and pride in accomplishment. It is believed these attributes will be utilized throughout the student-athlete's life.

HOW SWEET IT IS!

SOONERS ADVANCE TO NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP THIRD ROUND FOR THIRD TIME IN PROGRAM HISTORY

Oklahoma finished the season 23-11 overall, the most wins since the 28 victories in 2006 and was ranked 21st in the final American Volleyball Coaches Association poll. The Sooners finished third in the Big 12 with a 13-7 mark, the second highest win total for OU in the Big 12 era. Oklahoma advanced to its third Sweet 16 in program history.

It was OU's second consecutive NCAA Championship appearance and fourth in five years. OU has now been to four NCAA Championships under head coach Santiago Restrepo.

The Sooners fell in straight sets to the four-time national champion Penn State Nittany Lions in the NCAA Championship third round on Dec. 10. Junior setter Brianne Barker led the OU offense to a .217 hitting percentage, the highest mark put up by an opponent in Rec Hall in 2010.

OU advanced to the third round with a five-set win over Tulsa on Dec. 4. The Sooners set team school records in hitting percentage (.335), kills (73) and assists (67) in the current scoring era. Barker recorded the program's first triple-double. Oklahoma opened the NCAA Championship on Dec. 3 against Wichita State and downed the Shockers for the first time in six tries.

Barker was named the team's most valuable player at the team's annual awards banquet, while sophomore Morgan Reynolds was named most improved. Seniors Chrissy Disarro and Sarah Freudenrich earned the Sooner Award.

Barker's 1,340 assists set an Oklahoma 25-point rally scoring record and ranks as the fifth highest single season total in program history. She recorded 19 double-doubles in 2010.

Barker was named to the AVCA All-America third team and earned AVCA All-Central Region first team honors. Suzy Boulavsky was named to the AVCA All-Central Region honorable mention team and the duo was first team All-Big 12 honorees. Boulavsky led the Sooners with 3.45 kills per set.

Sallie McLaurin became the first Sooner to earn Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors and was named Big 12 Rookie of the Week three times. She was also named to the All-Big 12 freshman team. McLaurin led the team with 1.25 blocks per set.

Boulavsky earned Academic All-America third team honors and she and Caitlin Higgins were honored on the Academic All-District first and third teams respectively.

Seven Sooners were named to the Academic All-Big 12 team - Boulavsky, Disarro, Freudenrich, Reynolds, Higgins and sophomore Maria Fernanda and senior Francie Ekwerekwu. Seven players earned all-tournament team honors throughout the year.

Other key performances in 2010 included libero Fernanda who had nine matches with 23 or more digs this season. Freshman McLaurin's 153 blocks are an OU 25-point rally scoring record and the most by a Sooner since Elaine Santos' 180 in 2006. The Sooners also got valuable minutes from freshmen Eden Williams and Mindy Gowen, who combined for 21 service aces on the year.

The Sooners got key conference wins over Missouri, Baylor and Iowa State en route to finishing third in the league with a 13-7 mark. Oklahoma went 8-3 in non-conference play with losses to Wichita State and ranked Tennessee and Florida State squads. Boulavsky led the team with 3.49 kills per set in those matches, while Freudenrich had the highest hitting average at .393.

Restrepo won his 100th match as the head coach at Oklahoma on Aug. 29 with a sweep of UT-Arlington.

A PACESETTER FOR PUBLIC HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE UNITED STATES

"The University of Oklahoma is truly a great university. It is becoming a pacesetter for public higher education in the United States. We must no longer keep the university's excellence a secret! It's time for us to let others know about the strengths of our university and our determination to make it even better."

- University of Oklahoma President David L. Boren

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA OVERVIEW

Created by the Oklahoma Territorial Legislature in 1890, the University of Oklahoma is a doctoral degree-granting research university serving the educational, cultural, economic and health-care needs of the state, region and nation. The Norman campus serves as home to all of the university's academic programs except health-related fields. The OU Health Sciences Center, which is located in Oklahoma City, is one of only four comprehensive academic health centers in the nation with seven professional colleges. Both the Norman and Health Sciences Center colleges offer programs at the Schusterman Center, the site of OU-Tulsa. OU enrolls more than 30,000 students, has more than 2,400 full-time faculty members, and has 20 colleges offering 163 majors at the baccalaureate level, 166 majors at the master's level, 81 majors at the doctoral level, 27 majors at the doctoral professional level, and 26 graduate certificates. The university's annual operating budget is $1.5 billion. The University of Oklahoma is an equal opportunity institution.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT OU?

OU ranks No. 1 in the nation among all public universities in the number of National Merit Scholars enrolled, with a record 225 National Merit Scholars in this year's freshman class – 29 more than the previous OU record.

OU has over a $1.5 billion impact on the state's economy each year.

The Princeton Review ranks OU in the top 10 public universities in the nation in terms of academic excellence and cost for students.

This year, OU achieved the Carnegie Foundation's highest tier of research activity classification, the first time a public institution in Oklahoma has received this outstanding recognition.

An OU Debate Team from the Shannon Self Debate Program has won the national championship in debate three of the last five years. The winning team in the Cross Examination Debate Association's national championship was composed of OU students RJ Giglio and Nick Watts.

OU is a leader among all American universities in the international exchange and study abroad programs. This past year study abroad by OU students increased by 20 percent. OU currently offers programs in over 50 countries and 100 cities in six continents. Students from more than 100 countries are enrolled at OU.

OU student Sarah Swenson was named a 2011 Rhodes Scholar, becoming OU's 28th Rhodes Scholar. No other university in Oklahoma has had more than three.

OU student Eddie Shimp was named this year's Goldwater Scholar for excellence in mathematics and science, bringing to 31 the number of OU students named to that honor since 1995. This places OU in the top ranks of universities nationally.

The Joe C. and Carole Kerr McClendon Honors College offers the largest honors program among public universities in the United States. More than 3,500 students participate in small classes of 19 or less. OU students Caleb Gayle and Austin Slaymaker were named 2010 Truman Scholars. This prestigious national award is given based on a student's leadership potential, intellectual ability and the likelihood of "making a difference."

OU student teamstop honors at this year's Donald W. Reynolds Governor's Cup Collegiate Business Plan Competition in Oklahoma City, a competition designed to encourage students of Oklahoma universities and colleges to act upon their entrepreneurial ideas and develop skills to lead tomorrow's innovative news businesses. OU ranks in the top 10 in the nation among most wired colleges, one of only a few universities to achieve the ranking two years in a row.

OU's entrepreneurship program in the Price College of Business ranks in the top five in the nation among all public universities.

OU has surpassed its goal of $150 million in scholarships and is extending the Campaign for Scholarships for five more years, increasing the goal to $250 million. The success of the campaign has allowed OU to more than double its private scholarships in the last five years.

The Campaign for Scholarships is continuing, and in March 2008 surpassed its goal of raising $100 million for endowed scholarships. To date, almost $140 million in scholarship endowments have been donated or pledged.

OU has increased from 100 to 544, the number of endowed faculty positions in the past 15 years, demonstrating a strong commitment to excellence.

OU continues to set the pace in private fundraising records, with more than $1.8 billion in gifts and pledges since 1994, which has provided funding for dramatic capital improvements, the growth in faculty endowment and student scholarships.

OU Drama students won the largest number of awards of any university in America in the national Kennedy Center American College Theatre Competition.

OU has the academically highest ranked student body at a public university in Oklahoma history.

OU won the "PetroBowl" Championship in petroleum engineering, making OU the only school to win the competition three times.

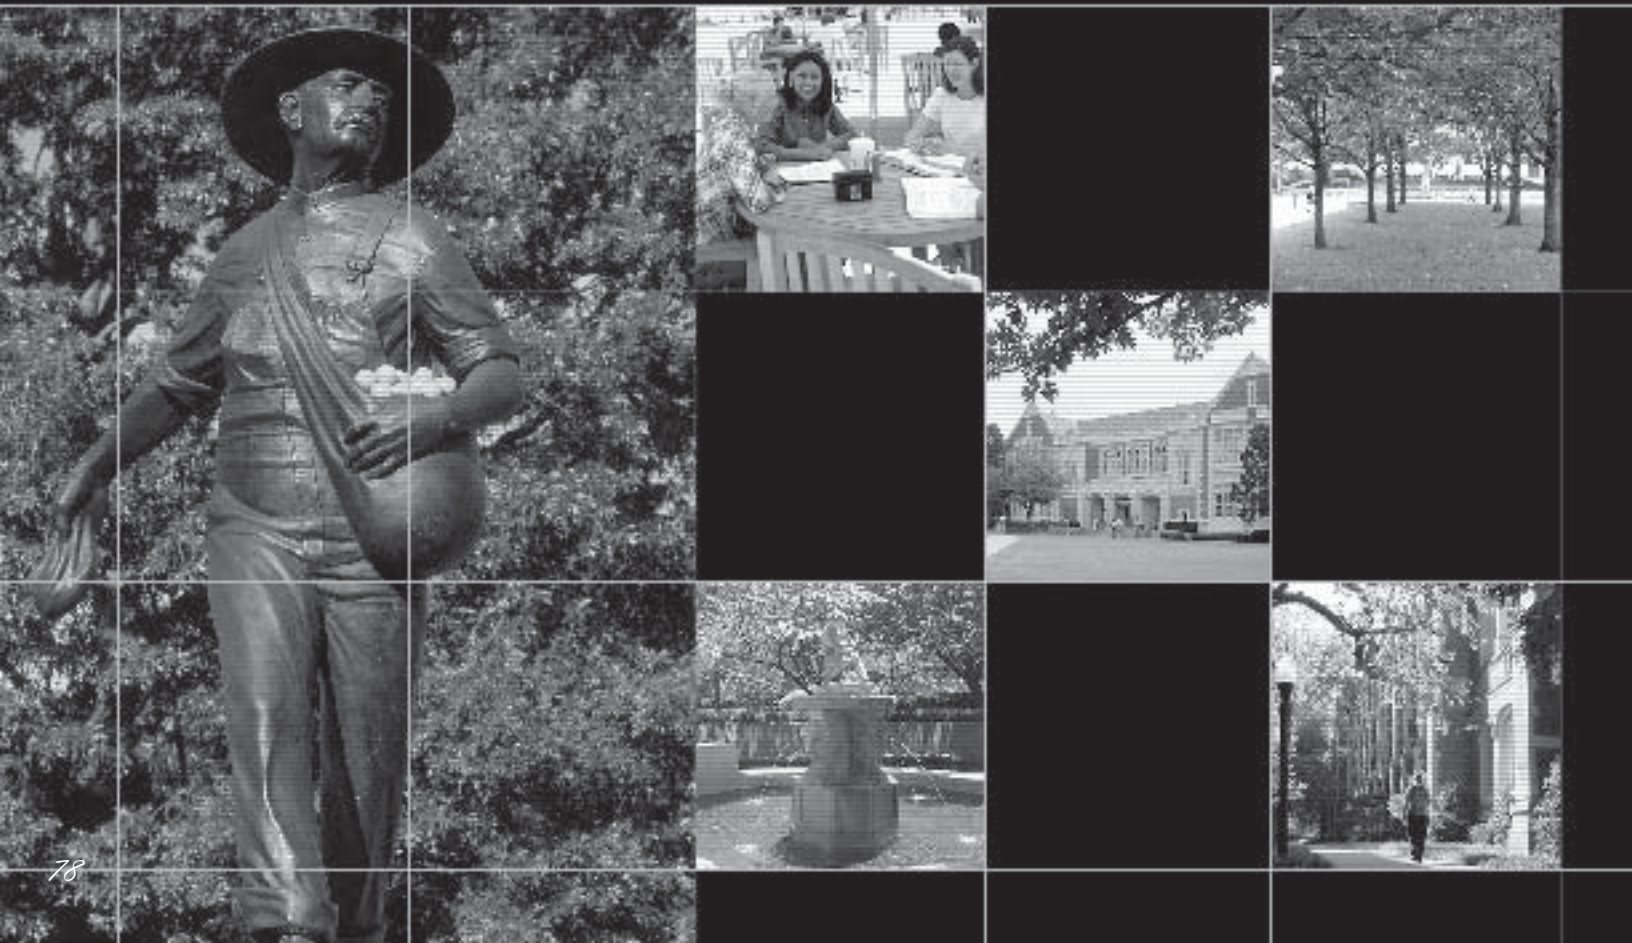

Since 1994, research and sponsored programs expenditures at OU have more than doubled, and OU continues to set new records for funding for externally sponsored research. OU ended FY 2010 with total expenditures of more than $261 million.

The OU Health Sciences Center in FY 2010 continued its impressive rate of research growth by achieving more than $118 million in federal, state, corporate and nonprofit or foundation grants and contracts. Funding from the National Institutes of Health – considered to be the gold standard for research – was almost $52 million.

Since 1994, almost $2 billion in construction projects have been completed, are under way or are forthcoming on OU's three campuses, the largest of which is the $128 million Peggy and Charles Stephenson Oklahoma Cancer Center.

OU is home to one of the two largest natural history museums in the world associated with a university. The Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History has more than 7 million artifacts and contains 195,000 square feet on 40 acres of land. The museum exhibits include the largest Apatosaurus on display in the world and the oldest work of art ever found in North America — a lightning bolt painted on an extinct bison skull.

The Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art's collections total more than 10,000 works of art, including OU's Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionism, one of the most important gifts of art ever given to a U.S. public university. The museum also shares the Eugene B. Adkins Collection, one of the most important private collections in the nation of works by the Taos artists as well as Native American works of art, with the Philbrook Museum of Art in Tulsa. Additional collections have further strengthened the museum's holdings in the areas of Native American and Southwest art.

OU's Western History Collection is one of the largest collections in the world of documents and photographs, including a rare multivolume portfolio on the Indians of the United States and Alaska by Edward S. Curtis.

Set to open in 2011, the Peggy and Charles Stephenson Oklahoma Cancer Center is on track to become Oklahoma's first and only National Cancer Institute-designated comprehensive cancer center. Achieving this designation, the gold standard for cancer research and care in the United States, means that Oklahomans will no longer need to travel 450 miles out of state for comprehensive, state-of-the-art cancer care. The cancer center is the largest public-private biosciences initiative in Oklahoma history.

The University of Oklahoma has established a comprehensive diabetes center with operations on the OU campuses in Oklahoma City and Tulsa to provide statewide leadership in diabetes treatment, research, prevention, information, education and awareness. The Harold Hamm Oklahoma Diabetes Center provides access to the latest developments in diabetes care and management through the clinical trials hosted by the center.

A major beautification campaign has transformed the appearance of the OU Health Sciences Center in Oklahoma City. The project replaced a divided highway through campus with seven tiered gardens featuring traditional OU arches at each end. The pedestrian walkway's landmarks include an OU Seed Sower sculpture at the west end, a clock tower at the east end, and a 70-foot granite fountain in the center.

For the outdoor improvements to the Norman campus — gardens, fountains, sculptures, benches — the University of Oklahoma has won first place in the education category for Beautification and Landscaping in the statewide environmental competition. Gifts of over $3 million have permanently endowed OU's gardens.

OU has strong programs in international and area studies, with an International Programs Center led by Zach P. Messitte, a foreign policy expert with a doctorate in international politics whose experience includes working for the United Nations and CNN.

With nearly 400 doctors, OU Physicians is the state's largest physician group. Our practice encompasses almost every adult and child specialty. Many OU Physicians have expertise in the management of complex conditions that is unavailable anywhere else in the state, region or sometimes even the nation. Some have pioneered surgical procedures or innovations in patient care that are world firsts.

About 125 of OU Physicians' doctors are OU Children's Physicians. These board-certified pediatric specialists committed their training and, now, their practices to the care of children. Many children with birth defects, critical injuries or serious diseases who can't be helped elsewhere come to OU Children's Physicians. Oklahoma doctors and parents rely on OU Children's Physicians depth of experience, nationally renowned expertise and sensitivity to children's emotional needs.

The University of Oklahoma maintains one of the three most important collections of early manuscripts in the history of science in the United States. It includes Galileo's own copy of his work, which first used the telescope to support the Copernican theory, with corrections in his own handwriting.

The University of Oklahoma Libraries has added its 5 millionth volume, continuing a commanding lead as the state's largest research library and claiming one of the top two spots in size among Big 12 libraries.

OU's Julian P. Kanter Political Commercial Archive houses the world's largest collection of political commercials. With more than 95,000 commercials, the archive includes political advertisements dating back to 1936 for radio and 1950 for television.

The highly acclaimed journal of international literature, World Literature Today, is published at the University of Oklahoma.

OU is home to the Neustadt International Prize for Literature, considered to be second in prestige only to the Nobel Prize and often referred to as the "American Nobel." Twenty-eight Neustadt laureates, candidates and jurors have won the Nobel Prize in the past 40 years.

The OU Cousins program matches U.S. and international students to share informal and social experiences. Students may volunteer to live on international floors with half of the residents from the United States and half from other countries.

Dance Magazine places the OU School of Dance in the top three of all dance programs in the country.

OU's 271-acre Research Campus is anchored by the Stephenson Research and Technology Center, where cutting-edge research into life science fields ranging from robotics to genomic studies is taking place, and the National Weather Center, which houses OU's academic and research programs in meteorology and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Norman-based weather, research and operations programs.

OU's supercomputer debuted as the fastest in Oklahoma history and in the Big 12 and in the top 10 at U.S. universities (excluding federally funded national supercomputing centers).

Since its creation in 1998, OU's Office of Technology Development has created 36 companies that have generated more than $84 million in capital, more than $10 million in cash and more than $30 million in current estimated equity value for the university. In addition, the companies have created in excess of 150 jobs, which pay on average nearly twice the median household income in Oklahoma.

The Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education is ranked among the top 10 percent of all graduate colleges of education by U.S. News & World Report.

The OU College of Law had a bar passage rate of 97 percent in 2010, which placed OU among the very best in the nation.

A major building project has doubled the size of the Law Center, refurbishing classrooms and creating a new library, a cutting-edge courtroom, and expanded student lounge and office facilities.

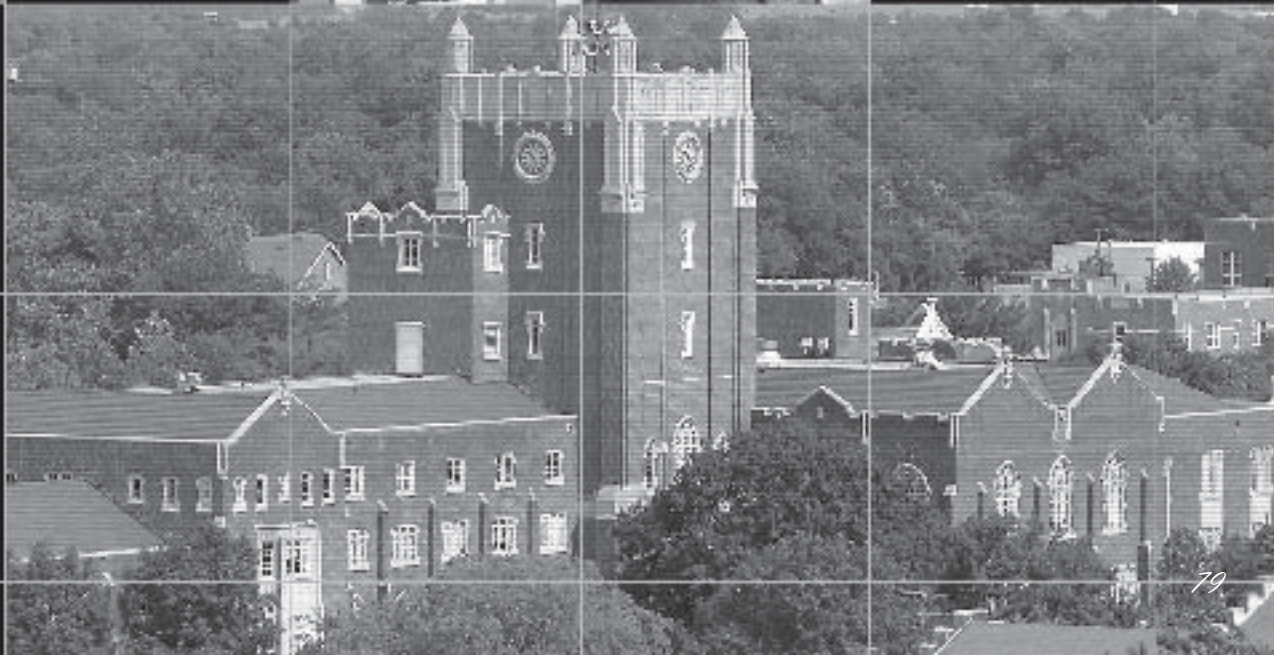

OU President David Boren, a former U.S. senator and governor of Oklahoma, teaches an introductory course in political science each semester, and keeps in close touch with students.

OU has one of the oldest comprehensive colleges of fine arts in the Great Plains states, with highly regarded schools of Music, Drama, Art and Dance, and programs in opera, musical theater, and sculpture.

OU has won awards for new initiatives to create a sense of family and community on campus. OU is one of the very few public universities to twice receive the Templeton Foundation Award as a "Character Building College" for stressing the value of community.

The University of Oklahoma has consistently been designated as one of America's 100 Best College Buys by Institutional Research & Evaluation, an independent higher education research and consulting organization.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT OU?

OU has established a faculty-in-residence program with faculty members and their families living in apartments in the student residence halls.

The Michael F. Price College is ranked as one of the nation's top business schools at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Price College ranks in U.S. News & World Report's top 15 in undergraduate business specialties for international business.

OU is one of a small number of Division I-A universities in the nation to receive the CHAMPS award for preparing student-athletes for life. The award is based on academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, community service and career development.

The Oklahoma Daily, OU's student newspaper, and Sooner yearbook are consistently ranked among the best in the country.

More Native American languages are taught for college credit at OU than at any other university in the world.

The Gaylord College of Journalism and Mass Communication at OU is home to the Native American Journalists Association, the oldest and largest international organization for indigenous journalists.

OU has been recognized as an outstanding university for Hispanic students by Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education magazine.

The Carl Albert Congressional Research and Studies Center houses the papers of more than 55 former members of Congress, making it the nation's most comprehensive center for congressional studies.

OU's journalism and mass communication school was elevated to college status, thanks to a $22 million gift from Edward L. Gaylord on behalf of the Gaylord family of Oklahoma City.

The OU Health Sciences Center is one of only four comprehensive academic health centers in the nation with seven professional schools. It includes the colleges of Allied Health, Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and Graduate Studies.

The Donald W. Reynolds Department of Geriatric Medicine, established at the OU Health Sciences Center with an $11.2 million grant from the Reynolds Foundation, is one of the premier programs in education, research and service to elders.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.

OU is the only public university in Oklahoma to be included in the Fiske Guide to Colleges, which lists the top 10 percent of all U.S. universities.

The Department of Communication's doctoral program is ranked among the top 20 programs in the country.

OU frequently hosts national and international scholars and policymakers during major national conferences and symposia. Over the past few years, guests have included former President George Bush; former U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell; U.S. Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy; former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher; Nobel Peace Prize winner Archbishop Desmond Tutu; award-winning broadcast journalist Katie Couric; International Political Analyst Fareed Zakaria; and award-winning historian and author David McCullough.

OU's A. Max Weitzenhoffer Musical Theatre Program is one of the very few university programs in the nation that provides students an opportunity to be in the same cast with professional Broadway actors in brand-new productions.

The OU Press is the oldest in the Great Plains states and ranks among the 20 most important university presses in the United States. It is a leading publisher of books about Native Americans and the American West.

The OU College of Law publishes the only law journal in the United States devoted exclusively to Native American legal issues.

OU finished among the top 25 eight times in the last nine years in the U.S. Sports Academic Director's Cup Standings, which measures the overall strength of each Division I-A athletics program.

A $50 million gift from the George Kaiser Family Foundation — the largest single gift the university has ever received — helped create the OU School of Community Medicine. The school's mission is to improve the overall health status of underserved Oklahoma areas, both rural and urban, through community-based medicine.

In 1999, a $10 million grant to OU from the Charles and Lynn Schusterman Family Foundation of Tulsa supported the purchase of the BP Amoco property in Tulsa, enabling OU to establish a new community-based campus for the University's Tulsa programs.

In 2003, the Schusterman Family underlined their support of OU in Tulsa with the announcement of a $10 million challenge grant for OU-Tulsa to help complete the first phase of the campus master plan for the Schusterman Center and allow OU-Tulsa to expand degree programming in key areas.

First- and second-year students receive outstanding instruction and mentoring under a program that brings over 50 retired full professors back to campus to teach their introductory courses

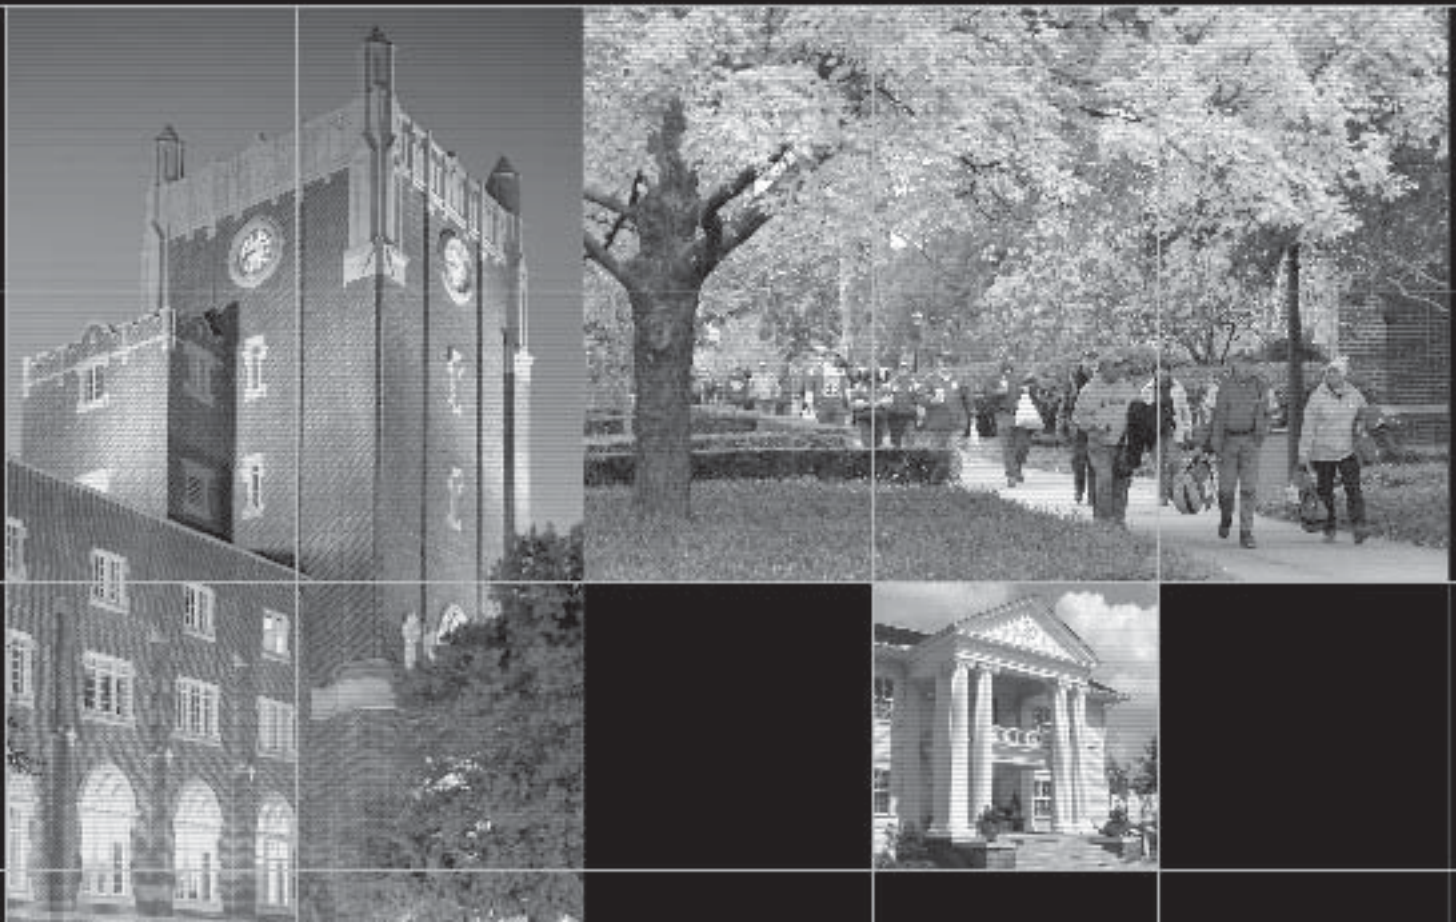

The OU Sooners have won 26 national championships in men's and women's sports with the latest coming in 2008 when the men's gymnastics team won its fifth title in seven years.

Almost 100 Sooner student-athletes earned Academic All-Conference honors, and a total of 12 teams recorded team GPAs of 3.0 or better.

More than 250 Sooner student-athletes were named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll. A total of 34 OU student-athletes recorded a 4.0 GPA.

The Athletics Department became just the second Division 1 winner of the Prism Award, recognizing best practices in sports management.

THE PATH TO GRADUATION

PRENTICE GAUTT ACADEMIC CENTER

In the 1950s, he came to OU to play football, and, in the process, broke down barriers and crushed stereotypes. Today, OU student-athletes use the Prentice Gautt Academic Center to break another kind of stereotype. The center that today's student-athletes use everyday now bears the name of the man who left an indelible legacy for Sooner Athletics and helped change a society in the process.

The formal dedication of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center was held Friday, Sept. 17, 1999. The proposal to re-name the center was approved by the OU Board of Regents in March 1999.

"It is appropriate that this center be named after Prentice Gautt," OU President David L. Boren said. "His personal values and character, along with his leadership as associate commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, continue to bring pride to his alma mater. His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless number of African-American and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics."

The professional consultants of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center help student-athletes with a variety of academic tasks, from learning strategy instruction to any stage of the writing process including preparing for an essay exam and the formal research paper.

The goal is to help student-athletes develop the strategies they need to be successful by encouraging the use of the center for all facets of the learning and writing processes encountered in college.

The Prentice Gautt Academic Center provides student-athletes with a state-of-the-art academic support facility. The environment encourages a collaboration between staff members and student-athletes. In addition, it is highly conducive to learning in all areas of students' academic endeavors and features seven learning centers.

Located on the second and third floors in the north end of the Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Academic Center houses Academic Counseling offices, and Learning and Skill Development centers including the Kerr Foundation Computer Center, the Thompson Writing Center and centers for communication, reading, study skills, math and foreign language as well as learning enhancement and study areas.

LEARNING CENTERS: KERR CAREER CENTER

Whether student-athletes are freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors or graduates, they will benefit from the services of the Kerr Career Center. It provides a system of services that educates and guides students through the career development process.

The Career Center is dedicated to helping students make the transition from college to career by developing an individualized career plan where they gather information to assist in making a decision about a career; obtain information on the suitable career list; explore classes and publications in the field as well as obtain experience; and gain knowledge and skills necessary for résumé writing, job-related letter writing and interviewing techniques.

The Career Center is a link with the campus Careers Services Office and offers student-athletes a wide array of effective job hunting skills, training and career services.

KERR FOUNDATION COMPUTER CENTER

In the 21st century, computers have become an integral part of the learning experience. Students need access to computers and their resources almost daily. The Kerr Foundation Computer Centers are here to meet these technological needs. We provide each student with the equipment and support necessary to succeed.

The computer center is housed within the Prentice Gautt Academic Center and houses nearly 200 computers available exclusively to our student-athletes.

Students also enjoy a large amount of storage space on our athletic network. Laptop computers are checked out to students when the computer center is unavailable. This allows access to our network and resources 24 hours a day. The laptop program is very important in helping athletes stay on top of their schoolwork when traveling.

Group training is provided for all new student-athletes during the first week of supervised study. This helps familiarize each student with our resources and procedures. Individual training sessions are available to each student and lab technicians are always on hand to help.

The Kerr Foundation Computer Center has been a model for other universities around the country. We plan on being a leader in the future as well. Upgrades are scheduled annually and there is a deep commitment from the Athletics Department ensures that the excellence in the computer center will continue for a long time.

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER

This academic center focuses on developing communication and public speaking skills for student-athletes. The state-of-the-art center, coordinated by a broadcast professional, builds strong media relations skills through the use of video equipment.

KERR FOUNDATION FOREIGN LANGUAGE CENTER

To assist you in speaking, listening, reading and writing in other languages, the Kerr Foundation Foreign Language Center offers a multimedia environment that provides instruction in all foreign languages and in English as a second language. On an individual basis, students have the option of working with computers, audio-visual equipment and tutors in order to enhance their language experience.

MATH CENTER

If performing math functions is a problem, the solution is the Math Center. As a supplement to class instruction, the Math Center provides all levels of math computations, concepts and problems to help students review course material. In addition, it offers personal and group tutoring sessions to assist with math assignments.

READING/STUDY SKILLS CENTER

If students have trouble with assigned textbook readings or studying, the Reading and Study Skills Center can help. It provides reading and studying techniques and its staff teach how to make direct applications to current resources. Consultation, computer-assisted instruction, tutoring and independent activities are available.

THOMPSON WRITING CENTER

Because learning and writing are essential life long skills which can always be strengthened, the Writing Center offers personalized instruction to student-athletes who seek assistance in refreshing, reviewing, or improving these skills. The Thompson Writing Center offers a dynamic, positive atmosphere to help student-athletes generate ideas and strategies for writing assignments. Consultants help student-athletes organize papers, review grammatical basics, develop proofreading and library research skills, and design résumés.

STEPS FOR BUILDING "CHAMPIONS FOR LIFE"

STEP ONE: Assessment

New Student-Athlete Assessment -The academic assessment process begins with an entry-level assessment of all incoming student-athletes. This assessment is designed to help student-athletes know their strengths and weaknesses in content areas such as reading, writing, and mathematics. With this information, we can determine if student-athletes have the skills necessary to succeed in standard entry-level courses. Some results from this initial assessment may require additional testing, enrollment in developmental courses and academic services, or programs recommended based on individual needs. The ultimate purpose of our assessment is to ensure that student-athletes have the appropriate academic support services to achieve academic success.

STEP TWO: Skill Development

Tutorial Program - A comprehensive tutoring program of approximately 150 tutors provides one-to-one and small-group instruction. Student-athletes are assisted with study skills, problem-solving techniques and specific course material. Athletic Student Life Office counselors may recommend tutors or a student-athlete may request one independently.

Study Skills - The Study Skills Center provides student-athletes with assistance in college reading strategies and individual instruction for reading improvement. A learning specialist regularly conducts time management and study skills workshops. The staff's goal is to help student-athletes become independent writers and learners in the academic environment.

Computer Skills - The Kerr Foundation Athletic Computer Center, also located in the Prentice Gaunt Academic Center, provides student-athletes with computer knowledge and access. The Computer Center is open six days a week with extended hours offered during peak times. Made possible from a $250,000 Kerr Foundation matching grant, the Athletic Computer Center is equipped with more than 200 state-of-the-art computers, including Macintosh and Windows-compatible computers with color monitors, CD-ROM drives and modems. High-speed high-resolution laser printers, digital camera, video equipment and a scanner are also available for student-athlete use. Software in use includes all popular word processing programs, spreadsheet programs, presentation programs, databases and desktop publishing/graphic design programs. In addition, computer training courses are provided each semester and portable computers are available to student-athletes who need computer access after 11 p.m. Approximately 100 portables are also available to teams when traveling.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

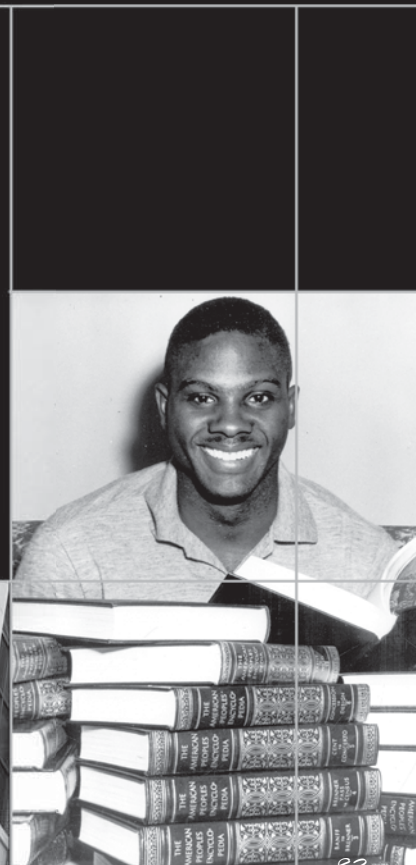

► OKLAHOMA REMEMBERS GAUTT

Prentice Gaunt ushered in a new era for Oklahoma football when he landed a spot on the 1956 team. Former Sooner head coach Bud Wilkinson was pressured against giving Gaunt a scholarship. A group of black doctors and pharmacists gave money for Gaunt to attend the school. Within a year, Gaunt was given a scholarship and the donated amounts were given to another black student.

Gaunt, considered Oklahoma's best player in 1958, was a two-time All-Big Eight player and 1959 Orange Bowl MVP. During his senior year, Gaunt was named to the academic All-America team and eventually earned master's and doctorate degrees in psychology.

The academic center for student-athletes at the University of Oklahoma was named in Gaunt's honor in 1999. A special assistant to the commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, Gaunt passed away on March 17, 2005.

"His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless numbers of African-Americans and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics," said University of Oklahoma president David Boren.

Foreign Language - The Kerr Foundation Foreign Language Center was established to assist student-athletes with speaking, listening, reading and writing in different languages. The Center, coordinated by a Modern Languages department instructor, offers a top-notch multimedia environment for all foreign language instruction.

Math Skills - Realizing the increasing role mathematics plays in society today, the Prentice Gautt Academic Center aims to help all student-athletes achieve an understanding of math and related topics in their course work. The Mathematics Center offers regular instruction for student-athletes placed in preparatory mathematics courses and tutorial consultation in all math and statistics courses.

Career Preparation - At OU, non-athletic career preparation is enhanced through workshops in résumé development, job search strategies, interviewing skills and graduate school preparation assistance through the Kerr Career Center. The Sooner Career Program is dedicated to educating student-athletes about the world of work and providing a transition from college athletics to their first careers. The program includes the OU Career Fair, career information seminars, opportunities for summer internships in various fields, an employment referral service and mentorship opportunities for graduating student-athletes. The Career Center, an exciting learning center, allows student-athletes the opportunity to explore potential careers and majors through a variety of resources. Additionally, student-athletes are able to take personality and career inventories via computer. The Sooner Career Program is jointly sponsored by the OU Athletics Department, the Sooner Club and the Varsity O Association.

Communication Skills - Communicating well is an essential skill in successful personal and professional interaction for OU student-athletes. The OU Communications Center offers training for effective oral communication and media relations. A working media conference room featuring a stage and a modern audio-visual systems is available in a state-of-the-art communications center.

SUPERVISED STUDY

Supervised study is a monitored study program designed to provide student-athletes with organized study and tutoring time in a flexible environment conducive to successful learning. Supervised study is required for all first-semester freshmen, transfer student-athletes, student-athletes with a cumulative GPA below 2.50, and any student-athlete who the coaching staff and the Student Life academic staff believe would benefit from the experience. Supervised study is flexible for all student-athletes. All freshman and transfer student-athletes are required to put in 10 hours a week in their first semester at the University. Any study area or learning center is available for use during these times.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE AND TUTORING

Tutors are available to assist student-athletes in all subject areas. Individual or small group sessions can be arranged with content experts either allocated by academic services or personally requested by the student-athlete. Academic services also provides revision groups, study sessions and weekly instruction on an individual or group basis in order to ensure student-athlete success.

LEARNING ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM

Learning specialists are assigned by academic services to designated student-athletes to assist them with study skills, problem solving techniques, and time management. The primary goal of the learning program is to create an environment conducive to student-athlete success in the university academic setting. The staff of the Athletic Student Life office promote this environment of academic success through several methods. Arriving at a college campus can be very intimidating for both freshmen and transfer students. Our program provides a learning specialists to help familiarize the student-athlete with the academic and social culture at OU, thus helping to ease the transition to the University setting for student-athletes.

STEP THREE: Counseling

Personal Career Counseling - Student-athletes receive caring, professional support from Dr. Gerald Gurney and his staff at all levels. This support may take several forms, including career choice, academic or personal decisions.

Academic Counseling and Advisement - Six professional athletic academic counselors are present to help student-athletes through the educational process. Approximately one counselor per 100 student-athletes is available to assist the student-athletes with planning class schedules, choosing degree programs and setting personal and academic goals.

Psychological Counseling and Sport Psychology (PROS)

ACADEMICS

The Prentice Gautt Academic Center is staffed with a licensed Counseling Psychologist and several psychological counselors and interns to provide a wide array of counseling and performance enhancing services. Student-athletes may visit the staff to confidentially discuss anything impacting their academic, athletic or personal lives. OU's national award-winning program has become a model for other programs to follow.

Academic Monitoring - Course attendance and course performance are checked a minimum of four times per semester for each student-athlete participating in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Personal Health and Nutritional Counseling - The personal health and nutritional needs of student-athletes are monitored by the OU Sports Medicine staff of physicians and certified athletic trainers. The Wagner Dining Center makes every effort to accommodate the special dietary and nutritional requirements of OU student-athletes. The cafeteria serves all three meals with several healthy entrees to choose from. The menu is designed to meet the nutritional needs of every individual student-athlete by allowing each athlete to choose from a variety of options to accommodate the unique demands of his/her schedule. In addition, a program to promote substance abuse awareness requires student-athletes to enroll in a campus personal health course focusing on substance abuse, human sexuality, nutrition and stress management.

STEP FOUR: Faculty Relations

Faculty Guest Program - The faculty guest program's purpose is to enhance the athletic department's relationship with the faculty and staff. Faculty members are selected to be guest coaches for the week in all sports throughout the academic year. During that time, the faculty guests are provided with a list of planned activities that are designed to give them an opportunity to experience various aspects of the athletic department's operations and introduce them to student-athlete lifestyles and expectations.

STEP FIVE: Resident Life

Sooner Housing Center - Student-athletes reside in a variety of University housing environments, including the Sooner Housing Center. The Sooner Housing Center, managed by Athletic Student Life staff, is located across the street from the Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. It provides a living environment that is conducive to the academic and personal development of student-athletes. The Sooner Housing Center was the winner of the 1998, 2003, 2005 and 2009 President's Trophy for the outstanding housing center on the OU campus and was recognized for its contribution to academic excellence, innovative programming and campus diversity. The Sooner Housing Center was also selected as the President's Trophy runner-up in 1997, 2000 and 2006.

STEP SIX: Life Skills, Academic Recognition, Graduation/Post Eligibility, Community Service and Student-Athlete Leadership Life Skills Program

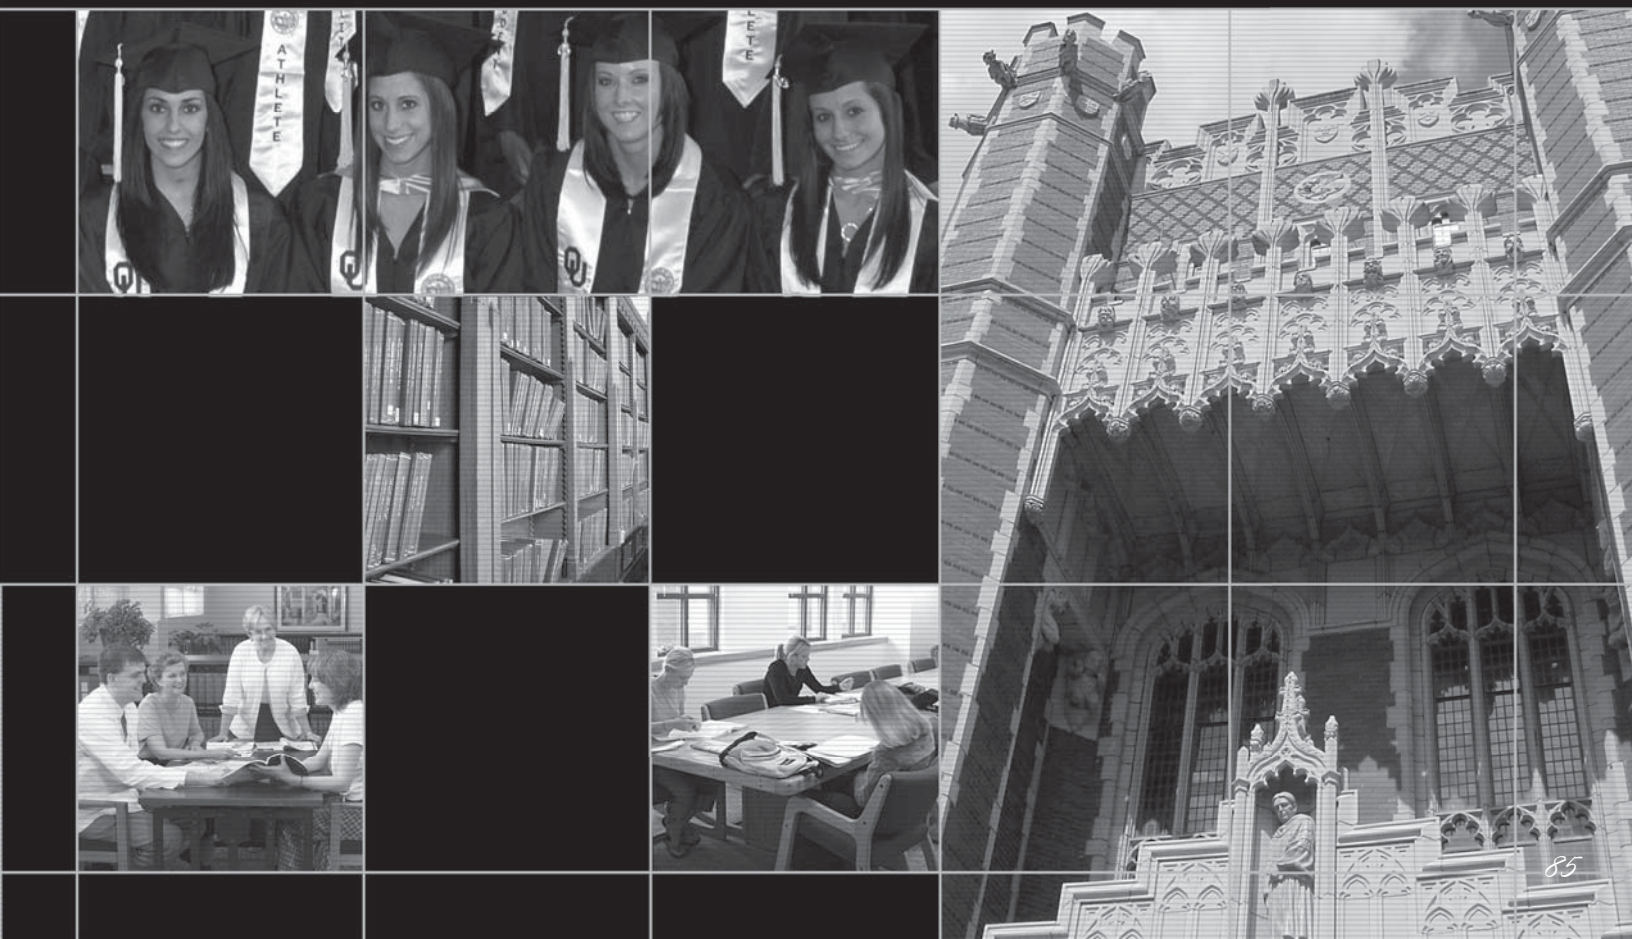

OU is a member of the NCAA's Life Skills Program and is dedicated to contributing to the growth and development of student-athletes through academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, community service and career development. The OU

Athletics Department offers and maintains a strong commitment through comprehensive programs to fully develop the student-athletes' academic and personal potential, while enjoying the highest levels of athletic competition.

Academics Awards Program - The OU Athletic Student Life program places special emphasis upon recognition of outstanding academic performances by student-athletes. An awards banquet is held in the spring to recognize special award winners and scholar athletes who have achieved a 3.00 GPA or higher. Graduating student-athletes receive recognition prior to OU's graduation ceremonies in May during a reception. Each is given an "O" ring, representing their athletic participation and graduation from The University of Oklahoma. All scholarship student-athletes who exhaust their eligibility within eight semesters may receive an additional year of financial aid within a six-year period.

Student-Athlete Advisory Committee - Student-athlete leaders from each sport comprise the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, which aims to improve communication with the athletic and University administration regarding student-athletes' needs and concerns. The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee developed a community outreach partnership with the Oklahoma Youth Center, a local residential facility for physically, mentally and sexually abused children. SAAC also designs programs that encourage excellence in academics and social responsibility and serve to represent student-athletes on campus-wide committees.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

OU EXPERIENCES ANOTHER SEASON OF ALL-AROUND EXCELLENCE

Baseball

The 2011 Sooner baseball team advanced to the program's fourth straight NCAA tournament appearance and 34th in program history. OU (41-19) produced the third straight season with 40 regular season wins, a first since 1986, 1987, 1988 and 1989, and finished third in the Big 12 Conference standings. The Sooners led the Big 12 in hitting and posted a batting average over .300 as a team for the sixth straight year and produced a 3.00 ERA, the best since 1978 (2.66). OU also had three three All-Americans in Tyler Ogle, Dillon Overton and Michael Rocha and led the conference with 11 selections in the 2011 Major League Baseball Draft (second in the nation).

Men's Basketball

The men's basketball team finished with a 14-18 overall record, missing out on the postseason for just the third time in the last 30 years. Picked in the preseason to finish 11th in the Big 12 race, the Sooners' 5-11 league record resulted in a 10th-place tie. Despite its regular season struggles in conference play, OU handled Baylor in the first round of the Phillips 66 Big 12 Championship, 84-67, good for its largest margin of victory against a league opponent in more than two seasons. Senior Cade Davis and sophomore Andrew Fitzgerald were honorable mention All-Big 12 selections, while Davis was also named to the Academic All-Big 12 First Team. Davis paced the team in scoring with his 14.2 points per game and led the Sooners in the category in each of their final seven outings (averaged 20.7 points in those contests). He finished his career with 1,015 points to rank 35th in OU history. His 181 3-point field goals rank fifth most all-time at OU. Seven of the Sooners' top eight scorers on the season were freshmen or sophomores. Those seven players accounted for 70 percent of the team's points on the year.

Women's Basketball

Oklahoma's women's basketball team once again thrived on and off the court in 2010-11. With All-American point guard Danielle Robinson as captain, the Sooners made a 12th consecutive appearance in the NCAA Championship and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the third straight season. Robinson became just the third player in women's college basketball history to record 2,000 points, 700 assists and 300 steals as she and fellow seniors Carlee Roethlisberger and Lauren Willis notched a program record 56 home wins during their careers. Led by freshman Aaryn Ellenberg, who made a single-season record 94 treys, the Sooners set team records for 3-pointers and free throw percentage. All six Sooners eligible for the Academic All-Big 12 Team represented OU's conference-leading total with Joanna McFarland, a chemistry/biochemistry sophomore, recording the only 4.0 GPA in the league. Robinson became the seventh hoopster to earn Academic All-America distinction. Head coach Sherri Coale was honored with the Inaugural United Nations NGO Positive Peace Award for her and her team's efforts in community service, highlighted by a mission trip the players and assistants took to earthquake-ravaged Haiti in the summer of 2010.

Cross Country

The men's team captured their first ever NCAA Midwest Regional before finishing a program-best fifth at the NCAA Cross Country Championships. The Sooners were led by Kevin Schwab, who became just the fifth All-American in program history. At the Big 12 Championships where they finished third, the OU men placed all five scoring runners in the top 16 while placing four on the All-Big 12 team. Following the conclusion of the season, Martin Smith was named the 2010 Roy Griak Midwest Region Coach of the Year. Four athletes earned All-Big 12 honors and five earned All-Midwest Regional honors. The Sooner men were named All-Academic and led all programs nationwide with four All-Academic selections — George Alex, Bill Kogel, Rob Sorrell and Kevin Williams. Additionally, eleven Sooners made the Academic All-Big 12 first team.

Football

The sixth-ranked Oklahoma team finished the 2010-11 campaign with a 12-2 record, capping off the year with a Fiesta Bowl win and its seventh Big 12 Championship. OU won its seventh Big 12 title, no other program has won more than three, with its 45th win over Nebraska, topping the Huskers 23-20.

The Sooners claimed their 26th bowl championship by routing Connecticut 48-20 in their eighth BCS bowl appearance. Ryan Broyles and Quinton Carter were named All-Americans, upping OU's total to 152, while Landry Jones won the Sammy Baugh Award as the nation's top passer. The season-opening win over Utah State saw the Sooners pick up their 800th victory. In total, OU set 19 school records and broke the school record for consecutive sellouts, which now stands at 74.

Men's Golf

The 2010-11 Oklahoma men's golf team earned its 32nd NCAA Championship appearance and its first since 2006. The Sooners, who finished the season ranked 28th nationally by Golfweek/Sagarin and set a school record with its 290.27 scoring average, outplayed then-No. 8 LSU and No. 11 Virginia en route to a third-place finish at the NCAA East Regional. Sophomore Abraham Ancer and senior Ryan Sirman were selected to the PING Central All-Region team, while Ancer was also named a PING honorable mention All-American. OU finished the season with 10 top-10 finishes, including two runner-up showings and a victory at the Desert Shootout in Goodyear, Ariz. Head coach Ryan Hybl's team finished at -48 in the three-round Desert Shootout and won by 22 shots. All six Sooners placed in the top 19, with Ancer and sophomore Will Kropp carding the two best 54-hole scores in school history. Ancer shot a 21-under-par 195 to break Anthony Kim's previous record of 203 set during the 2004-05 season, while Kropp posted a 15-under 201 as an individual. Ancer took first-place honors at both the Desert Shootout and NCAA East Regional. Off the course, three Sooners were named to the Academic All-Big 12 Team. Senior Chris Wilson (zoology major) and junior Riley Pumphrey (finance) earned first-team honors, while Sirman (business) was named to the second team. Wilson was one of only two Big 12 men's golfers posting a perfect 4.0 grade-point average.

Women's Golf

The OU women's golf team shattered school records all season long. The four lowest round scores in program history all came from the Sooners 2010-11 campaign, along with the three lowest 54-hole scores. The squad's back-to-back 863's at the UNLV Spring Invitational and MountainView Collegiate are the only times OU has finished under par in a three-round tournament in school history. Senior Ellen Mueller set the school record for lowest 54-hole score, firing a 209 when she won the Dale McNamara Invitational this past fall. As a team, the Sooners won the Dale McNamara by 23 strokes over second-place Oklahoma State and Texas. This year's freshman class, the first recruiting class under second-year head coach Veronique Drouin, is currently ranked No. 3 in the country in the Golfstat Freshman Class Impact Rankings. OU was led for a majority of the season by freshman Chirapat "Ja" Jao-Javanil. The Thailand native posted five top-eight finishes and finished in the top 15 in all but one tournament this season. She was named to the 2011 All-Big 12 team along with senior Ellen Mueller. The Sooners finished the season ranked No. 27 in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings.

Men's Gymnastics

The Oklahoma men's gymnastics team completed another championship year by winning three individual NCAA National Championships as sophomore Jacob Dalton claimed the title on floor and vault and sophomore Alex Naddour claimed the title on pommel horse. Five Oklahoma gymnasts (Troy Nitzky, Steven Legendre, Jacob Dalton, Alex Naddour and Bobby Shortle) claimed 12 All-America honors, which lifts the program total to 217 All-America honors. Oklahoma gymnast Steven Legendre is the winner of the 2011 Nissen-Emery Award, given annually to the nation's most outstanding senior collegiate gymnast. Legendre is the seventh Sooner to garner collegiate gymnastics' top honor. OU's seven honorees lead the nation, with Legendre's award breaking a tie between Oklahoma and Penn State for the top spot. The Sooners finished second at the 2011 NCAA Championship and the MPSF Conference Championship. Three Sooners (Alex Naddour, Jacob Dalton and Steven Legendre) also added five individual MPSF conference titles to increase the program total to 37 titles.

Women's Gymnastics

After a record-breaking 2010 season, the 2011 OU women's gymnastics team set its sight on another trip to the NCAA Super Six. After completing its third undefeated regular season in four years, winning the NCAA Norman Regional and the first NCAA Semifinal, the Sooners made their second straight trip to the Super Six. OU finished in third place, just four-tenths behind national champion Alabama. The Sooners had a program-best 11 All-Americans in 2011, including five first teamers that competed in the NCAA Individual Event Finals. Freshman Madison Mooring was the national runner-up on vault, Natasha Kelley finished fourth on beam and Megan Ferguson finished eighth also on beam. OU led the Big 12 once again with nine All-Big 12 selections and five Academic All-Big 12 first team members. Ferguson and Kelley both won a share of the Big 12 beam title after both scored a 9.925 at the Big 12 Championship, while Kayla Nowak won the floor title with a 9.9. Head Coach K.J. Kindler recorded her 100th win with the OU program on Jan. 23, 2011, as the Sooners defeated TWU, 196.175-193.050.

Rowing

The 2011 Sooner Rowing team made its first appearance in the CRCA/US Rowing poll in school history this season coming in at number 20. In the fall season the championship eight competed and gained a fifteenth place finish against teams such as Princeton, Yale and Stanford at the Head of the Charles. The varsity eight finished first in the San Diego Classic over number 11 UCLA, and placed second in the Big 12 Championship during the spring season. In addition, several rowers were able to excel in the classroom as well with 24 girls making the Big 12 Academic At-Large Team. Three of these students had a 4.0 GPA. Senior Kelsey Witten and Sophomore Rebecca Staff were both chosen for the 2011 Rowing All-Conference USA Team, and Witten also was selected for the 2011 All-Conference USA squad.

Soccer

The 2010 Sooners produced one of the most successful seasons in program history. OU finished with a 12-8-3 mark, one win shy of tying the program record set in 2005, and tied the program record with 37 goals scored en route to making OU's second appearance in the NCAA tournament (first since 2003). The Sooners also appeared in their first Big 12 Championship final and lost in penalty kicks to Oklahoma State, 5-4. Whitney Palmer was named an All-Big 12 selection for the fourth straight year and was selected along with Lauren Alkek in the 2011 WPSL Draft. The two draft picks tied for the national lead.

Softball

The seventh-ranked University of Oklahoma softball team finished 2011 with a 43-19 mark and advanced to the program's sixth NCAA Division I Women's College World Series, its first since 2004. The Sooners finished fifth in the Big 12 Conference with a 10-8 mark. Oklahoma made its 18th straight postseason appearance and opened at home as the nation's No. 9 seed. OU got past Iona (7-1) and Tulsa (6-0) before the Golden Hurricane forced the "if necessary" game on Sunday with a 4-3 nine-inning win. OU responded from the loss by winning 5-0 to advance to the NCAA Super Regional against eighth-seeded Arizona in Tucson. Oklahoma fired all on all cylinders throughout the weekend, downing the Wildcats in two straight games (6-0 and 5-2) to win its first Super Regional. The Sooners fell to No. 1 Arizona State 3-1 in the opening round before being eliminated by Missouri 4-1.

Men's Tennis

The 22nd-ranked Sooners qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season and earned a spot in the Big 12 Championship match for the first time in program history after defeating fourth seeded Texas Tech, 4-0, in the quarterfinals and the top seed Baylor, 4-3, in the semifinals. Additionally, the fifth-seeded Sooners became the lowest seed ever to advance to the Big 12 Championship final. Peerakit Siributwong was named the 2011 Big 12 Freshman of the Year, marking the second straight year a Sooner won the conference award. Three Sooners – Ionut Beleleu, Costin Paval and Siributwong – were All-Big 12 selections and Beleleu was named to the Academic All-Big 12 team.

Women's Tennis

In just his third year with OU, women's tennis head coach David Mullins led the Sooners to their second straight NCAA tournament and to a program-best third place finish in the Big 12 conference. OU recorded back-to-back seasons with at least 18 wins in 2011 for just the third time in school history. OU won four Big 12 position championships (No. 4 and No. 6 singles, No. 1 and No. 2 doubles) while four Sooner singles players and all three OU doubles pairs finished in the top five in the conference. Ana-Maria Constantinescu was named All-Big 12 in both singles and doubles with partner Alice Radu. OU finished the season ranked No. 24 in the country after defeating Cal Poly to advance to the round of 32 in the NCAA tournament. OU had four team members named Academic All-Big 12 for the third consecutive season.

Track & Field

The OU women recorded their best finishes in program history when they took fourth at the NCAA Outdoor Championships and sixth at the NCAA Indoor Championships while three Sooners earned individual NCAA titles. Mookie Salaam claimed the 200-meter dash win at the NCAA Indoor Championships while Candyce McGrone (100-meter dash) and Brittany Borman (javelin) both won titles at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Along with the NCAA titles, OU athletes accounted for 16 first team All-America honors and 12 second team honors. Eighteen program records fell throughout the year as Sooners combined for a total of 12 Big 12 titles during the indoor and outdoor seasons. Salaam earned Big 12 Outstanding Performer of the Year and USTFCCA Midwest Region Track Athlete of the Year honors while the Oklahoma men's program finished fifth in the USTFCCA Program of the Year Race. Associate Head Women's Coach Dana Boone was also named the USTFCCA Midwest Region Women's Assistant Coach of the Year.

Volleyball

Oklahoma finished the season 23-11 overall, the most wins since 28 during the 2006 season and were ranked 21st in the final American Volleyball Coaches Association poll. The Sooners finished third in the Big 12 with a 13-7 mark, the second highest win total for OU in the Big 12 era. Oklahoma advanced to its third Sweet 16 in program history where the Sooners fell in straight sets to the four-time national champion Penn State. It was OU's second consecutive NCAA Championship appearance and fourth in the last five years. Brianne Barker was named to the AVCA All-America third team and earned AVCA All-Central Region first team honors. Suzy Boulavsky was named to the AVCA All-Central Region honorable mention team and the duo was first team All-Big 12 honorees. Sallie McLaurin became the first Sooner to earn Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors and was named Big 12 Rookie of the Week three times. She was also named to the All-Big 12 freshman team.

Wrestling

In Jack Spates final year as head coach, Oklahoma crowned three All-Americans – Jarrod Patterson (125 pounds), Zack Bailey (141) and Tyler Caldwell (165) – at the 2011 NCAA Championships. Caldwell was the NCAA runner-up at 165 pounds after defeating last year's national champion, Andrew Howe of Wisconsin, in the semifinals before falling to Nebraska's Jordan Burroughs in the title match. Additionally, Caldwell and Bailey became OU's first two-time All-Americans since Joel Flaggert (2005-06) and are the 36th and 37th Sooners to have earned the accomplishment. The Sooners finished the 2010-11 regular season with a 13-2 overall record and its three wins in Big 12 action was a feat Oklahoma had not accomplished since the 02-03 squad. Oklahoma finished in 16th place at the NAAs and third at the Big 12 Championships. Six Sooners were named to the 2011 Academic All-Big 12 team and five wrestlers made the Division I All-Academic team. As a team, OU earned 25th on the All-Academic Team standings with a combined 2.991 GPA.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

A STORIED AND ACTIVE TRADITION OF ATHLETICS EXCELLENCE

The University of Oklahoma athletics program boasts a tradition that few schools can rival. Over the years, Sooner squads have combined for 26 team national championships including eight in men's gymnastics, seven in football, seven in wrestling, two in baseball, one in men's golf and one in softball.

The Sooner tradition isn't something buried in the past. It inspires OU's student-athletes to greater heights every season. In 2010-2011, the Sooners recorded their best-ever finish in the Learfield Sports Director's Cup at No. 10. Eighteen of Oklahoma's 21 teams advanced to postseason competition during the 2010-11 school year. Highlights included the men's and women's gymnastics teams finishing No. 3 nationally, the women's track and field team finishing No. 4 and the men's cross country team No. 5. The football team won its seventh Big 12 Championship in eleven seasons and won the 2011 Fiesta Bowl in its eighth BCS bowl appearance in eleven seasons in 2011, while the softball team advanced to the 2011 Women's College World Series.

In 2002, the Sooner men's and women's basketball teams carved their spot in history by advancing to the NCAA Final Four -- only the third time in NCAA history a school accomplished the feat with both teams in the same year. The OU women added two more Final Four appearances in 2009 and 2010, becoming one of only eight programs in NCAA history to reach back-to-back Final Fours.

Even more remarkable, during the 2008-2009 season, the OU football and men's and women's basketball teams combined for 74 wins -- tying the most ever for those three sports by a Division I school in a single season. In 2008-2009, OU went 12-2 in football, 30-6 in men's basketball and 32-5 in women's basketball. The 74-win mark was previously set during the 2001-2002 season by none other than the Oklahoma Sooners. The University of Oklahoma now stands alone in college sports' 30-30-10 club, created exclusively by OU.

Oklahoma's student-athletes continue to lead in the classroom and their actions in the community are exemplary. With the Great Expectations campaign, Oklahoma continues to build the finest facilities in the nation.

Each day, it becomes more evident that the University of Oklahoma has become one of the finest comprehensive athletics program in the country. When OU student-athletes raise the trophy of another championship, the hands responsible for hoisting that trophy symbolize thousands of Sooners around the globe.

The following represents a closer look at the tradition powering the Oklahoma Sooners:

- Oklahoma was playing football before it was a state. It's only one of two Division I football programs to win seven or more national championships. And OU is the only Division I football program ever to record 47 straight victories.

- With Sam Bradford at No. 1, Gerald McCoy at No. 3 and Trent Williams at No. 4, Oklahoma became the first school ever to supply three of the first four NFL Draft picks in 2010. 2010 also marked only the second time that one school has produced the top pick in consecutive NBA (OU's Blake Griffin went first in the 2009 hoops draft) and NFL Drafts. Bradford and Griffin were both named Rookie of the Year in their respective leagues, it was the first time in history that the two award winners came from the same university.

- Oklahoma gymnastics great Bart Conner won two NCAA all-around crowns and led the Sooners to two NCAA titles in 1977 and 1978. A three-time Olympian (1976, '80, '84), Conner won two gold medals in 1984. He was instrumental in the foundation of the International Gymnastics Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City.

- Oklahoma defeated UCLA in the 2000 Women's College World Series to capture the school's first softball national championship. The Sooners won 66 games, broke 15 school records, had four All-Americans, the WCWS Most Outstanding Player, three WCWS all-tournament team members, a Big 12 title, a No. 1 ranking and the National Coaching Staff of the Year. The Sooners became just the second non-West Coast team in NCAA history to win a softball national championship.

- The OU men's basketball team has competed in 27 postseason tournaments in the last 30 years. In 2009 OU produced its 32nd winning season in the last 34 years. No other Big 12 team can boast as many winning campaigns in the span.

- Sooner football has accumulated seven national championships, 43 conference titles, 26 bowl championships, 152 All-Americans and had 350 players drafted by the NFL, including 41 first-round selections and four No. 1 picks: Lee Roy Selmon (1976), Billy Sims (1980), Brian Bosworth (1987—supplemental) and Sam Bradford (2010).

THE SOONER TRADITION

- Oklahoma's storied wrestling program has amassed 23 conference titles and seven national championships. OU has produced 263 All-Americans and its 65 individual national champions ranks third all-time.

- The OU women's basketball team advanced to its third overall and second-consecutive Final Four in 2010 after playing the nation's toughest schedule. The Sooners, at some point, played all four No. 1 seeds in the NCAA Championship and 13 teams ranked in the final top 25.

- Oklahoma football has placed 28 former Sooners into the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, including three head coaches: Bennie Owen in 1951, Bud Wilkinson in 1969 and Barry Switzer in 2001.

- The Oklahoma men's golf program has produced 47 All-Americans, eight three-time All-Americans, eight individual conference champions, 14 conference titles and the 1989 national championship.

- OU football has produced five Heisman Trophy winners: halfback Billy Vessels won the award in 1952, tailback Steve Owens won in 1969, halfback Billy Sims won in 1978, quarterback Jason White brought the trophy back to Norman in 2003 and fellow QB Sam Bradford took home the award last season. OU players have captured 63 national awards and the Sooners have also produced five Outland Trophies, four Walter Camp Trophies, four Butkus Award winners, four Davey O'Brien Awards, three Lombardi Awards, three Thorpe Awards, two Bronko Nagurski Awards, two Maxwell Awards, one Tatupu Award, one Johnny Unitas Award and one Bednarik award.

- The Oklahoma baseball team swept through its regional tournament and the World Series without a loss to capture the 1994 national championship. The Sooners topped off a 42-17 regular season with the school's second national baseball title.

- Oklahoma golf's Charlie Coe was one of the most celebrated amateur players in the history of the game. During his career, Coe captured U.S. amateur crowns in 1949, 1958 and 1959. He also played in 19 straight Masters Tournaments. Coe competed on the Walker Cup teams of 1949, 1951 and 1953.

- Oklahoma wrestling has produced 18 Olympians who have collectively won three gold and two silver medals. Brothers Dave and Mark Schultz both won gold in the 1984 games.

- Oklahoma baseball won the 1951 College World Series with a come-from-behind win over Tennessee in the championship game to become the first team in history to claim the title after winning the double-elimination tournament without a defeat.

- Oklahoma baseball advanced to its 10th College World Series appearance in 2010 and finished the season ranked No. 5 nationally, the program's highest finish since claiming OU's second national title in 1994.

- Oklahoma basketball great Wayman Tisdale was a three-time All-American for the Sooners from 1983-85 and is the all-time leading scorer and rebounder in OU history. He was a member of the 1984 gold-medal-winning U.S. Olympic team and was recently named the greatest player ever in the Big Eight Conference by a panel of longtime conference media observers and officials. Tisdale's No. 23 jersey was retired by Oklahoma in 1997 -- the first jersey ever retired by OU in any sport.

- Sooner basketball great Stacey Dales graduated as the most decorated player in the program's history in 2002. She was the WNBA's third overall draft pick by the Washington Mystics. In addition to leading OU to the 2002 national championship game, Dales was a two-time consensus All-American, two-time Big 12 Player of the Year, four-time Academic All-Big 12 selection, and two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American.

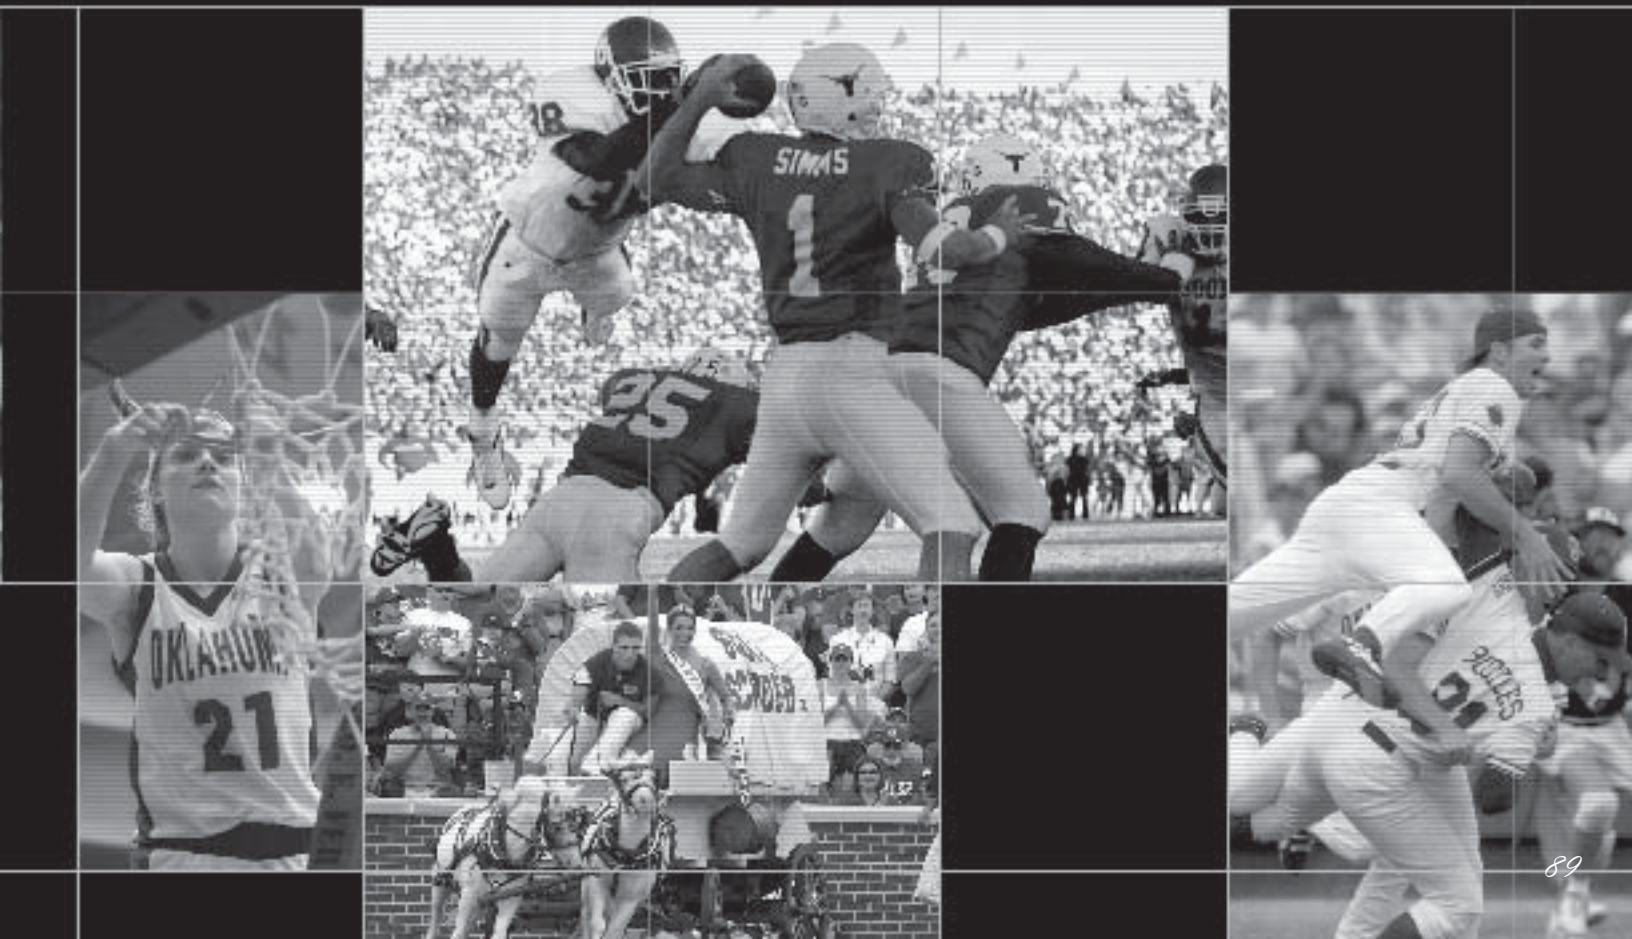

- Former OU letterwinners Michael Blackwood (track and field), Jonathan Horton (men's gymnastics) and Danny McFarlane (track and field) represented Oklahoma at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing.

- Three-time OU All-American Anthony Kim won the 2008 AT&T National in early July, becoming the first American golfer since Tiger Woods to win twice in one year on the PGA Tour. Kim was also a member of the victorious U.S. squad at the 2008 Ryder Cup where he played a crucial role in winning the cup with a crushing defeat of Sergio Garcia.

- OU women's gymnastics made its eighth-straight NCAA Championships in 2011 and its second straight NCAA top three finish. OU made back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Super Six in 2010 and 2011, finishing in a program best second place in 2010 and third place overall in 2011. The Sooners completed their third undefeated regular season in four years in 2011 and currently own the nation's longest regular season win streak at 29.

- OU women's gymnastics became the first women's sport at Oklahoma to be ranked No. 1 during the regular season in 2010. The Sooners were ranked first or second in every regular season poll in 2010, as the Sooners were the only squad in the country to score above a 196.000 in every meet.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

SOME OF THE MOST RECOGNIZED TRADITIONS IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS

The University of Oklahoma has a long and storied history. The rich tradition has given birth to some of the most recognized pageantry in all of college athletics. Here is a look at the origin of some of the elements that create the wonderful atmosphere so unique to OU:

Sooners

College sports fans are hard-pressed to find a nickname that is as unique and as tied in to a state's history as a Sooner. The University of Oklahoma is the only school known as Sooners and those who claim that they are Sooners say it with pride.

The Oklahoma Territory opened with the Land Run of 1889. Settlers from across the globe, seeking free land, made their way to the prairies of the plains to stake their claim. One of the few rules to claiming a lot of land was that all participants were to start at the same time, on the boom of a cannon. All settlers who started then were labeled as "Boomers" and the ones who went early were called "Sooners."

OU athletic teams were called either Rough Riders or Boomers for 10 years before the current Sooner nickname emerged in 1908. The university actually derived its name from a pep club called "The Sooner Rooters." The success of University of Oklahoma athletics teams over the years has made the nickname synonymous with winning.

Boomer Sooner

One of the most recognizable college fight songs in the country, Boomer Sooner immediately evokes enthusiasm from OU fans and sends chills down the spines of those who dare to oppose them.

In 1905, Arthur M. Alden, a student in history and physiology whose father was a Norman jeweler, wrote the lyrics to the fight song, borrowing the tune from Yale University's Boola Boola but improvising the words. A year later, an addition was made to it from North Carolina's I'm a Tarheel Born and the two combined to form today's university fight song. Though the tune was first made known by Yale, the everlasting success of Sooner squads has taken the melody of Boomer Sooner to national popularity.

Mascots

The Sooner Schooner is a Conestoga, or covered wagon, reminiscent of the mode of travel used by pioneers who settled Oklahoma. The Schooner is powered by matching white ponies named Boomer and Sooner, and it ventures onto Owen Field in a triumphant victory ride after OU scores. Although the Schooner was introduced in 1964, it did not become the official mascot until 1980. The Schooner is well-recognized by college athletics fans across the country and makes regular appearances at university functions.

During OU football and baseball games from 1915-1928, Mex the Dog wore a red sweater with a letter "O" on the side. Mex died of old age on April 30, 1928, and he was so popular among students and faculty that the university closed for his funeral and procession on May 2, 1928.

In the fall of 2005, the OU Athletics Department introduced costumed mascots. The new characters will act as an extension of the Sooner Schooner and its horses to be enjoyed by fans -- especially children -- at all OU athletics contests. The costumes feature traditional collegiate gear as part of their regular uniform, but will don team uniforms for football and men's and women's basketball. They were voted "Most Collegiate" by the Universal Cheerleading Association (UCA).

SOONER SPIRIT

In the fall of 1895, Miss May Overstreet, the only woman on the faculty, was asked to chair a committee to select the colors of the university. The committee decided the colors should be crimson and cream and an elaborate display of the colors was draped above a platform before the student body.

Even though the school colors have evolved to red and white over the years, you can ask any self-respecting Sooner what the colors are and they will proudly announce "Crimson and Cream."

Pride of Oklahoma

In the early years of the 1900s, both townspeople of Today, the 300-member Pride of Oklahoma has members representing virtually every college and major on campus. The Pride of Oklahoma stands for excellence in musicianship, academics, school spirit, and commitment to our role in the surrounding community.

OU Chant

Every fan who wears the official colors, each current student and student-athlete and all OU alumni are encouraged to stand and raise one finger in the air during the playing of the Chant -- a symbolic gesture that shows those who do not know what it means to be

O-K-L-A-H-O-M-A

Our chant rolls on and on!

Thousands strong

Join heart and song

In alma mater's praise

Of campus beautiful by day and night

Of colors proudly gleaming Red and White

'Neath a western sky

OU's chant will never die.

SUPPORTING THE COMMUNITY THAT SUPPORTS OU

OU lives by a clear and strong motto in dealing with its student-athletes...Inspiring Champions for Today, Preparing Leaders for Tomorrow. To fulfill that promise, the athletics department and student-athletes take an active role in a number of community service projects. Sooner student-athletes are exposed to life outside of sports and school work with opportunities to serve and help others.

The Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) is a committee made up of student-athletes from all 21 intercollegiate athletic teams at the University of Oklahoma. The group coordinates community service programs for the Sooners each month.

"Giving back is something that benefits us as much as those we're helping," says OU head softball coach Patty Gasso. "It brings us back to reality and makes us realize that there is more to life than collegiate softball. I feel it's our duty to help out because of the role we're in as a Division I softball program."

Oklahoma women's basketball teams have been extremely active in the community since head coach Sherri Coale's arrival in 1996. In addition to projects with the United Way, Coaches vs. Cancer, Mission of Hope for Haiti and Food and Shelter for Friends, Coale implemented the Sooner Big Sis Program which places women's basketball players at elementary schools in Norman to serve as mentors and teachers' aides.

"I want our student-athletes to learn through their experience here," says Coale, "how important it is to volunteer to be a part of whatever community they decide to reside in when their playing days are over."

Oklahoma's student-athletes recognize that wearing the Crimson and Cream means representing a popular sports program and themselves as individuals. They are encouraged to respond to a public that adores them, while learning important lessons about making a positive impact in the lives of others and in the community in which they live.

Community service events for OU student-athletes from the past year included:

More than 1400 hours of community service were put in by OU student-athletes through the Life Skills Program. Events included reading to school children, leading middle school FCA meetings, speaking to elementary school children, and visits to children's hospital.

Participated in Adopt-an-Angel Holiday Toy Drive in which toys and clothing were given to the Salvation Army, Women's Center, Crossroads Youth, Cleveland County and individuals in need during the holiday season from the OU Athletics Department staff and student-athletes. We provided a happy holiday to 60 children.

The Annual Safe Trick-or-Treat hosted by the Sooner Housing Center and OU student-athletes provided candy, games and safe entertainment for hundreds of local children and their families at the Sooner Housing Center.

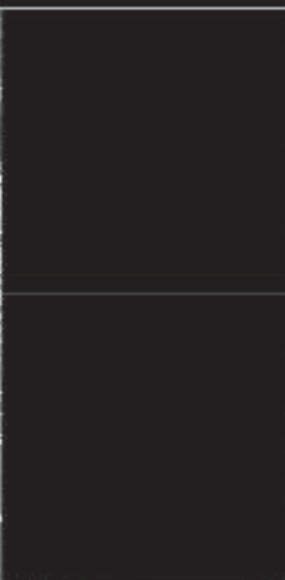

Held an Athletics Department canned food drive to help benefit those in need during the Thanksgiving holiday. Donations were made by student-athletes and athletics department staff to Food & Shelter for Friends and the Salvation Army in Norman, OK. Over 2000 nonperishable food items were donated.

Held a campus wide OU Athletics Department blood drive with the American Red Cross to help save lives. Over 60 donors participated and 51 pints of blood were collected.

Made contact with more than 1000 Norman Public School students in 20 schools participating in tutoring, mentoring, speaking engagements, and other special events through efforts of student-athletes, coaches, and Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC).

Hosted Special Spectators with Football, Baseball, Women's Basketball and Women's

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Gymnastics. Over 20 seriously ill children from the Children's Hospital in Oklahoma City have visited for a day of sports and fun.

Men's Baseball made their annual visit to both the Willow Springs Boy's Ranch to do manual labor. The baseball team has also continued to visit the "Miracle League".

Sooner football players spent more than 300 hours involved in various community projects during the course of the year including the Clinic for Kids, visiting elementary schools and conducting the annual food drive.

Continuous visits to various elementary schools were made by members of the Football, Men's Baseball, Men's and Women's Gymnastics, Men's and Women's Basketball, Women's Golf, Softball, and Rowing teams in Norman to help our student-athletes reach even more local students.

Men's and Women's Basketball, Wrestling, Women's Gymnastics, Softball, Women's Golf, Soccer, and Rowing reached out to children with illnesses as they made visits to Children's Hospital, OU Medical Center, and the JD McCarty Center.

Oklahoma women's basketball players supported the United Way through its monthly work with East Main Place, a homeless shelter in Norman, by serving meals to the hungry during Thanksgiving and by supporting local members of the Special Olympics at the Area Track Meet hosted at Norman High School.

Student-athletes from Women's Softball and Women's Gymnastics participated in the annual Susan G. Komen Foundation Race the Cure at the SBC Bricktown Ballpark in Oklahoma City.

Numerous student-athletes from the Women's Basketball, Women's Golf, and Rowing teams have volunteered at Food & Shelter for Friends along with other food shelters in the Norman Community.

Men's and Women's Basketball teams have continued to host their annual Special Olympic Basketball Clinic. This event has allowed the basketball student-athletes to host and develop relationships with over 150 Special Olympic athletes.

Baseball, soccer, wrestling and men's tennis hosted free youth clinics throughout the season.

Members of the Women's Basketball and Football teams took part in the Hope for Haiti mission trip.

Men's and Women's Track and Field, Rowing, and Softball teams continue to volunteer at the Cleveland County Habitat for Humanity.

Women's basketball players and coaches participated in the Sooner Big Sis Program, an event in which each student-athlete selects a Norman elementary school class and visits the class weekly for an hour.

A number of student-athletes are continuing to stay involved in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization.

Five student-athletes were selected to participate in Second Annual Big 12 Leadership Summit in Norman, OK on June 24th- 26th.

Three student-athletes were nominated and chosen for Chick-Fil-A Community of Champions Award.

The rowing team earned the 2012 CHAMPS/Life Skills Team Competition Award. The team earned points through community service hours, attendance at life skills events, athletics competitions, BridgeBuilder and SAAC events as well as participation in campus cultural events. The squad also earned points for individual GPAs.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

SHOWCASING THE SOONERS TO A NATIONAL AUDIENCE

Oklahoma Athletics is a household name due to the overwhelming media attention that hovers around the Sooners. Writers and broadcasters representing the nation's most recognized media outlets regularly interact with Sooner players and coaches and routinely spend time in Norman.

And when they can't come to campus, those same observers keep tabs on OU thanks to extensive television coverage. The Sooners are at the very center of the college athletics and everybody is watching.

In 2010, all 14 Oklahoma football games appeared on live television. OU enters the 2011 season with a streak of 112 consecutive televised games and has been shown on TV 322 times dating back to the 1953 season.

During the 2010-2011 season, the men's basketball team received live television coverage of 31 games, including nine nationally televised contests.

The women's basketball team was seen live for 25 games during the 2010-2011 season, including national coverage for 14 contests.

The OU baseball team received television coverage for 30 games in 2010, including 10 on national networks.

The softball team had nine games televised live in 2010, including three games on national networks.

The women's gymnastics team had three meets televised in 2010. The Sooners' quad meet with Ohio State, Illinois and TWU was broadcasted locally, while the 2011 Big 12 Championship and the 2011 NCAA Super Six were replayed nationally.

OU's wrestling and volleyball teams both had live television coverage during the 2010-2011 season. Wrestling's match with Oklahoma State was covered live as a part of the Bedlam series on both Dec. 12, 2010, and Feb. 20, 2011. Volleyball's home game against Texas A&M was covered live on Nov. 2, 2010.

The men's gymnastics team has had regular television coverage thanks to consistent top-10 rankings through the years. The nation will focus its eyes on Norman in April 2011 when the Sooners hosted the NCAA Men's Gymnastics National Championships at Lloyd Noble Center.

The Women's College World Series is hosted in Oklahoma City each year, with all games shown live across the nation.

The popularity of the Sooners is evident in the immense amount of products and apparel purchased by fans. OU ranks 11th in the Collegiate Licensing Consortium.

Since 2000, Oklahoma student-athletes have appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated 13 times. Sooner football is one of the most popular subjects for SI with 34 cover appearances.

Over the past nine years, ESPN's popular College Football Gameday production has broadcast on site from 24 of Oklahoma's games.

An average of over 3 million people logged on to SoonerSports.com every month last year, making the official Web site of the Oklahoma Athletics Department one of the top collegiate sites in the nation.

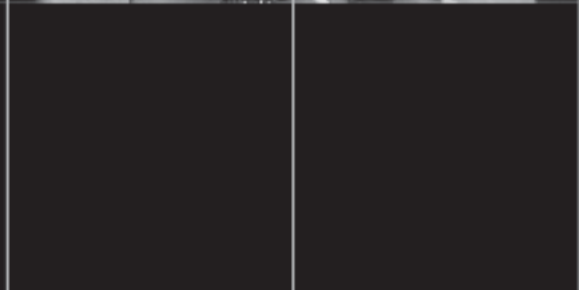

Many former Sooners have gone on to successful careers as talent for the nation's top media outlets including CBS' Spencer Tillman and Stacey Dales, formerly with ESPN. Former OU athletes are often called on to provide color commentary during regional broadcasts due to their championship experience and athletics expertise.

IN THE MEDIA SPOTLIGHT

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

ROBIN SIEGFRIED & FAMILY STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COMPLEX

Oklahoma's weight training program is a pioneer in the development of strength and conditioning, and is a vital part of the Sooners' tradition of success. OU strength and conditioning coaches utilize their expertise along with a wide array of equipment and tests to produce national championship caliber athletes.

Evaluation, goal-oriented programs, supervision and state-of-the-art facilities help Oklahoma athletes become bigger, faster, stronger and more flexible. The Robin Siegfried & Family Strength and Conditioning Complex, located in the Barry Switzer Center, has 13,000 square feet to facilitate the intensive training of OU athletes. An additional facility, the Roy Williams Strength Training Facility, is available for workouts inside the Everest Training Center. The former Sooner football All-American and current Cincinnati Bengal made the center possible through a gift to the University.

Jerry Schmidt, director of sports enhancement, says the complex is a state-of-the-art facility where athletes work closely with six full-time staff members. "Oklahoma recognizes the importance of conditioning," says Schmidt. "This facility is reflective of that commitment."

The objective of the strength and conditioning program is to ensure each student-athlete in every sport is provided with a sound in-season and off-season program. This program of activity includes strength, conditioning, flexibility and nutrition. A strength and conditioning coordinator for each sport is provided to assist athletes in reaching the highest possible training levels.

The OU strength and conditioning staff takes great pride in providing a very intensive program that helps maintain greater overall body strength and conditioning levels during the season. By maintaining strength in the muscles and connective tissues throughout the season, the potential for injuries decreases.

The off-season program is also extremely intensive. Speed, strength, power, agility, fundamentals and nutrition are addressed. The OU staff is committed to full compliance with NCAA rules concerning time allocation for student-athletes and voluntary workouts during off-season periods.

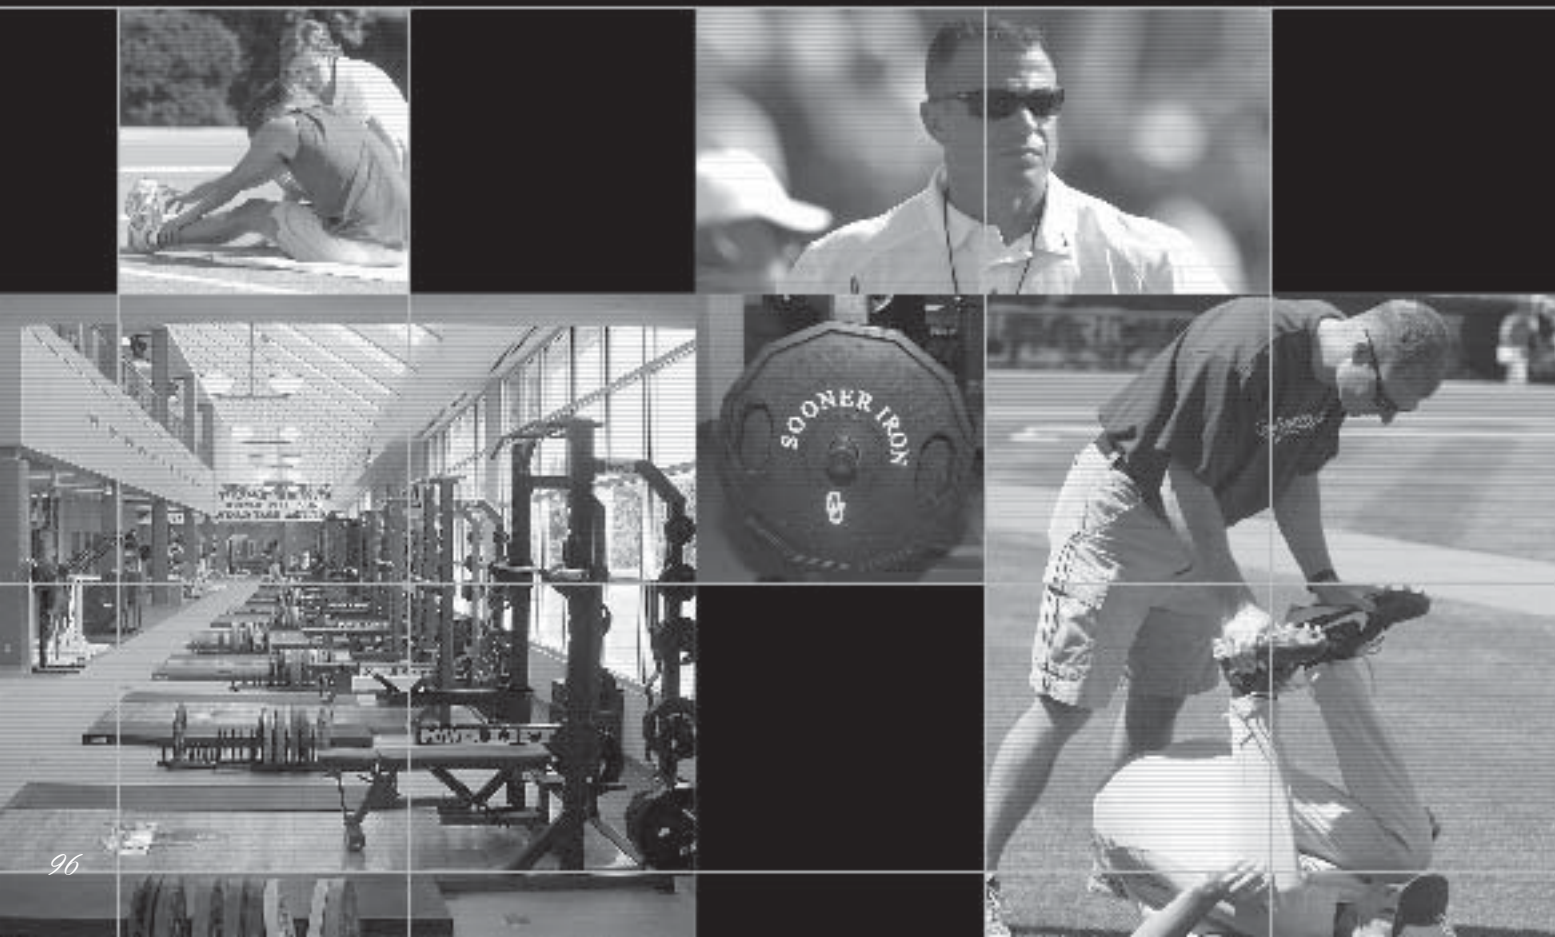

The staff's interaction with the nutritional consultants on campus is essential. The staff maintains an open channel of communication with the dining staff at the Wagner Dining Center. This interaction enables the strength and conditioning staff to ensure that OU athletes receive a winning edge with a sound nutrition program.

"Our goal is to get the student-athletes in their best condition," says Schmidt. "That condition will give Oklahoma an edge at the end of a game. Top of the line conditioning is what it takes to be a Sooner athlete. Running, lifting and good nutrition must be kept in a balance. All these components must be in place for an athlete to compete at the highest level."

Located at the south end of the Gaylord Family Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Barry Switzer Center houses administrative offices, the football locker room, the equipment room, the 10,000-square-foot Henry J. Freede Sports Medicine Facility and the 7,000-square-foot Touchdown Club Legends Lobby in addition to the Siegfried and Family Strength and Conditioning Complex.

STRENGTH AND MEDICAL TRAINING

HENRY J. FREEDE, M.D., SPORTS MEDICINE FACILITY

The Oklahoma Athletics Department feels a strong responsibility to help its athletes reach and maintain their optimum health and achieve conditioning goals. For this reason, OU has developed excellent training and conditioning programs to lessen the possibility of injuries. However, should injuries occur, the department is committed to a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Complete athletically-related medical services are provided to Oklahoma student-athletes by team physicians and OU's certified athletic trainers. The University of Oklahoma obtains the services of the best medical consultants available.

The base of operation for the Sooners' medical care is the state-of-the-art Henry J. Freede, M.D. Sports Medicine Center in the Barry Switzer Center.

Head athletic trainer Scott Anderson says the addition to the Barry Switzer Center has allowed the university to upgrade to a new edition of rehabilitation equipment that can best benefit the student-athletes.

From simple therobands to taping tables, the facility offers everything a school can have or hope to have. The Sooner training room is equipped to perform isokinetic joint evaluation for preventive medicine and for post-injury rehabilitation.

The therapy room is supplied with the latest modalities on the market.

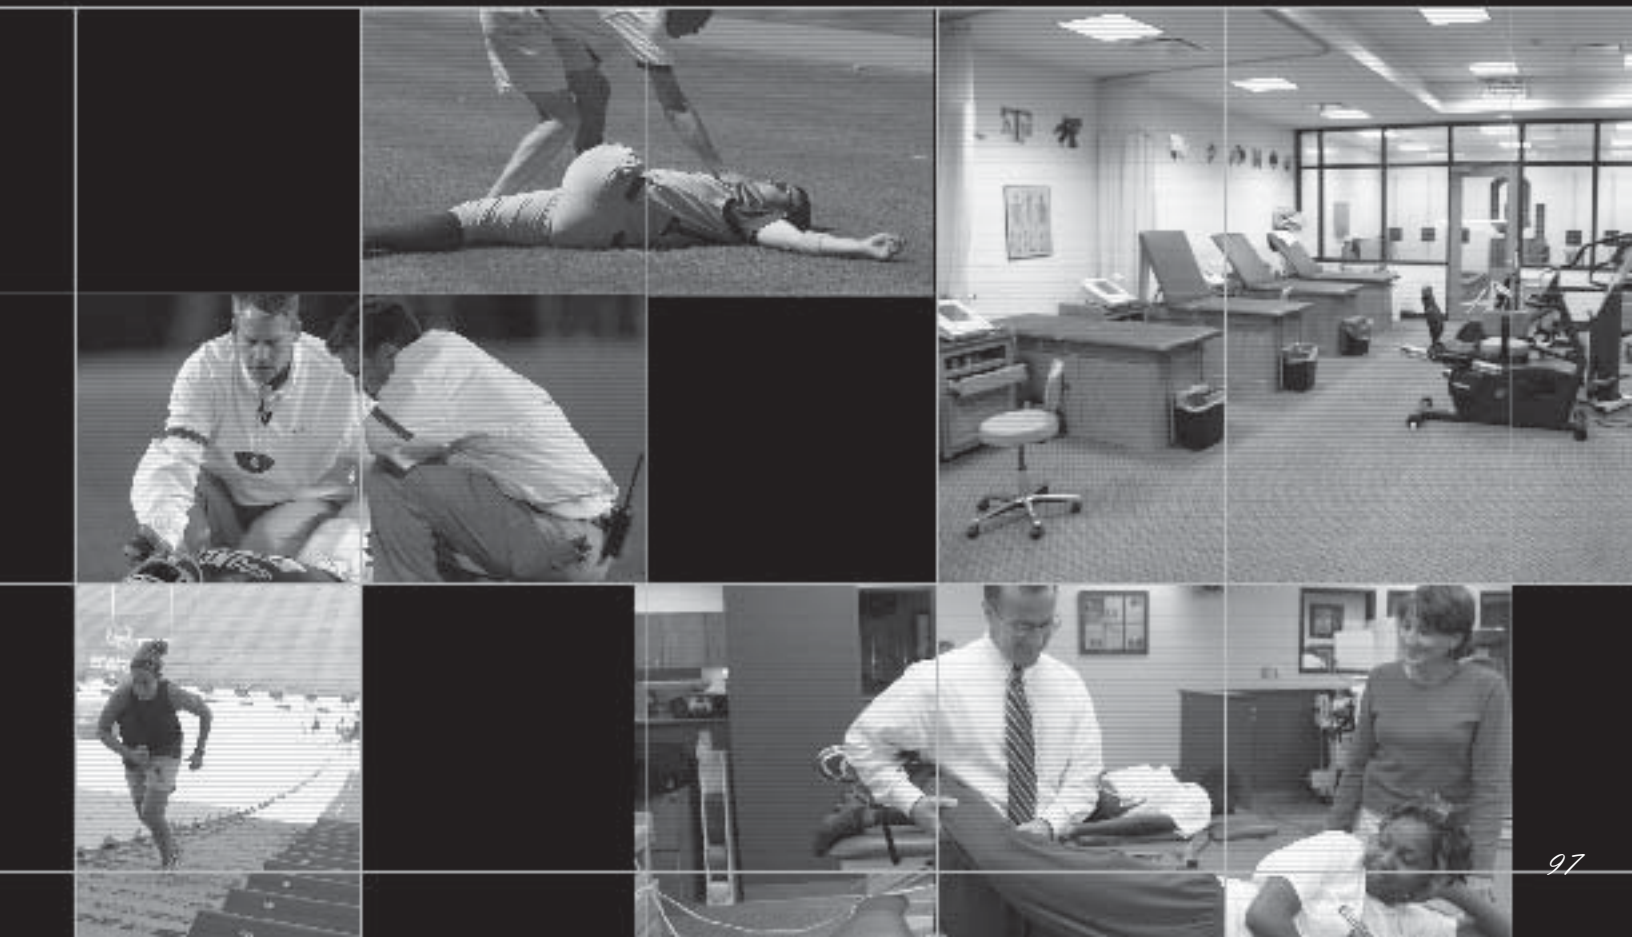

"The addition of space is the greatest benefit," says Anderson. "This space allows for dedicated rehabilitation and consultation to the athletes. An option with the facility is the water rehabilitation area. The athlete stands in a pool of water that is adjusted to his or her own physical needs. Cameras are then placed where physicians can monitor the progress made by the athlete on his or her road to recovery."

A total team effort is the key to OU's efficiency in preventing, treating and rehabilitating injuries sustained by student-athletes. These measures keep Sooner athletes at their highest level of performance as they compete for championships.

"Sports medicine is a team effort," says Anderson. "The stated goal of athletic training at Oklahoma is, first of all, care for the student-athletes, thereby granting our sports a competitive advantage and ultimately greater esteem for the entire program."

"To that end we are blessed with a full complement of self-sacrificing medical professionals working on a regular basis with our athletic training staff."

GREAT EXPECTATIONS AND BEYOND

With one of the greatest winning traditions in intercollegiate athletics, the University of Oklahoma, its players, coaches and fans understand the meaning of "Great Expectations." OU hopes for and expects great things from its athletics teams -- and the athletes and coaches expect the same from themselves. Time and time again, the Sooners have delivered on this expectation: 26 national championships, more than 200 conference titles and more than 1,000 All-Americans.

The University of Oklahoma's goal is to provide first-class facilities and resources for all the programs and endeavors sponsored by the institution. OU Athletics captures so much attention and interest that it requires the help and support of all Sooners to continue the tradition that all have enjoyed. With that in mind, OU launched "Great Expectations...The Campaign for Sooner Sports" in 1999.

"Great Expectations - The Campaign for Sooner Sports," a recently completed fund-raising effort, was about the continuation of a proud championship tradition. It was a five-year campaign launched with an eventual goal of $100 million, making possible an extraordinary era in new athletics facilities that has led to unprecedented athletic and academic success for OU student-athletes.

Among the accomplishments made possible by Great Expectations' donors: an expanded, renovated and more beautiful football stadium; two completely new facilities for men's and women's basketball at Lloyd Noble Center; new or renovated facilities for baseball, softball, volleyball, wrestling, softball, tennis, soccer and track and field; new strength and conditioning and sports medicine centers and an indoor training center.

Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium

The $75 million expansion and renovation of OU's football stadium, completed in 2004, transformed a towering concrete structure into a beautiful facility featuring the brick and cast stone that characterize OU's historic buildings. The expansion added 8,000 seats, including 56 suites, on the east side. At the same time, the press box was remodeled and outfitted with several state-of-the-art features. This historical facility is the largest sports arena in the state, and following its recent expansion, now ranks among the 15 largest on-campus facilities in the nation.

Everest Training Center

Considered one of the premier indoor facilities in the country, the Everest Training Center is a 74,000-square-foot center that includes a full-size playing field, simulated stadium lighting, a complete scoreboard with play clocks, LED 40-yard timing devices and a ceiling that hangs 65 feet above the playing surface to allow for all kicking and throwing drills.

McClendon Center for Intercollegiate Athletics

While the football gameday facilities in the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium may be more familiar to OU supporters, the north side McClendon Center for Intercollegiate Athletics is one of the most vital areas for OU's entire athletics program as it is the center of student learning and athletics administration activities.

Robin Siegfried and Family Strength and Conditioning Complex

This 13,000-square-foot facility serves more than 500 athletes in OU's 21 sports. The state-of-the-art facility inside the Barry Switzer Center has been central to OU's success in recent years and helped develop OU's reputation as a pioneer in the strength and conditioning field.

Barry Switzer Center

A special feature is the Barry Switzer Center on the south side of the Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, where OU's storied football history is displayed, media conferences are held and recruits are entertained. The center recently experienced a significant upgrade to reflect this success and to fully realize the original vision as an exhibit area focusing on OU's greatest victories and most successful coaching eras.

Henry J. Freede, M.D., Sports Medicine Facility

This 10,000-square-foot sports medicine facility within the Barry Switzer Center treats athletes from all 21 sports, ensuring the best possible health for OU student-athletes through preventative medicine and post-injury treatment and rehabilitation.

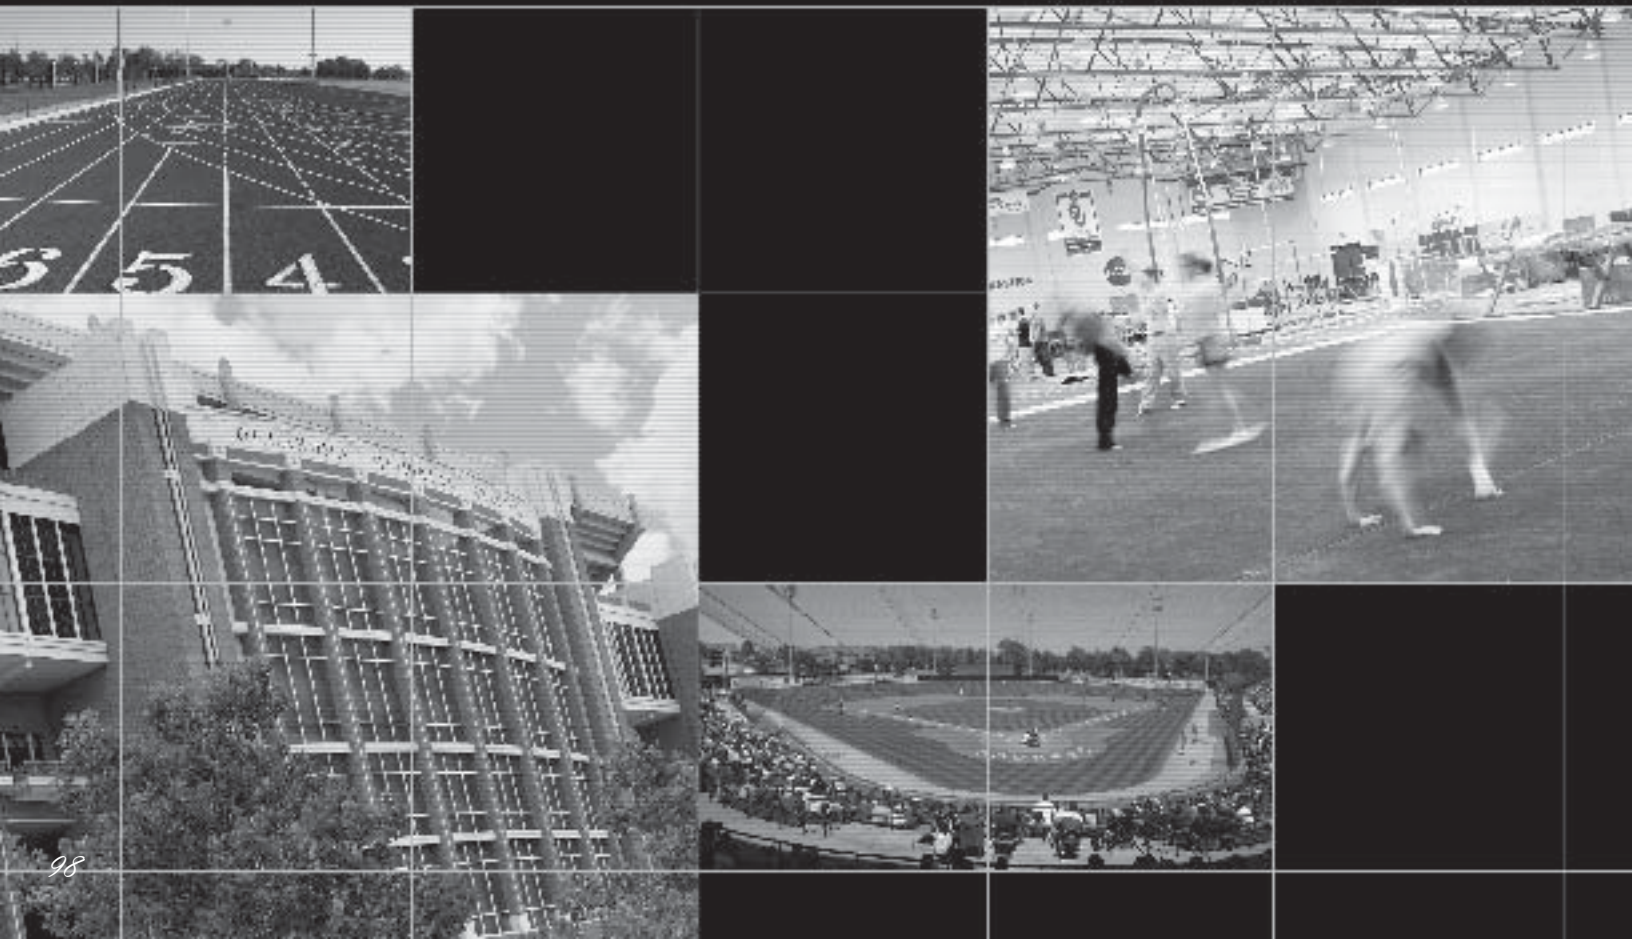

Fred & Mary Eddy Jones Foundation Red Room

The Red Room is where OU football players meet as a team or offensive/defensive units to watch motivational videos before each game. OU's offense and defense post their goals for each week, and the Sooner coach holds his post-game press conference in this area.

Headington Family Tennis Center Expansion

The men's and women's tennis teams compete in one of the finest indoor venues in the country. Highlights of the new 55,000 square-foot facility include six air-conditioned courts, championship-quality lighting and surface, and approximately 375 chair-back seats for spectators, which are elevated between the courts. The programs opened a 12-court outdoor championship facility in 2001 during the Great Expectations campaign that was particularly notable because it was donations exclusively from tennis letterwinners who made the new courts possible.

John Crain Field at the OU Soccer Complex

The University of Oklahoma Athletics Department and the soccer program enjoyed a $4.5 million expansion to the soccer stadium in 2006. In addition to a press box and a permanent grandstand, a multi-use building is located between John Crain Field at the OU Soccer Complex and the Headington Family Tennis Center at the corner of Chautauqua Avenue and Imhoff Road. The multi-purpose complex includes locker rooms, meeting and video rooms and offices for the student-athletes and coaches.

Softball Hitting Facility

The OU softball team broke ground on an indoor hitting facility in July 2008 that was completed prior to the 2009 season. In 2002, the Robert E. Young and Family Softball Locker Room was added to the Softball Complex, giving the team a spacious and comfortable gathering place for preparation and relaxation. In 2003, the softball field was named in honor of retired softball coach and women's administrator Marita Hynes.

Baseball Practice Facility

With an estimated cost of $1 million, the OU baseball team opened an indoor hitting facility and practice infield at L. Dale Mitchell Park prior to the 2009 season. The 5,160-square-foot facility has three full-size hitting/pitching lanes and is air conditioned and heated. Previous renovations to L. Dale Mitchell Park were completed in 2001 when the press box underwent state-of-the-art improvements including four suites and a press area, the Mike Treps Media Room. The facility originally opened in 1982.

John Jacobs Track and Field Complex

The project, which was completed in spring 2004, included a 25,000-square-foot building connecting the Mosier Indoor Practice Facility with the Everest Training Center. This new building includes track and field locker rooms, a sports medicine room and a video teaching room. The John Jacobs Track was altered and re-surfaced to include European Oval turns for a faster track and nine 48-inch wide lanes. Other improvements include upgrades of field event areas, placing them directionally north/south and east/west to take advantage of wind conditions; spectator seating for 2,000; new restrooms and concessions; and the installation of championship lighting.

Howard McCasland Field House

The Field House is one of OU's most historic buildings. Many OU alumni fondly recall the field house as the home of OU's basketball program, which it was until Lloyd Noble Center opened in 1975. In 2005, the Field House underwent a $6 million facelift that included a complete interior renovation comprised of a resanded and repainted floor with four efficient practice courts and chair-back seating that offers fans more comfort. In addition, the entire facility was repainted and improvements were made to the HVAC system, sound system, lighting and scoreboards. The Sooners have also enjoyed renovations done to the training room as well as an upgrade to both the volleyball and wrestling locker rooms.

Wrestling Practice Facility

Connected to the McCasland Field House, the Athletics Department launched a $2.4 million project in 2008. The bulk of the construction will include a $1.3 million addition to the Port Robertson Wrestling Center. The facility serves as the practice venue for the Sooner wrestling team.

Mary Jane Noble Women's Basketball Center

In 1975, the Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation of Ardmore made the first million-dollar gift in OU history with its contribution to OU's campaign to build a multi-purpose arena. In 1999, the foundation made another gift to support the renovation of the original center, adding first-class matching facilities for the men's and women's basketball teams. The Lloyd Noble Center addition includes two new full-sized practice courts for the men's and women's basketball teams.

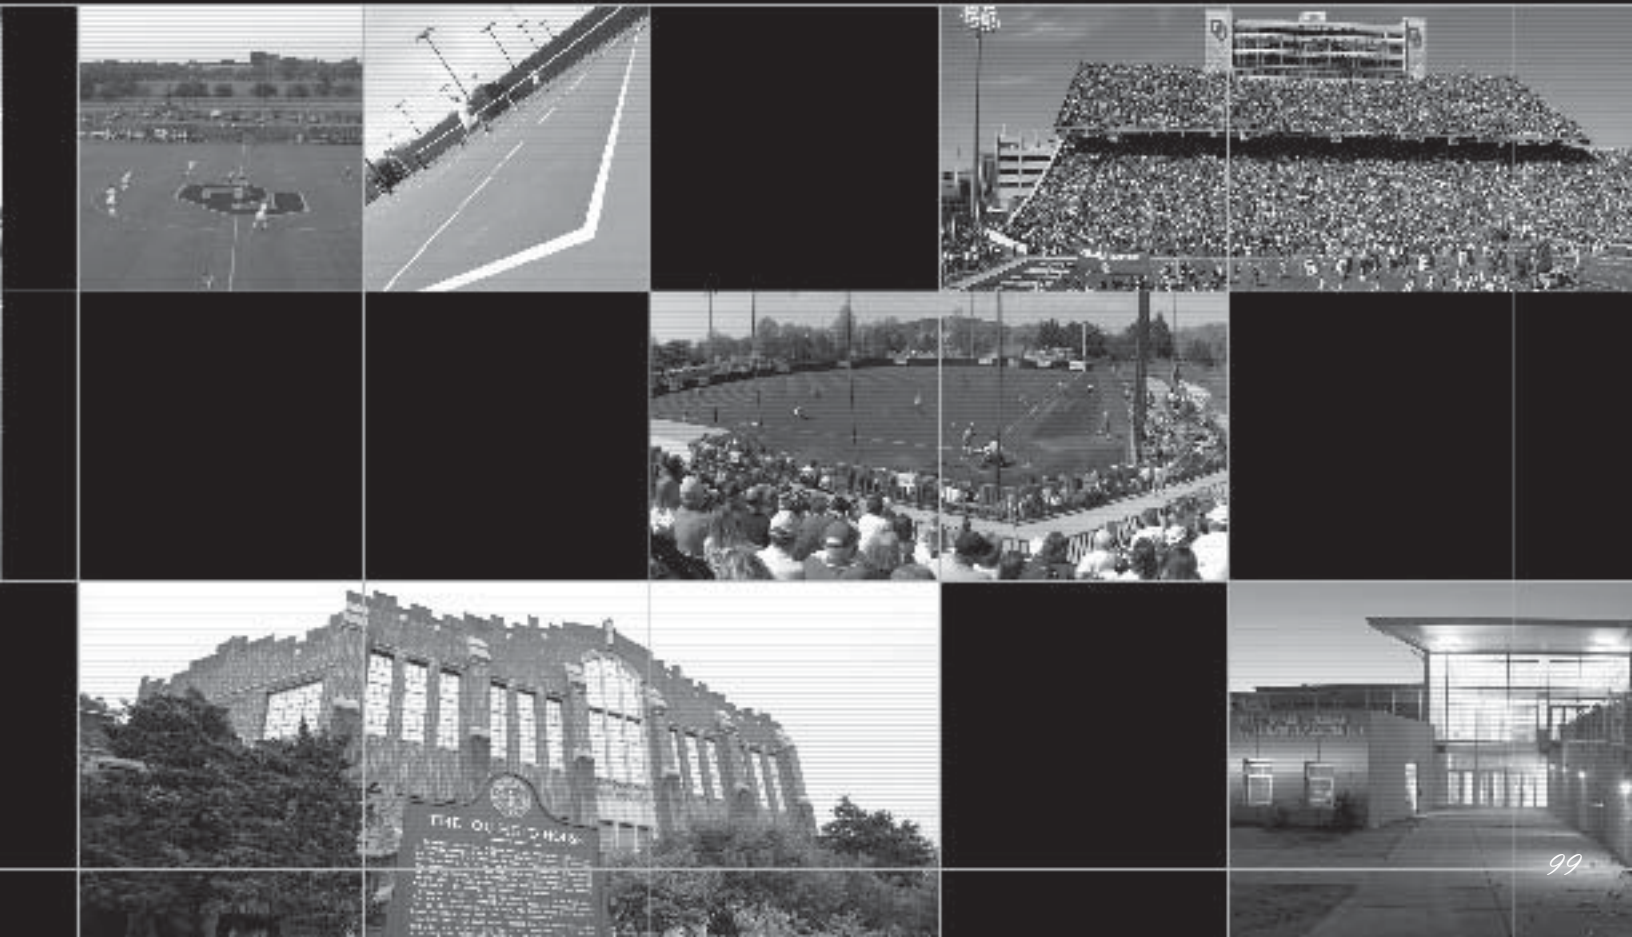

Bob and Ann Coleman Men's Basketball Center

The nearly 63,000-square-foot Lloyd Noble Center addition offers a matched set of men's and women's facilities, including full-sized practice courts, new team and coaches' locker rooms, training rooms and steam/spa/sauna rooms. Office facilities and conference rooms provide views of the practice courts as special features and a shared weight training facility was created. The Kerr-McGee Courtside Club gives fans a venue for special events.

Sam Viersen Gymnastics Center

A state-of-the-art 7,000 square foot addition and a complete overhaul of the existing Sam Viersen Gymnastics Center was finalized in the spring of 2010, ensuring that the home of Oklahoma Gymnastics remains one of the nation's premier collegiate training facilities. Funded entirely by private donations without the use of any state or university appropriated funds, the project included a complete renovation of the current gym, locker rooms, sports medicine training rooms and the awards recognition room.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA SOONERS

A UNIVERSITY TOWN WITH A CHAMPIONSHIP SPIRIT

Norman has been named by Money Magazine as No. 6 of America's Best Places to Live among "small" cities or locations with a population between 50,000 and 300,000.

Norman is an ever-changing city of nearly 100,000 residents. Located in the heart of the state, it has grown to become the third largest city in Oklahoma. Despite its continuous growth, it has maintained the spirit and serenity of a small close-knit community.

Since the Oklahoma landrush of 1889, Norman has grown into a popular and smart city. The spirit of Norman and its citizens is unwavering and uncompromising. While other towns were clamoring to become the state capital, Norman residents desired to have the first state university. When the first OU president got off the train and saw a prairie, he saw opportunity.

As home to the state's premier educational institution, Norman boasts an excellent quality of life and is a city that thrives on and celebrates the diversity of its community.

Legendary University of Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer called Norman "a university town with a championship spirit." Norman continually exhibits its love for sports by hosting numerous local and national athletic events.

In the last five years alone, Norman has served as host of the NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championship, an NCAA men's golf regional, NCAA softball regionals, NCAA men's and women's gymnastics regionals, NCAA women's tennis regionals, NCAA track and field regional and the NCAA women's basketball regionals. In addition, the Big 12 Conference Men's and Women's Tennis, Track and Field, Wrestling, Women's Golf, and Women's Gymnastics Championships were held in Norman.

Cultural activities are unlimited in Norman, making it the ideal backdrop for the University of Oklahoma. As home to people of all ethnic and educational backgrounds, the city has something to offer everyone. Norman is home to a variety of enriching events and attractions, including the Sooner Theater, which hosts a series of entertaining theatrical performances produced by locally-based talent and touring companies.

The city also showcases local and regional artists in its annual May Fair. In addition, through the university's School of Drama, School of Dance and the School of Music, stage productions are offered year round.

The Medieval Fair has become a springtime tradition in Norman as people from around the country converge on the city for one weekend each April to partake in a fascinating look back in time. Each year, an area park is transformed into a festival of sights, sounds and tastes straight from the Middle Ages. Knights joust, jesters entertain and story tellers spin tales of a magical time in history.

The $44 million Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History, a state-of-the-art facility designed to display a collection of historical and natural science items that trace the southwest's development since prehistoric times, opened in May 2000. History buffs will also enjoy the Cleveland County Historical House which holds exhibits relating to the development of this area of the state.

For art enthusiasts, the Fred Jones Jr. Memorial Art Center houses permanent collections, nationally and world-renowned traveling exhibits as well as a yearly student art show. The museum has recently added the Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionist paintings -- the single most important gift of art ever given to a U.S. public university.

Maintaining a progressive approach to the future while remembering its history, Norman continues to be a well-balanced community, proud to be the home of the University of Oklahoma.

NORMAN AND OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma, is located just 18 miles from the Norman campus. It was the first city settled in the Land Run of 1889 because of its position as the center of the state. It is because of this central location that Oklahoma City has become known as the home of America's Western heritage. Whether adventure, history, culture or sports, Oklahoma City offers a variety of attractions and activities different from any other place in the country.

Oklahoma City was born on the afternoon of April 22, 1889, when the central portion of what is now Oklahoma was opened to settlement by presidential proclamation. Thousands crossed the borders of "unassigned lands" at the sound of gunfire at high noon. Never before or since has such a "run" occurred anywhere on the earth.

By the time the dust had settled on that historic day, many people had staked their claim at "Oklahoma Station," an area which was destined to become Oklahoma City, a leading city in America. In 1911, Oklahoma City officially became the capital after a statewide election moved the state seal from Guthrie.

Oklahoma City has become a haven for exciting sports action. It is home of an NBA team, two semi-professional sports teams and the host of the NCAA

Women College Softball World Series and Big 12 Softball Championship. The Oklahoma RedHawks, 1996 American Association champions (then named the Oklahoma City 89ers), are the Triple-A baseball affiliate of the Texas Rangers. The team plays in the 13,066-seat AT&T Bricktown Ballpark, one of the plushest venues in all of minor league sports. The ballpark served as host to a 2004 NCAA baseball regional and the 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008 Big 12 Baseball Championships.

Hockey mania runs rampant with the American Hockey League's Oklahoma City Barons, affiliate of the National Hockey League's Edmonton Oilers. In addition, the city has hosted numerous PGA and Senior PGA Tour events.

Tulsa

Tulsa, the state's second largest city, is located 100 miles to the northeast of Norman in the heart of Oklahoma's Green Country. Ask people to describe Tulsa, and you'll likely get many different answers. It was a city forever changed by the discovery of oil in 1901. It is home to art deco treasures and nationally renowned museums. Its African-American heritage left its mark, in both the business and music worlds. And it's a city of nostalgia and special memories for countless Americans due to its location on historic Route 66.

Tulsa is a cosmopolitan town that appeals to both young families and retirees. National touring exhibitions can be seen at the Philbrook Museum of Art, which was recently featured on the television program America's Castles. For great western art, check out the Gilcrease Museum, and music legends are commemorated at Oklahoma's Jazz Hall of Fame. Other unique attractions worth a stop include the Elsing Museum, Ida Dennis Willis Museum of Miniatures, Dolls & Toys, Tulsa Air and Space Center and the Fenster Museum of Jewish Art.
